

Knox-McMurtry Team Covers Orenco News

News of happenings in Orenco is prepared for the Argus by Mrs. Glen Knox, with the assistance of Mrs. Loui McMurry, and money which this reporting pair receives for their journalistic work goes into the fund of the Sunshine club at Orenco, eventually to be used in cheering a sick person.

Mrs. Knox was born at Culver, Kan., but moved to Hill City in western Kansas with her parents when seven years old. She can recall walking through deep snow in order to negotiate the mile between home and a one-room school.

In 1911 she was married to Glen A. Knox at Hill City. They lived in Delta, Colo., and Boise, Ida., before coming to Orenco in 1946. Her husband is a farmer.

Mrs. Knox lists flower culture and carpentry as hobbies.

An Argus correspondent since 1946, Mrs. Knox is active in many Orenco organizations. She is a member of the Presbyterian church, a Sunday school teacher, superintendent of the Cradle Roll department, member of the Missionary and Civic society, member of the Mothers club and Community club.

Mrs. Knox is a fan of programs, both as participant and director.

She finds the church a good news source and she gets much cooperation from the school teachers.

"Everyone helps but we would still like to get more news," she comments. She considers her best story the account of the 4-H club achievement program last year when awards were given to members for their work.

Along with all Orenco, she is proud of the community's fire department. She likes Orenco's friendliness and its willingness to go "all-out" on any program for civic improvement. The softball league operated last summer was an example and she reports that it was "immensely enjoyed by old and young."
