

Carlson Named CROP Chairman

Arthur A. Carlson of Aloha has been appointed chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) in Washington county, Joe J. King state director announced.

The three sponsoring agencies of CROP will be represented in Washington county by Louis Gerhart of Forest Grove, Church World Service; Rev. John Goodrich of Huber, Catholic Rural Life, and Rev. Edwin Jahr of Cornelius, Lutheran World Relief.

Members of the county committee include S. A. Jackson of Cornelius, vice-chairman; A. H. Abts of Hillsboro, treasurer, and W. H. Burkhardt of Hillsboro, publicity director. A secretary will be named later.

Eighteen Oregon counties will participate in the CROP program this year, King said, and the goal will be between 12 and 14 carloads of wheat, dried milk, dried fruits, cheese and other bulk products for the starving people of Europe.

A farm-to-farm canvass of the week of November 13 to 19 by volunteer solicitors receiving deposits for the commodities obtained will be set up at strategic points.

King pointed out that persons can designate which religious organization they want to distribute their gifts.

Pythian Sisters Arrange Bazaar

By Mrs. Betty Philpott

NORTH PLAINS — The Pythian Sisters, Friendship Temple No. 3, will hold their annual bazaar Saturday, November 19, starting at a new time, 6 p.m. There will be hamburgers and coffee sold, as well as the usual rummage, green vegetables, fancy work, white elephants, candy, fish pond and Christmas cards. There will be entertainment starting about 8:30 p.m.

Bloodmobile Unit Collects 34 Pints From Beaverton

Thirty-four pints of blood were donated at the Beaverton Mobile Unit visit at Merle Davies school October 24. Those who were scheduled in the late afternoon appeared, but those scheduled during the later hours evidently were not able to come. It is felt that the dense fog was a primary factor in the low number of donations.

Canteen workers were Mrs. Norton Peck, chairman, Mrs. V. Boge, Mrs. Ellen Johnson, Mrs. Kay Robinson, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. A. R. Pearson and Mrs. Nelson T. Stevens.

Serving as hostesses were Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Mrs. Virginia Jenkins, Mr. Ruth Ellen Grant, Mrs. Kay Trachsel and Mrs. Dorothy Duncan. Typists were Deloris Holmsted and Nora Enrick, advanced typing students. Olive Barry, Ruth Sheller, Eleanor Dixon, Mildred Smith and Lois LaForge.

Volunteer registered nurses were Mrs. Robert Filley, Mrs. Shippey, Mrs. Elaine Jones, Mrs. May Adams and Mrs. P. J. Kriska. Nurses aides were Mrs. Neil and Mrs. McMahon.

Rites Held for Reverend Mother

ALOHA-HUBER — The solemn and impressive Requiem High Mass as which His Excellency, the Most Reverend Edward D. Howard, D.D., pontificated, and the burial ceremony that followed, closed the funeral services for Reverend Mother Genevieve, S.S.M., at St. Mary's of the Valley Saturday.

Assisting clergy were: Celebrant, the Most Reverend Edward D. Howard, D.D.; assistant at the throne, Reverend Charles M. Smith, dean of the mass; Reverend Hilbrand Melchior, O.S.B., subdeacon of the mass; Reverend Anthony Gerace, deacon of honor; Reverend George Sunderhorn, subdeacon of honor; Reverend Frederick Thiele, masters of ceremonies; Reverend Francis Kennard and Reverend Edward Zenger; preacher, Reverend Albert Carmody; minister of final absolution, Right Reverend Abbott Thomas Meyer, O.S.B.

A large number of the reverend clergy and many devoted friends attended the services.

Dairy Breeders Pick Hagg, Abts

Henry Hagg of Reedville was re-elected president and A. H. Abts of Hillsboro was re-elected secretary-treasurer at the annual meeting of Oregon Dairy Breeders' association in Corvallis October 13. A. Grant Passman, M. E. Mead, succeeded John Pugh as vice-president.

Twelve counties are now organized and operating in the organization with Washington county the largest and only one employing two technicians under its artificial dairy breeding program.

The officers and members of the state association heard Dr. O. A. Shaw of Pullman, head of the Washington State college dairy department, speak on sire selection. This is in line with present policies of the Oregon Dairy Breeders' association. Dr. Shaw emphasized the desirability of the organization to secure proven sires and to buy young bulls from proven sires and proven cow families. Ben Simonson, manager of the association, pointed out that six of the 22 bulls owned by the Oregon Dairy Breeders' association are proven sires.

Officers Named By Bank Group

G. L. Glass, vice-president of the Commercial Bank of Newberg, was elected president of the Washington-Yamhill County Bankers' association at a farmer-banker meeting held by the organization Thursday night at the Hillsboro chamber of commerce.

Also elected were: Fred Joehne, cashier of Yamhill State bank, as vice-president and Maldwyn C. Evans, cashier of the Forest Grove National bank, as secretary-treasurer.

A. G. Brown, deputy manager of the American Bankers' association and director of its agricultural commission, was the principal speaker at the meeting which was attended by about 80 bankers and farmers of the two counties.
