How to save more with the bulk foods

Cold weather sharpens appetites and calls for hearty meals. Here are some favorite ideas for winter meals using the inexpensive bulk foods—rice, lentils—and macaroni products.

SPLIT PEA OR LENTIL SOUP

It's nice to have a steaming bowl of soup on a cold day. Place 2 cups washed split peas or lentils in a large kettle and add 2 quarts of water, 3 or 4 stalks of celery, 2 carrots, 1 medium-size onion, a bay leaf, and salt and pepper. If you have it, add the bone left from a roast, a few slices of salt pork or bits of bacon sautéed until brown, or a couple of tablespoons of meat dripping. Boil rapidly for 20 minutes and then simmer slowly about 2 hours, or until peas are soft and tender. Add more water if necessary. Serves 6 to 8.

DEVILED MACARONI OR NOODLES

To make an unusual accompaniment for meat or fish, season about 3 cups steaming hot macaroni or noodles with 1 to 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, a dash or two of Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese, and butter or margarine. Sometimes a couple of tablespoons of chopped onion may be added.

HOW TO USE LEFT-OVER RICE

Rice is easy to keep and so convenient to have on hand that it's a good idea to cook plenty extra. Just store it in a covered container in the refrigerator. Here are some favorite ways with leftover rice—

RICE CAKES—To each cup of cooked rice add 1 slightly beaten egg. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls in hot shortening in a frying pan. Brown slowly, turning once. Serve hot, plain or with syrup.

RICE WAFFLES OR MUFFINS—Substitute cold, cooked rice for 1/2 the flour in your favorite waffle or muffin recipe. Bake as usual.

ADD cooked rice to soup, stuffing, or make it into rice pudding.
