

King, Queen Selection to Feature Carnival at Banks Tomorrow Night

By Mrs. George VanLeuven
BANKS—Mothers and Dads club of Banks High school is sponsoring the second annual carnival Friday (tomorrow) at the high school gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. One of the features of this year's carnival is to be the selection of king and queen. Candidates are to be chosen from the grade schools that are within the high school district, i.e., Schofield, Buxton, Manning, Roy and Banks.

The following rules governing the selection of king and queen candidates have been set up by the Mothers and Dads committee: (1) Any pupil may enter who is in attendance regardless of what grade he or she is in. (2) King and queen candidates are to be elected from each school. (3) No special dress is required. (4) All candidates will appear on the stage in the gymnasium at 9:00 p.m. (5) If each pair of contestants wish to briefly present why they are the popular ones in their school, it will be read by the master of ceremonies, who will conduct the procedure. (6) Entries must be in the hands of the chairman of the contest committee, Mrs. Ernest Vandenberg, by October 20.

FFA Girls Attend Meet
Twenty-four members of the Banks Future Homemakers of America, with their instructor, Mrs. Harriet Mielde, attended the North-sixth period World History under Mrs. Harriet Mielde. Mrs. Mildred Brown is in fifth period English under Mrs. Eugene Poynter. Mrs. Whitbeck has World Geography fourth period and Robert Marshall has physical education sixth period. Leona Pele is in seventh period.

Camp Fire Girls Keep Busy
Twenty-six girls of Camp Fire held a candy sale in the Banks grade school under the leadership of Charlotte Swank and Ginger Hopkins. They sold a variety of candy for a fifteen minute period and netting $9.30.

Next sale will be Christmas cards. The proceeds will be used for Camp Fire projects.

Beginning with their Monday meeting, the girls will discuss plans for the care of small children while their mothers vote on November 2. The child care center will be the Boy Scout cabin. The project is one of service for which the girls receive credit, but no money. Mrs. Jim Houkins and Mrs. Charles McConnell will supervise during the time the center is open.

Take New Members
At their meeting last Tuesday, the Banks Blue Bird girls decided to call themselves the "Little Bears" and their leaders the "Big Bears". The girls worked on completing the items in their Blue Bird ties so they could have them on the 1st of the week when a Forest Grove group comes out to put on a program. Three new members, Mary Lou Givens, Sabine Hoyer and Joanne Lyda, joined the group.

Amateurs Perform Before Large Audience Here
The organization of Banks high school sponsored an "amateur hour" October 12, which was attended by approximately 250 people and netted the girls organization $41.

As the curtain opened, the mistress of ceremonies, Yvonne Kommer announced the chorus line. The girls, under the leadership of Dot Peppard sang and danced to "Put Your Arms Around Me Honey" followed by a vocal solo from Carol Sell, Joyce Hartwick gave a reading of a woman shopper killing time. Eugene Crist sang "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" while Harvey Terry accompanied him on the steel guitar. Betty Ann and Janet Rufener then played a piano duet. Charlie and Robert Moore followed with a duet on their electric guitar. Then Vivian Cearley sang "You Do" and "The Waltz You Saved For Me". Joyce Hartwick and Jewel Chain performed in a comedy dance. Carol Sell played her Hawaiian guitar and following this, Dot Peppard sang "Some of These Days" and "Sweet Marimba". Five boys, Eugene and Bill Crist, Leo Davidson, Frank Cross and Richard Herb put on a tumbling act. Carol Sell sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" followed by Harvey Terry and his steel guitar. A vocal duet of "Little Toes" and "I Hate to Lose You" was given by Nancy Level and Delores Fine. Jewel Chain sang "A Tree in the Meadow" followed by a quartet—Vivian Cearley, Dot Peppard, Delores Fine and Nancy Level—singing "My Best to You, Virginia". They then put on a pantomime portrayal of Al Jolson and the chorus line closed the program with the singing of "Sally Moon".

The judges chose Vivian Cearley as winner of the vocal division, Jewel Chain as winner of the instrumental and Joyce Hartwick and Carol Chain as winners of the miscellaneous.

Quarterly Conference of the Methodist church will be held jointly with the Catholic church at Cornelius Friday evening at 7:30. The district superintendent of Forest Grove district will be there. Members of the church are urged to attend.

Commercial Bank of Banks has installed 90 new safety deposit boxes of various sizes.

Foundations for the wings of the Sunset Chamber hall are being constructed this week.
