14 Attend Seabeck Conference; Ranch House Has Country Food

By Mrs. W. A. Bunnell

WEST SLOPE—Fourteen members of the Valley Community United Presbyterian church registered last week to attend the conference at Seabeck, July 18 to 25, and will report on the session next Sunday. D. D. Gillespie, treasurer of the board of American missions from Pittsburgh, Pa., spoke at the morning service of the church and at union meeting of the United Presbyterian congregations at Laurelhurst park in Portland Sunday evening, which many of the local congregation attended. Donald Steeb, seminary student from Pittsburgh, who has been assisting in the West Slope church for the summer months, spoke at the First Italian church in Portland Sunday morning.

A new business venture at Haskell center is Flannery's Ranch House, a re-modeled ranch house which features country meals. The house, which dates from 1880, has been preserved in many ways along old fashioned lines, and has two dining rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Flannery are owners and operators of the project, and stress a "Come as you are" theme for patrons.

Discuss School Topics

Mrs. Mollie Miles was hostess to the members of the Westdale Mothers club at her home on Wednesday of last week, the members responding to roll call with their ideas of subjects they would like to see taught in the public schools besides music and art. The subject of speed limits on the highway was brought up by Mrs. E. Drager and it was agreed by the group to send a petition to the State police requesting lower speed limits. An article was read by Mrs. E. Lauridsen on understanding children and one on "Do's and Don'ts for Parents," by Mrs. Mildred Nordquist.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Terry of the Terry Furniture store are planning to leave the latter part of the week for Vancouver, B. C., for a short vacation trip and will also attend a furniture session in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ryan of Canyon Lane entertained friends, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Arrington, over the week-end at their home, and left Sunday night with the visitors for a few days trip to Vancouver, B. C. Mr. Arrington is a prominent contractor in Los Angeles.

Traffic Light Expected

The first step toward installation of a traffic light at the West Slope intersection with Multnomah club road and Canyon road has been taken with the allocation of funds toward the long-sought project by the state highway commission.

The action was taken at a safety meeting in Portland at which Robert Gillihur and other members of the West Slope Lion's club, comprising a safety committee, appeared to present a petition which was recently circulated by the club.

The committee pointed out the fact that the growth of the business section of West Slope has brought about a dangerous traffic situation for cars or pedestrians attempting to enter the Multnomah club road, or into Canyon road from the club road.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Semo returned last week from a two-weeks' vacation trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Hamlin have as house guest for two weeks, Mrs. Hamlin's sister, Mrs. Barbara Lou Larson, of Marysville, Wash. Mrs. Larson is a teacher in the Marysville school.

Opens New Office

Dr. Vernon Hansen, physician and surgeon, has opened offices for the general practice of medicine at Haskell Center, quarters formerly occupied by Dr. E. B. Sharpe. Dr. Hansen has been in charge of Anesthesiology at Jones hospital in Hillsboro and will be joined in his practice here by his partner, Dr. Everett Sorenson, following the latter's discharge from the army in August. Dr. Hansen has recently completed two years service at Madigan General hospital, and was also in charge of the dispensary of women's and children's service at McChord field. He interned at Emmanuel hospital and King county hospital in Seattle, graduating in 1947 from the University of Oregon Medical school.

Mr. Jones' Restaurant Due

The drive-in restaurant, which opened in Cundari's Shopping Center in West Slope in April, is being remodeled for its opening in the near future as a "Mr. Jones" restaurant, similar to one being operated in Portland, with a slogan of "all you can eat for 99 cents." A $40,000 remodeling program is being carried out by the new managers who will offer service to 300 persons with a staff of 50 workers. E. E. Ellis, originator of the "Mr. Jones" idea, will manage the West Slope eating place.

Kitchen, dishwashing and refrigeration units will be on the lower level of the building, service being conveyed to the upper floor by belts. An electric organ will provide a musical background to the meal service.

School Nearly Finished

Construction on the new C. E. Mason school building near Beaverton is going forward again, after having been stopped temporarily by mill workers strike, and the only remaining work to be done is the interior painting and the installation of floors and floor coverings. It is expected that all of the new equipment will be placed in the building by the last of August. Outside work, such as final grading and gravelling and clean-up work, commenced this week. Even the new cafeteria, which had not been expected to be finished so soon, will be in operation soon after the fall opening of school.

Mr. Robert Raasch is making a month's visit with relatives and friends in Denver, western Kansas and Colorado.
