Mrs. Lusk Heads VFW Auxiliary At Joint Rites

Mrs. Laura Lusk of Beaverton was installed as president of the VFW auxiliary at impressive joint installation ceremonies with the Veterans of Foreign Wars held last Friday evening at the VFW hall. Ralph Hess heads the VFW officers.

Other officers installed included the following: Mildred Ritters, senior vice-president; Eva Brattly, junior vice-president; Jessie Young, chaplain; Ida Smith, secretary; Mildred Folsom, treasurer; Clara Kennedy, conductress; Letta Smith, guard; Letta Pitman, patriotic instructor; Dorothy Hess, historian; Mildred Hoover, musician; Elmore Anderson, Mary Shores, Vivian Beach and Eva Muller, color bearers.

Clara Kennedy, retiring president, was presented with a past president's pin by Ida Smith. She also received a gift and invitation to join Past President's club. Mildred Folsom, who served as treasurer for three years, was presented with a treasurer's pin by Mrs. Kennedy.

Lowell Brown presented Clara Kennedy with a bouquet of red roses and the president-elect, Laura Lusk, received a bouquet of roses from the commander-elect, Ralph Hess.

Installing officer was Julie Dewey from the Auxiliary to Post 81, Portland. Madeline Stone, district president, and Mildred Hoover, district commander, were also present.

A program was presented while lunch was served.

The Veterans Hospital school will be held on Thursday and Friday at the Veterans hospital. All VFW auxiliary members are invited to attend.

The table was lovely with spring flowers, lace cloth and candles and each mother was presented with a gardenia corsage. Potpourri were Marge Matzke, Patty Kennedy, Ann Molek and Virginia Englebreton. Mistress of ceremonies for the program was Norma Barackman, with Grace Connell, Pat Word and Ardith Germonth serving as models for the hair styling.

Committee chairmen were as follows: Eleanor Finegan, refreshments; Melva Anderson, invitations; Gwen Apin, decorations; Virginia Clapham, entertainment; Pat McKinney, hostess; Joyce Harrampf, table decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a traditional white dress of white tulle. Her bridesmaid was in green tulle and the brides' other attendant.

Lowell Baker was best man and others were Kenneth Shafter and Dale Baker.

Candle lighters were Gail Cross and Velma Goedel and they also received the gifts. Miss Lois Reiser was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit and the bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit.

The wedding music was played by W. Dauntless Helvie and Rev. Ray Harrison sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception followed afterward in the church parlors, at which Mrs. Elliot Stoten of Troutdale, aunt of the bride, cut the cake and Mrs. Robert Schmidt poured.

After a honeymoon at the Oregon Caves and Crater Lake, the couple is at home in Tigard.

Needlecraft Meets—Needlecraft club will meet at the home of Mrs. Elva Batchelor in Cornelius on Thursday afternoon May 3, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Evelyn Sawyer will be assisting hostess.
