

Hillsboro Grange Plans Bazaar and Halloween Party

The Hillsboro Grange met in the Grange hall on Thursday evening, October 21, and made final plans for their bazaar and Halloween party to be held Saturday. The bazaar will be all day, with a hot lunch served in the basement dining room at noon by the Grange ladies, for 75 cents. Many lovely things will be on display for sale, including bulbs, fruits, and vegetables. A fine program is scheduled for the evening, with moving pictures set for 8 o'clock and the rest of the program to follow. All who attend are requested to be in their seats by 8 o'clock. All other Granges are invited, as well as the public.

Visitors from Washington Grange were present at the Thursday evening meeting, when 12 new members were given first and second degrees, with beautiful tableaux. Clay Dorland, worthy master of Washington Grange, assisted Maude Stannard, worthy master of Hillsboro Grange, in the work, which was very impressive.

A number of Hillsboro Grange members attended Pomona at Tualatin on Wednesday. The membership and attendance contest is coming along fine and both captains are working hard.

Teachers Hold Fall Conference

The fall conference of the department of classroom teachers of the Oregon Educational association was held in Portland on October 22 and 23. Miss Jane Robb of Portland, president of the state organization, presided. The theme for the conference was "Unified Professional Strength."

Mrs. Sarah Caldwell of Akron, O., president of the National Educational association's department of classroom teachers, was the principal speaker at the banquet held on Friday evening in the Heathman hotel. Delegates met Saturday morning in the Portland Central library in three discussion groups. At a noon luncheon reports were presented from the discussion groups and from delegates, who had attended the three national meetings held during the summer.

Delegates from the Washington county were Miss Margaret Penny, vice-president of the state department of classroom teachers; Mrs. S. W. Melhuus, director of district No. 1, composed of Yamhill, Columbia, Tillamook, Clatsop and Washington counties; Mrs. E. A. Devault and Mrs. William Hughes, all of Hillsboro; and Mrs. Christine Fern of Forest Grove.

Named on Board

Mrs. John Schierling of Hillsboro was named to the board of the Baptist association meeting at Astoria last week.

R. W. Weil in Hospital—R. W. Weil was taken to the St. Vincent's hospital Monday to undergo a major operation on Tuesday morning.

Freece-Broad Nuptials Held At Hazeldale

HAZELDALE—The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Broad was the scene of a wedding on Saturday evening, October 23, when their daughter, Thelma, became the bride of Kenneth Freece, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freece of Canby. Rev. Father of Salem officiated.

The bride wore a white gown with finger-tip veil, and carried an orchid on a white prayer book. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Mildred Broad, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a pink dress with a corsage of white carnations. Harold Freece, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

The reception was held immediately following the wedding at the home of the bride's parents.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a maroon-colored suit with black accessories. For their honeymoon, the couple went to Seattle where they plan to make their home.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gunther of Tacoma, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kelly, also of Tacoma.

Lions Auxiliary Sees Style Show

The monthly meeting of Lions Auxiliary was held October 26, with Mrs. W. H. Percy, vice-president, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Brink. An out-of-town guest, Mrs. Dorothy Throckmorton, was welcomed.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Percy introduced Mrs. Jaye McKelson, who gave a talk on "A Refreshing Course." A very interesting style show followed with members of the Auxiliary acting as models.

Members serving on hostess committee were: Mesdames L. E. Caine, Wayne Emmott, James Davis, Reid Cottrell and James H. Chapman.

Garden Club Meets At Cedar Hills

The Cedar Hills Garden club met at the home of Dr. and Jean Hibbs on October 13 and appointed several new officers.

Mrs. Jane Coffey was appointed parliamentarian for the club. Mrs. J. M. Purcell was appointed membership chairman to replace Mrs. Liddycoat, who has moved away. Mrs. Nora Taft was appointed to enter an arrangement in the Portland Chrysanthemum society's show on October 30-31.

Mrs. Payne Reid and Mrs. Q. B. Griffin gave reports on the judging school classes they had attended.

The arrangements for the evening were made by Mrs. Nora Taft and Mrs. Payne Reid. Mrs. Taft's was a colorful, early American table arrangement and Mrs. Reid's a basket of her own home grown vegetables. She also gave the women helpful hints on raising produce of their own.

Mrs. Jane Coffey, in her interesting talk on flower culture, stressed that they get their spring bulbs in now and discussed many phases of plant life and care.

On November 10, at the home of Mrs. Stella Dawson, E. Victor Creed will speak on roses. Mr. Creed recently supervised the planting of the rosebush at Lewis & Clark college.

Oregon Women Attend Forum Of Herald-Tribune

Oregon women who attended the Herald-Tribune forum in New York from October 17 to 22 were Mrs. Dorothy McCullough Lee, mayor-elect of Portland, and Mrs. William B. Chandler of Hillsboro, state president, Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Chandler left here October 11 for Washington, D. C., to attend the board meeting of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, and from there went to New York for the Herald-Tribune forum. En route she attended district conferences at Milton and Arlington. She arrived home Wednesday.

While in New York Mrs. Lee saw more than 300 new policies sworn in. From New York she went to Washington, D. C.

Congregational Church Activities

Twenty junior Pilgrim Fellowship youngsters met with Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Nourse Sunday evening. The first part of the session was spent in a social hour followed by a devotional and worship period. The final activity was a Chinese noodle supper with chopsticks being the mode of food transfer. Some of the folk did a marvelous job in accommodating themselves to this unusual method of eating, but others were somewhat limited in their intake.

The group will meet next Sunday evening at the church from 5 to 7 o'clock with a special speaker. There will be the social time, and refreshments served.

On Friday afternoon from 4 to 5:15 a social-recreational program will be held for grade school children. If the weather permits there will be volleyball, otherwise the activity will be in the basement. The latter part of this time will be held for junior choir rehearsal.

Mrs. C. A. Ratcliff of Salem gave a very interesting address at the Women's Fellowship meeting last week.

Rev. Reuel P. Snider will be guest speaker next Sunday at the morning service.

Farmers' Union Has Installation

Washington County Farmers Union held its regular meeting at Barnes school near Beaverton on October 23, with Cedar Mill local as host. Visitors for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Matzkey of Clackamas county and Mr. and Mrs. Ruten of Marks Prairie local, Clackamas county. Mr. Matzkey is vice-president of the State Farmers Union.

Mr. Matzkey read installation services to the following new officers: Chester Wohler, president; A. R. Winge, vice-president; Erma L. Whitaker, secretary-treasurer.

The following program was given by the Junior Reserves of the Cedar Mill local: Playlet by Delores and Billy Bennett; Evon Dallmann and Dennis Berger; piano duet by Richard Smurthwait and daughter Mary; two piano selections by Mary Smurthwait; three piano selections by Delores Bennett.

Mr. Matzkey spoke of the bounteous crops produced on Oregon farms. He was formerly from the Midwest.

The motion picture "Crop" was shown by Merle Bennett. The meeting closed with a pot-luck supper.
