When Your Pharmacist Says -- "NO"

You've no doubt heard about Digitalis, Streptomycin, and Sulfa drugs. They are accomplishing wonders every day in the treatment of disease.

But like many other effective medicinal agents, these drugs may be unsafe when used without the advice of a physician. That's why your pharmacist does not sell them to you unless you have a prescription. The ethics of his profession keep him constantly on guard for the protection of your health. Your State recognizes this trustworthiness in licensing him as a registered pharmacist.

One of your pharmacist's chief responsibilities to the community is to have available on his shelves the products of medical research. Remember, therefore, when he refuses to sell you certain drugs without a physician's prescription, he is only doing his professional duty in protecting you against possible dangerous results to your health.

Church Observes Mother's Day
A special feature of the Mother's day services at the Canyon Road Baptist church was the reading of a letter from Mrs. Harold Pasley and Mrs. Howard Lakeman designating a memorial of $800 for the baptistry of the new building in memory of their mother, the late Mrs. Christine Lundgren. Mrs. Oscar Kruger, whose mother donated the church lot, sang a Mother's day solo.

Arrangements to purchase three large yellow warning signs of approved highway department design worded "Slow—Children at Play" to be placed in the Westdale district are being made by members of the Westdale Mother's club. The decision for the project was made at the last meeting of the group, held at the home of Mrs. Jean Wilson. A sound movie "Precious Cargo" was also a part of the program.

Mrs. Gill Torrence of the West Slope Pharmacy is staging a one woman war against the sale of some books, which she feels are a bad influence for children, and are refusing to stock a number of the publications which she feels have a morbid tone. Her result against the so-called comics followed complaints of parents who said their youngsters had nightmares after reading them. Mrs. Torrence is undaunted in her stand by the drop in comic book sales, and says she will continue her small war against publications which she feels are offensive.
