Awards Given 81 Boys, Girls For Services

SALEM—Eighty-one Oregon boys and girls, an all-time record number, have been cited by the Keep Oregon Green association for outstanding efforts during the past summer in reducing man-caused forest fires. Each boy and girl singled out for special honors has been awarded a special "Service Under Fire" badge, according to Albert Wiesendanger, Executive Secretary of K.O.G.

All of the 81 winners are members of the Oregon Green Guards, the youth activity of Keep Oregon Green, which now includes more than 30,000 Oregon boys and girls.

Secretary Wiesendanger announces that membership rolls are open to any boy and girl in Oregon between the ages of 8 and 16 years, who will send his name and address to the Salem headquarters of K.O.G.

Awards are made each year by the Keep Oregon Green association to boys and girls who have done outstanding service to their state in fire prevention beyond the usual call of duty. In most cases the youthful citizens reported grass, brush and forest fires. In some cases they actually fought the fires. The alertness of these youngsters has been a tremendous help. Wiesendanger explained, for fires caught before they have a chance to spread, are easy to put out.

To qualify for a Service Under Fire badge, a Green Guard must submit an actual report of his individual effort together with a certification by an adult. Many more of the 30,000 Green Guards undoubtedly qualified for this high honor. Wiesendanger said, and although they did not send in their reports, their contribution to Oregon citizenship is appreciated.

Myrna Eithner and Ray Mayfield of Sherwood were among those receiving the awards.

Howdy Folks:
It is said the big potatoes always get to the top of the basket. Yes—but the little fellows have to hold them there.

A fellow said he'd like to buy more life insurance—but he's afraid his wife would spend the rest of his life anticipating how she was going to spend it when the company pays off.

An optimist is a fellow that believes that the future will be different than the past.

It was getting for a while when a fellow said he wanted to work and earn a living he was considered untrustworthy.

The man with money to burn usually finds his match.

A good memory test is trying to remember the things you were worrying about yesterday.

And this is a reminder to bring your car for our MA-F-A-K LUBRICATION.
