Spartans To Face Vikings Next Week

Fourth Position in League at Stake;
Rivals Play Here

The Spartans of Hillsboro high school and the Vikings of Forest Grove, rivals since before World War I, will meet in the annual Thanksgiving Day gridiron battle next Thursday morning, November 28, on the Hillsboro athletic field. Starting time: 11 o'clock.

Giving further interest to the time-honored feud is the fact that fourth place will be at stake in the Tualatin-Yamhill valley league race for the winner provided Newberg does the expected and defeats Tillamook Friday to clinch third position.

In previous years Hills and Forest Grove have met with the Spartans holding a better position in the TVY league but the 29th meeting of the rivals finds both at the 500 mark with their wins and losses balancing.

Hills, coached by Jim Davis, has proved to have a more potent offense, scoring 149 points in winning five of its eight starts, while the Vikings have rolled up only 71 points in eight starts while posting a record of two wins, four losses and two ties.

Forest Grove, with its beefy line providing a stopper to enemy plays, has had a stronger defensive record, yielding points while Hillsboro has had 121 points scored by opponents.

Vikings Improve
The Vikings, coached by Art Brachmann, have come strong in recent games after a weak start. After losing the highly touted Newberg eleven to only one touchdown, Forest Grove fought Beaverton to a 7-all tie. Both of those teams soundly trounced Hills. Forest Grove in 1919, but in 1920 it was the Vikings again by a 47-10 margin.

The Spartans, employing a single wing offense, which has at times scored in excess of 100 points, have scored up triumphs over Milwaukie, Tigard, Tillamook, West Linn and Astoria, scoring at least three touchdowns against each team.

Sparks of the Hillsboro offense is Willie Laird, triple threat left half. Captain Billy Davis, who has been on the sidelines in recent weeks, is expected to be ready for action next Thursday, is a standout for the Vikings. Activity of these rivals backed up in 1944, but in 1945 Forest Grove came through with a 37-10 triumph. The rivals did not play in 1919, but in 1920 it was the Vikings again by a 47-10 margin.

After that big start in the rivalry Forest Grove had such a lead on Hills that the Vikings were unable to catch up until last year when Hills caught up and went ahead. The Spartans go into next Thursday's game with a lead of 291 to 203 on total points scored in the 30-year struggle of the teams.

Seven senior lettermen will be playing their last games for Hills next Thursday. They are: Art Brachmann, Tom Callahan, Dave Ehler, Forrest Henning, Willie Laird, Jim Shiner and Wallace Sigler. Three other seniors are on the squad of 45: Dick Knight, Ray McCann and Jim Stoller.

County Dairy Breeders Elect Two New Directors

The Washington County Dairy Breeders association elected Ray Dieckhoff of Forest Grove, and W. T. Putnam Jr. of Hillsboro, as new directors of the association at their annual meeting held in the Hillsboro chamber of commerce rooms last Thursday. The directors were elected to the positions held by Victor Madsen and Ed Dieckhoff, both Hillsboro, who terms expire in March, 1946.

The technician, Harold Russell, reported that at the time of the meeting the association had received suggestions for 1,800 cows and 157 dairymen were participating in the program.

Amos Watkins, Laurel, one of the directors, reported on the annual meeting of the state association and pointed out that at the present time they were operating from their farm, which is located three miles northeast of Corvallis, and that the following counties are participating in the program: Yamhill, Marion, Linn-Benton, Coos, and Washington, and that in the near future it is expected that units will also be in operation in Clackamas and Malheur counties where organizational work and sign-up is already well under way.

Mr. Hagg is also chairman of the board of directors of the state association.

Whip Cream Control Gone

Whipping cream was back on the market Wednesday by order of the department of agriculture. The dairy local distributors, and others in this area were following a price schedule announced in Portland.

The wartime order prohibiting sale of cream and cream products with more than 10 per cent butyfat content was temporarily lifted during the summer but restored again.

Prices as announced by the distributors are: For quarts $1.15, retail; $1.07 wholesale; for pints, 60 cents retail, 55 cents wholesale; one-half pints, 34 cents retail, 30 cents wholesale.

Grand Jury Finds Seven True Bills

Seven true bills and one not true bill were returned by Washington county grand jury to Circuit Judge R. Frank Peters Tuesday. Five of the indictments are secret.

One indictment charged Lloyd Deard of Banks with disorderly conduct. He was arrested October 12 by Deputy Sheriffs Albert Nossack and Neville Bagley and is now at liberty after posting $500 bail.

Farm Workers' Camp Closing First Season

Washington county farm labor camp, located at the southeastern edge of Hillsboro, is closing this week after its first season of operation, according to Charles Hodge, manager. The camp, built by the county farm labor association to provide housing for migratory workers needed to aid in harvesting seasonal crops of the area, had its first tenants June 12.

A total of 193 families and 616 persons stayed at the camp during its first season, according to Hodge. One baby was burned to death when one of the tent houses caught fire. One boy was born at the camp.

Rent was $3 per week for each unit. Tenants were furnished water, water and use of the central utility room for showers and laundry facilities. Each unit is 12x14 feet with a wood wall about three feet high and a tent top. Marvin Shearer was first manager of the camp and he was succeeded about the first of September by Lester Hodge. Charles Hodge took over as manager on October 1.

Four Local People On KOIN Program

The past, present and future of Hillsboro and Washington county were discussed Tuesday night over radio station KOIN, Portland, in the first of a series of new broadcasts under the general title of "Look Well to Our Land."

Circuit Judge R. Frank Peters; Arthur Reeling, western production manager for the local Birds Eye-Snyder division plant of General Foods corporation; Martin Senko, plant superintendent; and Lester Demmitt, Hills citizen who recently won second place in the national P.F.A. speech contest, were interviewed. All took advantage of the opportunity to speak highly of the community and each predicted a bright future for the area.

Mayor Issues Plea For More Housing

Mayor E. A. Griffith of Hillsboro this week issued a special plea to citizens to make every effort possible to provide rooms, apartments and houses that are not now in use to help ease the local critical housing condition.

It was pointed out that a large number of industries are being prevented from trying to settle in and near Hillsboro and businesses which are starting here are being curtailed by the lack of adequate housing facilities for owners and employees alike.

Deadlines will be the same as usual. Classified deadline will be 3 p. m. Tuesday and "Too late to classify" at 1 p. m. Wednesday.

Legislation, Taxes Pondered by Farmers

Legislative matters and taxes were given a thorough discussion at the all-day session of the Washington County Farmers' Union at the Hillsboro chamber of commerce rooms Saturday. Approximately 60 persons, representing all areas of the county, attended. State Legislators Paul Patterson and J. O. Johnson were present during the afternoon to hear actions of the forenoon and to discuss problems.

A herd law governing the north-west part of Washington county, designed to keep highways clear of cattle, was asked by the group and agreed upon by both Patterson and Johnson. The county court will be asked to have a brief written to be presented to one of the legislators.

Several Cattle Hilt
Earl Genzer of Buxton, member of the Kansas City local, presented the fact that the Sunset highway is open range and that driving in some areas is becoming increasingly hazardous. It was pointed out that the bill was not affected by the meeting and the entire damage had to be assumed by the drivers.

The meeting agreed generally that the recently voted "House Bill 30" should be declared unconstitutional. The contention was based on the fact that cities such as Portland, where the vote carried by the bill, are not affected by the measure. The Farmers' Union voted that the bill be voided.

Portland Writer, Commentator, Speaks at C. of C.

George Moorad, Portland radio news commentator, author of the book "Behind the Iron Curtain," and former war correspondent, will appear at the Hillsboro chamber of commerce luncheon meeting, November 26, according to A. L. Amacher, chairman of the forum committee.

Moorad formerly worked with the China Press and was city editor of the Shanghai Times for two years. He was the first full-time correspondent in the Orient for Time and Life magazines and was forced to leave in August of 1937 when the Japs marched on Shanghai. He returned to the United States to spend three years as editor of the Santa Cruz Sentinel in California. Moorad was public relations director for the national Red Cross and in 1941 went to Australia to organize Red Cross activities "down under."

Moorad wrote the story of the first landings on Guadalcanal and covered the Battle of the Bismarck Sea for the Saturday Evening Post. He was with the 32nd and 1st divisions in the jungles of New Guinea, served with General Mark Clark's 5th Army in Italy, and was with General Patch's 7th Army in Europe for Columbia Broadcasting System. He was in Russia during the winter of 1944-45.

He is being heard in a Monday through Friday news commentary over station KGW at 5:15 p. m.

City Awards Contract For Water Pipe

Portland Concern has Low Bid of $206,445; Four Firms Bid

Contract for providing the city of Hillsboro with approximately 10 miles of pipe for another unit in replacing its worn-out water system was awarded Monday by the city utilities commission to Beall Pipe & Tank corporation of Portland for a low bid of $206,445. Three other firms submitted bids.

The pipe will be laid from the west end of the P. S. Lord company contract, at the junction of the main highway from Forest Grove to Yamhill and the Patton valley road to Cherry Grove, to the proposed dam site for the Hillsboro water system about five miles west of Cherry Grove and about two miles west of Lee falls.

To Be Stored
The pipe will be stored in a stockpile at Cherry Grove, with delivery to start on or before June 1, 1947, and to proceed at a rate equivalent to 1,000 lined feet per day until the contract is complete. Contract for laying the pipe will be let by the city at a later date.

The contract awarded to Beall Pipe & Tank corporation is for approximately 30,000 feet of 18-inch pipe with the same specifications as the P. S. Lord company contract with the exception that the pipe will have a straight seam instead of being jointed, according to J. W. Barney, city engineer.

Two-Thirds Finished
P. S. Lord company was given a contract for both providing pipe and laying it on a stretch of about 10 miles from one mile west of Hillsboro. This part of the project is approximately two-thirds complete.

The Beall bid is for providing 30-foot lengths of pipe at the rate of $3.56 for a total of $108,680 plus providing $17,773 worth of couplings at the rate of $1.45 per unit.

Bright Outlook Predicted for County Farming

A bright future for Washington county agriculture was predicted by County Agent Palmer Torvend in a talk on transformation of the industry before the Hillsboro Lions club at its noon luncheon Wednesday.

Torvend said the main transformation has come since the mid-thirties. Washington county is increasing its agriculture income from $5,000,000 to $13,000,000 from 1938 to 1945. This change was attributed to better production brought about by greater use of machinery, fertilizers, electricity and the changing of many more canneries and less hay and grains.

The county grows 100 different agricultural commodities and most of them for export purposes. Torvend revealed. He said the peak in production from the farm in Washington county was in 1944. During the last 10 years there has been an increase from 4,200 to 5,000 in the number of county farms. Increase in acreage has been about 1,000 in that length of time. The county increase in farm acreage since 20 years ago has been only about 5,000 acres, but the production in the last couple of decades has more than doubled, leaving a greater market and a larger pool of potential labor.

Torvend said county farmers will in the future find it necessary to resort more to supplemental irrigation methods because of competition. He said increases should be made in use of machinery and fertilizers and that more specialty and canneries should be developed.

Torvend said the nation as a whole is getting much greater production from its farms in the present transformation and that a smaller population on the farms. Average income of the families is higher. He said there are 13 per cent less farms than in 1935 and 34 per cent less renters, more people becoming owners. There is 11 per cent less indebtedness since World War II, the opposite of what the first World War when indebtedness on farms increased the speaker revealed.

He said the nation produced one-third more agricultural products during the war with one-tenth less workers due mainly to greater use of labor-saving machinery and fertilizers.

Dell Jones, president of the Oregon City Lions club, thanked the local club for presenting the character at Oregon City Tuesday night. Rev. Baker president of the new Vernonia club, and a committee from Vernonia attended the meeting.

L. L. McIntrye was program chairman and introduced Torvend to provide employment. Industries rather than planning units, he said, because it is usually limited to public works. Bartlett held that public works are not the permanent way to provide employment. Industries, he said, turn over eight times before leaving the community. Purchasing power of the people is the only basis for our economy, it was held.

The speaker decied the idea of depending on federal grants, although in some cases they are proper. He maintained that it was time that we as people developed

Firemen's Ball Next Wednesday At Shute Park

The 46th annual pre-Thanksgiving ball, sponsored by Hillsboro Volunteer Fire department, will get under way at 9 o'clock next Wednesday night, November 27, at Shute Park auditorium, and last for four hours, according to Fire Chief Wilbur Dillon, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Music will be furnished by Bealton McMahon's popular 51 piece orchestra from Portland which features a lady vocalist. McMahon's unit played at Seaside during the past summer.

Dillon said "We're expecting the largest crowd ever to attend this event." Early ticket sales have been good. Tickets are 50 cents apiece counting tax. Entire proceeds will go for benefit of the Hillsboro Volunteer Fire department.

Serving on the committee with Dillon are W. R. Gabelman, J. B. Thomas and Earl Fulmer.

TYV Has Only One Friday Tilt; Spartans Idle

Tillamook and Newberg are slated to meet on the latter's gridiron Friday night in the only Tualatin-Yamhill valley league game of the week as the circuit nears its winding up. Hills Spartans will be idle for the first week since the season opened.

McMinnville's Grizzlies, with the TVY league already won for the second year with six wins and no losses, and with the district 3 title won as a result of getting the decision over Eugene high last Friday night, will face the Grant high Generals in Portland in a semi-final game of the state prep playoffs.

Only game left on the TVY league schedule after the Tillamook-Newberg tilt will be the annual Thanksgiving Day game between Hillsboro and Forest Grove. A scheduled game between Tillamook and McMinnville was cancelled completely to allow Coach Orin Robbins' Grizzlies to compete for the state title.

Beaverton, coached by Gene Duncan, clinched second place in the league for the second season in a row by coming from behind with a late scoring spree to down Hillsboro 21-10 in last Friday night on the Beavers' home field. That defeat, coupled with Forest Grove's 25-10 win over Tigard last Thursday night, left Hillsboro tied for fourth place at the 300 mark in the standings.

Early Christmas Mailing Urged By Postmaster

With Christmas drawing near and shopping for the Yuletide season already gaining momentum, Postmaster L. E. McPherson this week issued a request for early mailing of parcels and cards because of the heavy push anticipated.

"We are expecting heavier Christmas mailing this season than any year before," he stated. Facilities for handling mail are inadequate so the early mailing will be necessary if presents are to arrive at destination in time.

At Christmas parcels for points east of the Rocky mountains should be mailed by December 10 and parcels for west of the Rockies by December 15, he stated.

The postoffice department has been swamped with a large amount of parcels of food and clothing for civilians in the occupied zone. This amounts to probably 50 per cent more than anticipated, he said.

Mailing of parcels to the armed forces has been heavier in recent weeks but lighter than last year because of the large number of men discharged during the past year. Inauguration of parcel air mail has brought about an increase of about 15 to 20 per cent in that service in the local office, McPherson revealed.

Honor Court Set

Next Hillsboro district Boy Scout court of honor will be held on Friday night, November 29, at the circuit court room in the present courthouse. It was announced this week.
