

Infants christened at St. Edwards church Sunday were children of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Scholer and Mr. and Mrs. Middleton. Mrs. Middleton was Theresa Bishop, formerly of this parish.

Mrs. Wm. Roehl returned from Chicago where she visited friends and relatives. She was surprised at Oregon's cold nights when she returned.

Mrs. George Hess and four children left Sunday for Wisconsin, where they will visit Mrs. Hess' relatives.

Future Farmers Plan for Fair

Future Farmers of America are making extensive plans for exhibits in three divisions allocated for their work at the county fair, it was announced this week by J. B. Thomas, departmental superintendent.

Chapters from Hillsboro, Forest Grove, Banks and Sherwood will compete for awards donated by various county organizations.

All F. F. A. chapters of Oregon are invited to participate in the livestock judging contest to be held Thursday, September 2, at 10 a. m., Thomas stated.

Quarters Asked For Draft Board

Selective service came one step nearer Hillsboro and Washington county last week with the receipt of a letter by County Judge H. D. Kerkman from the area manager of the Public Buildings administration, D. H. McLaughlin, asking and in finding office space for the selective service board to be established here.

McLaughlin asked that bids for renting of quarters be at his Portland office today (Thursday). Chamber of Commerce Secretary Ed. Moore, to whom Judge Kerkman referred the letter after his own efforts had been fruitless, was conducting a search for space which would meet specifications set up by McLaughlin.

The specifications call for 500-600 square feet of office space in two rooms. The space provided must be in the central business area.

Immediate occupancy, upon acceptance of a bid, is planned, McLaughlin stated.

Registration of 25-year-olds starts August 30, according to a recent announcement by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey.

All local, social and fraternal news should be turned in at the Argus for publication in that week not later than Tuesday morning and earlier if possible.

By Mrs. Betty Philpott

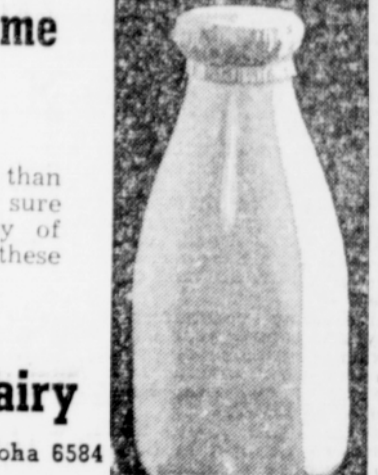

NORTH PLAINS—Daily Vacation Bible school of the Church of Christ is still continuing this week but under obstacles, as several of the teachers are ill with mumps. The children will hold a handwork display Friday night at the Church of Christ at 8 p. m. The children will show their handwork they made and tell of their two weeks' work. The enrollment is 80 and the attendance averages about 60. Dr. McQuarry, evangelist at the Christian church in Hillsboro, and son were guests at the school on Tuesday morning. Mrs. C. D. Chamberlain is superintendent. Mrs. Theis is in charge of primary and her helpers are Argetta Barnett, Jean

Moeller Named For FFA Honor

Richard Moeller of Cornelius was selected by a judging committee Monday to represent the Hillsboro chapter of Future Farmers of America in the state better farming contest at the state fair, sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Oregon.

Moeller, in his fourth year of agriculture, has the following registered livestock and crops: Jersey bull, four cows, three heifers, three Chester White bred gilts, Chester White sow, 17 Chester White feeder pigs, six acres of red clover, and five acres of barley. This record was compared to his first year of farming when he had two Guernsey heifers, Jersey heifer, registered Duroc gilts, and five acres of Austrian peas and oats.

Moeller and Donald Logan of Shady Brook, both graduates of Hills last spring, were the two outstanding Future Farmers interviewed by the judges, who were Joe Cox, assistant county agent; Anthony Knight, agriculture instructor at Sherwood, and Lester Denmin of Cornelius, past state F. F. A. reported Alf Johnson, president of Washington Federal Savings & Loan association, and George Van Leeuwen, agriculture instructor at Banks, accompanied the group.

Minister Named For Mt. Home Area

MOUNTAIN HOME—Rev. H. C. Ryan and family have been transferred to Dayton and the new minister at the Mt. Home church is to be Rev. Paul Hunsberger of Soap Lake, Wash.

Youth Attend Camp

The Evangelical United Brethren camp meeting is now in session at Jennings Lodge. Among those attending from here are: Donald Strickler, Joyce Browning, Donna and Arlene Erickson, Patricia Berry, Donna Bell Schallenberg, Cary, Harry Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ryan, Mrs. Leonard Erickson is cooking for the group of young people. Keith Joyce is attending with the Barry Lindquist family, whose home is near the grounds. Mrs. John Schmeltzer is attending and has her two grandchildren, Conrad Schmeltzer and Mary Hollis with her. Richard Joyce was the lay member of conference and attended for three days last week. Sunday many old friends met and enjoyed the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Likins have had their family all home for a year. Their daughter, Mrs. Richard Mottram and two sons of Seattle have been with them for ten days, also Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Likins and daughter of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kelly and three children from Beaverton. They all left Sunday.

Some of the growers have finished the blackcap harvest and others have just quit. Just how much longer they will continue to raise this crop is a question. Each year it is increasingly difficult to get them harvested. At the first of the season when the picking is good there are more pickers than needed, then when the first wave of picking comes along or a bit of rain they vanish, leaving the farmer with half his crop on the bushes and only a few faithful workers to finish. Are parents realizing what they are doing when they and their children quit a job after they have promised to see it through? Everyone loses financial gain for the worker and pride in himself and family in a job begun and well done, the farmer, confidence in a man's word and he is completely discouraged when he sees a crop lost which has taken a year of hard expensive labor to grow. Oregon provides an opportunity for young and old to earn a good wage during the summer months to provide comfort and
