Your Doctor's Magic Eye!

Just fifty years ago this November, Roentgen discovered the X-ray—the greatest weapon in the war against tuberculosis.

The X-ray is not a cure, but a means of early diagnosis. ... Tests TB when it can be cured more easily and before it spreads to other people.

Your purchase of Christmas Seals helps to perfect X-ray equipment and to encourage its widespread use—one of the many activities of the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated associations.

This year your dollars are needed more than ever before—to guard against a post-war TB rise. Please, send in your contribution today.

Hearing on River Plan December 21

Clearing and brushing along the lower four miles of Gales creek and the lower two miles of Scoggins creek is proposed. Rock creek would have increased channel capacity across Onion flats and Chicken creek increased channel capacity across Tualatin river flood plain. The following plan of improvement along Dairy creek is listed by the engineers: provide channel capacity of 5,000 c.f.s. from rectification and clearing from McKay creek to the vicinity of Banks, clearing upstream of East Fork to the vicinity of Mountandale, and clearing and rectification of South Fork.

In addition to general data, the engineers seek specific information in regard to benefits that will result from the proposed improvement. Oral statements will be heard, but for accuracy of the record, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing with five signed copies. Written statements may be presented at the hearing or mailed in advance to Ralph A. Tudor, colonel, corps of engineers, district engineer, Portland district.

movement of fish in many of our streams.

The cost of such a project necessarily is of concern to the people. Brown emphasized that since Congress is providing funds for a certain amount of flood control and drainage projects on a national basis, if the people of this area did not take advantage of the work on proposals carried on by the army engineers the money will be used to benefit other areas. The benefits to be derived, among which will be fuller usage of land along the river, will be more than offset any cost, Brown believes. The normal flow and water level in summer months is expected to be maintained but the channel will be cleaned and straightened to enable it to handle more water during the rainy season. Brown said the danger of floods and consequent damage to crops. A dam will be maintained at or near the present Oregon Iron and Steel dam near Oswego to aid in regulating the river stages and to maintain water for present irrigation facilities. Brown urged all people who are seriously affected by overflow water, drainage and irrigation facilities of the Tualatin river basin, to present written statements and facts at the public hearing December 21.

Frosh and "B" games also help to develop interest in football and serve as an outlet for many boys who are too small to make the varsity team. Speaking of the interest in football at Hill, this year Bogie said 113 suits were issued at the start of the season and even more boys wanted to play. He compared that turnout with larger schools which have turnouts of less than 60.

Bogie stressed physical fitness as a prerogative of football and said calisthenics, neck bridging, pushups, and duck waddling, help greatly to eliminate injuries. The Spartan mentor lauded Louis McCorkle, who assisted with the varsity, and Don Kirsch, who coached the "B" and frosh teams. J. W. Foynter presided over the banquet and Al Amacher served as chairman of the program and introduced the speaker.
