

Snow at Cherry Grove About Six Inches Deep; New Phones in Use

By Mrs. G. W. Kurtz
CHERRY GROVE. Snow fell to the depth of from four to five inches Friday night. The ground being frozen made driving on the roads quite hazardous. One car went out of control in the valley and struck one of the new telephone poles, breaking it in two. Telephone service was not interrupted.
The mercury hovered around zero Sunday morning. Some thermometers registered 6 degrees above zero. This kind of weather always gives a lot of grief with frozen water pipes.
Farmers are lucky to have a covering of snow over the fall grain. Youngsters enjoy snow.

Frank Mariner, a flax grower of the valley, says the flax which was at Cherry Grove last week. A number of people in the valley and Cherry Grove are enjoying the use of their telephones which have been installed in the past two weeks. The company is installing these as fast as possible.
Quite a number of adults and children have been and are sick with what seems to be bad colds and flu. Several children were out of school last week due to sickness.
Henry Graenz of Colorado arrived before Christmas for an indefinite visit with her sister, Mrs. Hugh Callahan. Henry said they had quite a lot of snow there, but they like it. They depend on snow for moisture for their crops in the growing season.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewison of Clatskanie came to visit her folks. Mr. and Mrs. Nellie Wickland from the week-end.
Work on the new school house is at a standstill due to the cold weather. Plastering the walls and the laying of the floor is the next in order.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris (Freda Callahan) are coming on with their new home and dairy barn that they are building on their farm in Patton Valley. The weather has held them up a lot with their work. Roy and Gordon Demars are doing the carpenter work for Harris.
