State Officer Here for Meeting

Mrs. Sadie Graham of Corvallis was guest of the American Legion Auxiliary at their meeting Tuesday evening. She is department vice-president and also department membership chairman for this year.

Mrs. Graham announced that the presidents and secretaries conference will be held in Portland on November 18 and 19, at which time special awards will be made to units getting in their membership quota for the year.

Edith Burnett reported on the convention program at Astoria and Mary Hadley reported on the Rock-eter Hour. Any members who brought in five new members are eligible to attend, and there were three from Hillsboro. Edna Ruth Mathieson, captain of the Hillsboro unit's drill team, reported on the activities of the team at Astoria. She mentioned the see part on dance, sponsored by the drill team, which will be held on Saturday, October 23, at 8 p. m. at Shute park. There will be five drill teams from Portland to put on exhibitions at that time.

Refreshments were served by the new officers.

One of the projects each month is a bingo party. Hillsboro unit was asked to bring five home-made cakes for its part, the evening of October 22 at the Veterans hospital in Portland at 7 p. m.

All members of the Post and Unit are invited to attend the work of the Hospital Volunteer Worker.

Death Comes to J. E. Peterson

Funeral services were conducted Monday for Julius E. Peterson, who died Saturday after an extended illness. He had moved to Hillsboro seven months before his death and had lived in Beaverton previously for 62 years.

Born in Germany, he came to this country and to Oregon in his early years. He was a retired farmer.

Surviving are two nephews, Julian A. and Vernon A. Peterson, both of Beaverton.

Barnes Band is School's Largest

The 88 pupils this year in the B. W. Barnes high school band this year constitute the greatest membership in the history of the school, according to J. W. Poynter, grade school superintendent.

The band is being directed by Mayo Westlock of the high school faculty. The largest past membership of the band was 55, a figure registered before the war.

The band is presently practicing in the auditorium but expects to move to the new gymnasium upon its completion soon.

Hilhi Bees Meei Oregon City Here

Hilhi's "B" squad footballers take on the Oregon City high reserves here Thursday (today) 3:30. It will be the season's third game for the locals, who are coached by Warren Shue and Lon McCorkle.

The Hilhi "B" team lost to Banks high, 14 to 6, in its first game but came back to trim the Newberg reserves, 13 to 6, last week.

Model Plane Lost At Local Field

Model planes turn up missing, too. Donald T. Galarnescu, 7117 N. Seward street, Portland, was flying a little red bi-plane from the Hillsboro airport last Sunday when it zoomed out of sight.

The plane has a license number—AMA5231—and Galarnescu's name and address on its wing. He is offering a reward for the plane's return.

Chamber Okays Dinner Meetings

Sentiment of Hillsboro chamber of commerce members is overwhelmingly in favor of continuing the luncheon forum meetings, according to Ed L. Moore, secretary, who released Tuesday the results of a poll of the membership.

Of the 75 per cent of the membership who returned questionnaires under the new plan of the chamber to poll individual members on all proposals, only two were opposed to continuing the meetings, Moore said.

It probably will be early in November before the Tuesday noon meetings are revived, Moore said, because workmen are now redecorating the dining room.

Members who returned questionnaires also pledged themselves to attend 75 per cent of the luncheon meetings, the chamber secretary said.
