Alcoa to Drill For Limestone in Ketchikan Area

C. M. Archbold, division supervisor U. S. forest service, has announced that the Alaska Spruce Log program had sold the buildings and equipment presently at camp three on the west side of Edna Bay Kosciusko Island to Alcoa Mining company, subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America. Use permits covering the camp site and the existing dock have been issued to the company by the United States Forest service.

Surveys of the limestone deposit have been completed by Alcoa Mining company geologists and a contract has been awarded for diamond drilling. Drilling crews and equipment are expected to arrive about the middle of April.

The work of reconditioning some of the buildings for occupancy by the drilling crews will be started within the next two weeks. Present work by Alcoa Mining company in the Edna Bay area is in line with a recent announcement by the company that limestone would be obtained from southeastern Alaska deposits.

The activities now under way are being carried on out of Ketchikan. Richard J. Anderson and E. E. Gillenwater of the Hillsboro office and H. S. McQueen of the New York office of the company are now in the area.

Members of the Multnomah School of the Bible had charge of the Sunday evening service at the Presbyterian church. The male quartet sang and Mr. Kehoe of the faculty spoke.

Training Plan For G. I. Cited

How the Oregon veteran can establish himself in on-the-job training under the GI bill of rights is explained in a bulletin prepared and released this week by Hugh E. Rosson, department of veterans' affairs director.

The four-page bulletin sets forth simply the steps the veteran must take in order to receive the training subsistence allowances granted him during his period of learning in an occupation, to augment his salary.

It warns, however, that "government funds provided under this program are not intended as a dole for the veteran nor as a means whereby the employer gets cheap labor at government expense. These funds are intended to train the veteran for his own future security as well as to provide industry with skilled men."

The veteran is advised to certify his eligibility for job-training with the veterans' administration as early as possible to avoid delays in drawing his allowances once he has obtained a job under the program. His next step, after getting a job, is to contact his local apprentice coordinator to arrange a training schedule and related studies pertaining to his job, the bulletin says.

Oregon's 24 coordinators covering the state are listed in the bulletin, which is being mailed to county service officers, all veterans' organizations, and local selective service boards. Copies are available at the department of veterans' affairs, state library building, Salem.

Officials of the state department of vocational education and of the state apprenticeship council, which cooperate in setting up and supervising the job-training program, assisted in preparing the bulletin.

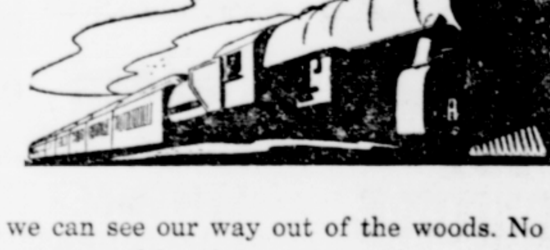
Once again we can say

"NEXT TIME, TRY THE TRAIN"



At long last we can see our way out of the woods. No longer is there a backlog of veterans waiting for transportation to their homes. The peak movement seems to be definitely over.

We want to sincereiy thank all the civilians who refrained from traveling to make room for these men. And we want to point out that now some space is available on some Southern Pacific trains for you who wish to travel.

In other words, we can say "Next time, try the train", but as yet we can't say it very loud.

There is now quite a bit of space available in coaches and chair cars. Sleeping car space is tighter in comparison, but considerably more plentiful than it was, especially on certain trains.

Please call us if you're planning a trip anywhere. We'll do our best to get you the reservations you want.

No time limit on reservations

On and after March 15, you can make reservations as far in advance as you wish. The ODT order requiring you to make them no more than 14 days in advance has been repealed.

Three meals a day!

Dining cars on Southern Pacific trains are now serving three meals a day instead of two.

More improvements on the way

With our heavy war load easing, we will soon speed up trains and return the lounge cars and other refinements in service that we had to discontinue during the war.

Meanwhile we are going full speed ahead with an ambitious program of new streamlined trains that will be the finest the world has ever seen.
