

Delegates Return From Convention

Four representatives of the Washington county Red Cross chapter returned Saturday from San Francisco where they attended the national convention of the American Red Cross, held June 21-24.

Taking part in the convention from Washington county were Rev. Clifford N. Trout, chairman of the county chapter; Mrs. Idylia Manley, executive secretary; Mrs. Zola Morgan, county chairman of the Junior Red Cross; and D. A. Young of Tigard.

Theme of the convention was "Above All Nations is Humanity." Discussion groups attended by the local delegation included: National blood program, service in veterans hospitals, Junior Red Cross adult forum, public information, volunteer services, disaster service, services to the armed forces, fund raising, nursing service and home service.

The group attended with most other delegates, a special program presented by the San Francisco ballet and San Francisco symphony orchestra.

The trip was made by car. Jack Godwin of Beaverton and Pat Kennedy of Hillsboro attended the Junior Red Cross convention at the same time.

Forest Grove Defeats Gaston by 10-0 Score

The Forest Grove town baseball team whitewashed Gaston, 10 to 0, in a Tualatin Valley semipro league game at Gaston Sunday.

The win maintained the Grove nine's undefeated record for second-half play.

Forest Grove batters collected 14 hits to run up the big score. Gaston batters were limited to four safeties. Each team committed three errors in the field.

Five Boy Scouts Presented Honors

Larry Bellin, of Hillsboro Rotary club troop No. 216, was awarded Star rank in Boy Scouts of America at the June honor court of Hillsboro district here last Thursday evening.

Four other scouts received advancement and badges at the small court.

Harold Doyle, troop 216, and Jackie Pierce, Reedville PTA troop 223, each received merit badges. Doyle won his badge for wood-working and Pierce for home repairs and cooking.

Burk Biersdorff, of the local American Legion post's troop No. 226, was awarded first class rank and Ivan Moon, troop 218, was awarded second class rank. Merwin W. Brink presided over the court.

The court was the last of the season for the local district, according to Jerry Fowler, district chairman. The next court of honor will be held in the county court house here on September 23.

JACKSON BUILDING OPENING HELD—Mayor E. A. Griffith cut the ribbon and officially opened the new Jackson building at Fourth and E Main, Saturday morning. Security Loan Sales Continue

The Security Loan Drive which has been under way both in Oregon and the nation at large since April 15 came to a formal close on June 30 all over the country. However, as was the case during all the War Loan Drives, there is a continuing accounting period during which sales will be credited to the community and state in which they are made. This has always been done so that credit might be given at the end of the Drive for sales momentum worked up during the actual formal period of those Drives.

Because the Security Loan Drive in Oregon got under way slowly as a result of conditions which could not be foreseen or overcome, county security bond committees in many areas will continue to work during the two weeks ending July 15. There is every possible indication that this extra work will result in total sales in this area which will be representative.

Mt. Hood Legion Climb July 17-18

The one national event in which any novice may climb a major U. S. peak will again be staged this year at the 24th annual Mt. Hood Legion Climb on July 17-18.

Sponsored by Hood River American Legion Post 22, the climb is expected to draw possibly 5,000 people. Most of these attend to watch the climb "strings" make an eight-hour trek to Hood's top (elevation 11,232 feet) and return. But the annual Camp show on Saturday night July 17, which features top-notch entertainment performing in Legion Camp's natural amphitheater is a drawing card in itself.

As many as 22 states have been represented by climbers and vacationists who have attended this two-day show at Legion Camp, located 24 miles south of Hood River just off the Mt. Hood Loop highway.

County Students Named On Honor Roll at U. O.

Three Washington county students were included in the honor roll at the University of Oregon for the spring term. They were Billy E. Quaine and Robert L. Myers of Beaverton and Jean C. Duyck of Forest Grove.

A total of 79,000 Naval Reservists participated in two-week active duty training cruises during 1947.
