Bachman-Moscip Nuptials Held in Minneapolis, Minn.

The wedding of Georgia Moscip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Moscip, Sherwood, to Stanley E. Bachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bachman of Minneapolis, Minn., was an event of September 18. The double ring and candle ceremony was conducted by Rev. Rasmussen at the Richfield Lutheran church in Minneapolis.

The altar of the church was decorated with white flowers and candelabra against a background of palms and ferns. The center aisle was lined with baskets of white flowers mounted by candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a champagne satin dress. Its flared skirt with train joined a long torso bodice. It had long fitted sleeves with pointed extensions at the wrist. Its shoulder yoke of Chantilly lace edged in pearls. A finger-tip illusion veil edged in matching lace fell from a lace Juliet cap dotted with pearls.

Her cascade bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses and stephanotis centered with three white orchids. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Sheila Oliver of International Falls, Minn., maid of honor, wore a gold faille dress with high collar, neckline and a long torso bodice, with a cascade draped over-skirt in back.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jean Belden, cousin of the bride, flower girl, wore a long yellow taffeta dress and carried a bouquet which was a miniature of those carried by the bridesmaids.

Ralph Bachman was his brother's best man and ushered the bride. Bachman, brother, and Carl Bachman, cousin, of the bridegroom, and Dr. Charles E. Lindemann of Milwaukee, Wis., cousin of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests was held in St. Paul park at the family home, now the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd I. Belden. Pouring and assisting were five aunts of the bride. The bridegroom was given on September 17 at the Automobile club by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bachman.

In the days preceding the wedding the bride was honored at numerous showers and teas.

On their return from a wedding trip to Eastern Canada and the New England states Mr. Bachman and his bride will be at home in Oxboro Heath, Minneapolis.

PTO Met Sunday At Trinity Church

The Parent-Teacher Organization of the Trinity Lutheran church met Sunday, after the morning worship. While the pot-luck luncheon was being prepared in the social rooms, officers for the coming year were elected. Harold Meyer was re-elected president after a successful year. Other vice-presidents were: Mrs. Ole Erickson, vice-president, and Mrs. C. Helm, secretary.

The position of treasurer was accepted by Kenneth Peterson, and Mrs. George Reule was elected teacher vice-president of the Sunday school. After the elections a discussion followed and it was decided to present Bibles to children in the Sunday school on recommendation of the teacher. Following the pot-luck luncheon an educational movie entitled "A Child Goes Forth" was shown.

While the P-T-O meeting was in session the Sunday School Missionary League of the Trinity Lutheran church also met. A letter from their missionary family in Europe was read by the chairman, Mrs. Syver Raud, and it was decided to send them a Christmas box in the near future. In order to do this each member was asked to contribute fifteen cents for postage and bring food and clothing as they have in the past. During this meeting the following officers were elected: Richard Stafford, president; Duane Freudenenthal, vice-president; Ethan Vages, secretary; Darryl Meyer, treasurer; Gordon Salm, membership chairman; Gordon Salm, sergeant-at-arms; Dorothy Blum, program chairman.

The combined kindergarten classes were entertained by their class parents, Mr. and Mrs. Konow Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. H. Meyer. The Halloween motif was carried out in the table decorations and favors, each child making his own favor and hat during the recreation. Teachers of this group are: Mrs. Herman Freudenenthal, Mrs. E. Kraus, Mrs. Stafford, Mrs. Holly, and Mrs. Victor Madsen.

Mayor Griffith Endorses Business Women's Week

Endorsing the activities of National Business Women's Week, which will be celebrated next week by the Hillsboro BPW club, Mayor E. A. Griffith says:

"In view of the tremendous increase in employment of women in industry and business, women have come to hold a higher plane in the business world than ever before. Through their organizations, and particularly the Business and Professional Women's clubs, they have become a recognized factor in the business world as in the home and community."

Women have a strong emotional interest in peace, and in creating a country where children may grow up to meet a rosy future. These are challenges to every loyal woman citizen in a disturbing period of our economy."

First event in observance of National Business Women's Week will be held tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. W. R. Gableman, 334 Birchwood road, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Last event of the week will be the public relations dinner Friday night at Peter Boscow school cafeteria. Members will bring their employers and employees. Mrs. Hazel Huffman, past president and chairman of the week's activities, promises an outstanding program for the occasion.

Business meeting of the club will be held tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. W. R. Gableman, 334 Birchwood road, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.
