UNO and Alliances

Stand of Secretary of State Byrnes that the United States would base its hopes for security and peace on the United Nations Organization instead of alliances with other powers is the logical move if the UNO is to have any chance in its objectives to preserve world peace.

These are times for the utmost caution and intelligent action if the world is not to again be upset. Their very seriousness demands straightforward action and discussion, which leave no room for suspicion. The many rumors that are making the rounds point to the necessity of keeping cool heads.

In the meantime we must not repeat the mistakes that followed World War I when we foolishly endeavored to set a pattern for the world by disarming and by so doing court disaster. We must keep up our guard and be sure to maintain an adequate national defense essential to our own future welfare and for the part that we must play to make the United Nations Organization sufficiently strong and healthy to meet its objectives.

Daylight Saving Time

Thanks to President Truman the question of daylight saving time is receiving considerable attention throughout the country. The president said last week that he approved of it "if applied nationally."

Daylight saving would be a great convenience to a very large number of Americans if introduced each year during the late spring and summer months and perhaps early fall. The added daylight hour in the evening gives many more an opportunity to work in their yards and gardens and more time for outside recreation. As such it is healthful, makes for better kept lawns and gardens, and city beautification. Probably most important at the present time is the stimulus it would give to the garden program advocated by the government to help out in the world food situation.

Daylight saving time, in those months where it is possible, really appeals to those who are employed inside. In some sections of the nation daylight saving has proved so helpful and enjoyable that it has been used for many years even though, just a regional basis.

Boys Make Fine Record

The Hills Spartans made a fine record for themselves, their school and their community by coming back strong after losing to Eugene, which went through to the state championship. The boys and their coach, Don Kirsch, are to be congratulated on the fine showing made by them. The community is indeed proud of them for consolation honors and fifth in a state tournament is no mean accomplishment.

End of the General Motors strike will be acclaimed all over the nation as it has blocked the industrial reconversion so important to the economic welfare of the nation. Now the vital automobile industry may move ahead full speed. It is to be hoped that this is the last of the big strikes that have plagued the country for months. In the meantime both the company and workers have lost heavily. The workers will be a long time in making up their losses and idleness has undoubtedly resulted in cutting down much of their reserve purchasing power built up during the war.

Senator Wayne L. Morse of Oregon is getting plenty exercised about the housing condition that plagues the entire country. Plenty of other people are bothered about it as well and a great many people are becoming desperate. Right now it is a serious handicap to the development of this community.

More and more communities are coming to realize the importance of swimming pools in their community recreational programs. Woodburn is the latest to give approval to a bond issue for a pool and the vote was almost three to one in favor.

No person who can possibly afford to do so, should be so lacking in humanitarianism as to fail to make his or her contribution to the activities of the American Red Cross.

The Timeless Message of a Beautiful Monument

Memorials are to men that mark a spot for posterity. They keep alive the memory of those lives whose influence still lives. They are a comfort to you, the living, and a shining to money you cherish. The ideal memorial is one that combines beauty with grace, and which symbolizes the character of the one it commemorates. With years of experience in the designing and erection of appropriate memorials, we can assist you in doing this. Work you call us? Oregon Monument Works, H. H. Stannard, Mgr., Hillsboro, Oregon.
