Johnson Building At Tigar Sold

The Johnson building at Tigar, together with the adjoining home and vacant lot, has been sold to State Representative J. O. Johnson and associate, in one of the biggest transfers of Tigar property during recent years.

According to plans announced by Mr. Johnson, the homes are to be sold and a new building constructed, with provisions for ample parking space for those patronizing business concerns located in the building.

A new restaurant will be opened Saturday, February 2, under the management of Esther Crawford and Bertha Forsman, well known Tigar business women, who have installed all new and modern equipment. The new restaurant has made provisions for meetings of the Tigar Lions club and other civic organizations.

During the past few months several large transfers of property have been made in the Tigar vicinity and according to reports a number of new retail establishments are to locate in the district.
