By Mrs. Anna Salzwedel
SCHIFFLIN, Mr. and Mrs. Armin Ottomoeller returned Friday from a month's trip east. Their 9,000-mile trip took them to 23 states and Canada. They spent 10 days with his parents and relatives in Grand Island, Neb., where they found it quite warm. They missed the heat wave and encountered rain on the Atlantic coast from Maine to Virginia. Points that interested them a great deal were Niagara falls, both from the American and Canadian sides, New York Glacier National Park and other points of historical interest. They visited three of Mr. Ottomoeller's business who had served with him in the air force overseas and who now live in Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York. Miss Margaret Sweeney and brother, Ray, accompanied the Ottomoellers home from California. Miss Sweeney visited her mother and other relatives who were honored with two bridal showers.

Howdy Folks: We heard of one family, down south, whose political affiliations were well divided. The wife in the family told the census taker that there were five of them. She was a Republican, he was a Democrat, and the kid was wet, the cow was dry and the cat was a Communist.

We heard how a certain local party got his mustache. A barber sold him a bottle of hair restorer and that night he pulled the cork out with his teeth. The next day he had a mustache.

Read the statement of a tobacco expert who claims that Americans smoke more than a billion cigarettes a year.

Wonder if that is anything to get puffed up about?

A friend of ours smokes more than two packs a day. We know another party, though, who'll smoke any given amount.

Here's another true statement. There are hundreds of folks right here in our town who'll tell you that there is no better by than our MAR-FAK LUBRICATION.

RUST RUINED THESE

Carburetors • Fuel pumps • Gasoline tanks

PROTECT YOUR CAR WITH RICHFIELD

RUST-PROOF GASOLINES

RUSTED IN ORDINARY GASOLINE
This steel rod is heavily coated with rust after special 48-hour laboratory test in ordinary gasoline containing a small amount of added water. Rust also attacks the gasoline tank and fuel system of your car.

PROTECTED IN RICHFIELD GASOLINE
Rod shows no sign of rust after an identical 48-hour laboratory test in Richfield gasoline containing amazing RD-119. Before test, the same amount of water was added to prove conclusively the superior protection you get with Richfield Rust-Proof gasoline.

WHAT CAUSES RUST? Fuel system rust and corrosion result from moisture in your gasoline, caused largely by condensation.

HOW DOES RUST RUIN...

- GASOLINE TANKS? Metal-destroying rust starts leaks in tank bottoms. Rust particles are carried from gasoline tank to fuel pump and carburetor. Richfield Gasoline Stops Rust!
- CARBURETORS? Rust and corrosion attack up to 3 dozen different carburetor parts. Sharp particles ruin the precision fit of moving parts. Rust plugs tiny tubes and passages, some smaller than a common pin. Richfield Gasoline Stops Rust!
- FUEL PUMPS? Rust clogs strainer screens... wears out fast-moving parts. When bits of rust cause check-valves to leak, your fuel pump fails on hills and at high speeds. Richfield Gasoline Stops Rust!

How Does Richfield Rust-Proof Gasoline Stop Rust?
It contains Sinclair RD-119, an amazing new rust-preventative. RD-119 coats the inside of your car's fuel system with an invisible, polymolecular layer that prevents rust.

Now... protect your car. Stop needless repair bills. Prevent power-stealing rust. Fill up—today—with Richfield Rust-Proof gasoline!

Costs no more than ordinary gasoline
