

The Albany Register.

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1869.

COURTING—Has been reduced to a science, and to assist any of our friends who may be "green" in this most delicious of all undertakings, we print a few of the most important "pints" to be made to insure success, as laid down by an expert:

1. Never "go after" the girl's parents. Go for the girl herself and at once. You can't get her if you don't try, unless she is badly "stuck," and then to one you'll win, even if the old folks are "down" on you.

2. By all means get the "old lady" down on you as much as possible. If the old lady is constantly pitching into you, little darling begins to take your part and can't help loving you, nohow.

3. If you see other fellows prowling about go for and eulchre them if possible. When they visit the house always act as if you were at home and they were only visitors, and never leave first.

4. If the old man has his chickamin express a disgust for greenbacks, and a hankering after love in a small house.

5. When you inquire if she will have you, don't go down on your knees and roll up your eyes like a dying calf—it's ridiculous, besides its rough on doekins. Take her by the hand and shoot your mouth off like a man.

6. When the engagement is made, don't rush off baldheaded and begin laying in a stock of stoves, spoons, wash-boilers or cradles, because "foolishness" will excite comment, probably resulting in "busting" you out.

7. If one girl refuses you, don't give it up, but try another. Two negatives makes an affirmative in grammar; however, don't consider yourself accepted when a girl jilts you twice.

8. Kiss all the little children in the house, even if they are dirty and do smear molasses candy in your hair. Let the boys play horse with you and make a fool of you generally. It is a trump card if you play it right.

9. Finally, if there are two sisters, and the older one is jealous, get some one to choke her off while you go in for the younger one.

Instantaneous Death.

Jerome Carden relates that eight reapers, who were taking their dinner under an oak tree, were all struck by the same flash of lightning. The explosion was heard far away, and some persons passing by approached to see what had happened. They found the reapers, to all appearances, continuing their repast.

One still held his glass in his hand, another was in the act of putting a piece of bread into his mouth, a third had his fingers in the dish. Death had come upon them suddenly whilst in these positions, when the thunderbolt fell.

Ten reapers, who had taken shelter under a hedge, were likewise killed altogether during a violent storm.

Like those mentioned above, they had profited by this necessary suspension of labor to enjoy a frugal meal. A touching detail related by the Rev. Mr. Butler, who narrowly escaped being a victim of the same storm, shows with what rapidity the whole of this joyous group had been deprived of life. One of the unfortunate beings had a dog in his lap at the moment the lightning fell. Whilst he caressed the animal with one hand, with the other he offered it a piece of bread. Both the man and the dog were petrified, as it were, in this position. The paralyzed hand still held the piece of bread, and the expression on the animal's face seemed to say, "Give me some more; some, give me some more!"

To die with the rapidity of lightning is to die as rapidly as thought itself; for the flash which kills so rapidly lasts a time as brief as that which but shows us the spokes of the wheel of the locomotive—as that which but enables us to see immovable in the air the ball which flies through the darkness from the cannon's mouth!

A WOMAN'S SERMON.—Dear friends, there are three things I very much wonder at. The first is, that children should be so foolish as to throw up stones and bricks and clubs into fruit trees, to knock down the fruit; if they would let them alone they would fall down themselves. The second is, that men should be so foolish and even so wicked as to go to war and kill one another; if they would only let each other alone, they would die of themselves. And the third and last thing which I wonder at is, that young men should be so unwise as to go after the young women; if they would only stay at home, the young women would come after them.

Sweet Memories of Thee

The bright rose when faded,
Thy lips forth o'er its tomb,
Its velvet leaves laden
With sweet perfume.
Thus round me will hover,
In grief or in glee,
Till life's dream be over,
Sweet memories of thee.

When soft stars are peeping
Through the pure azure sky,
And southern gales sweeping
Their warm breezes by,
Like sweet music pealing
Far o'er the blue sea,
There comes o'er me stealing
Sweet memories of thee.

As a sweet lute that lingers
In silence alone,
Untouched by light fingers
Scarce murmurs a tone,
My young heart resembled
That lute light and free,
Till o'er its chords trembled
Sweet memories of thee.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

A Cincinnati lager beer seller denounces the "Cold water friend."

When does the rain become too familiar with a lady? When it begins to pat her (patter) on her back.

Webster's unabridged definition for "Copperhead." A Northern sympathizer with the Southern rebellion.

The minister who boasted of having preached without notes, don't wish to be understood to refer to greenbacks. Chicago is to appropriate $60,000 to dredge the Chicago river and its branches—probably to find out which way it runs.

A woman's rights woman down East says that "man is woman's only enemy." How they love their enemies!—the dear Christians.

An Alabama young lady, caught smoking a cigar, gave it as her reason that "it made it smell as though there was a man around."

It is said that it is the great ambition of modern German novelists to have their works reprinted in an English version in the United States.

An invalid disturbed all the inmates of his boarding-house up town, recently, by imitating a dog. When asked why he did it, he said he had been ordered by his physician to take port wine and bark.

An exchange in recalling the separation of Olive Logan from her husband: Delisle, twenty or thirty years ago, explains it on the theory that one pair of breeches cannot be simultaneously worn by two persons.

A little girl was very fond of preaching to her dolls. She reproved one the other day for being so wicked. "O, you naughty, sinful child," she said, shaking the waxen limbs, "you will go to that lake of brimstone and molasses, and you won't burn up—you'll just sizzle!"

An illiterate negro preacher said to his congregation: "My brethren, when de fust man Adam was made, he was made ob wet clay, and set up agin de palings to dry." "Do you say," said one of the congregation, "dat Adam was made ob wet clay, an' sot up agin de palings to dry?" "Yes, sah, I do!" "Who made de palings?" "Set down, sah," said the preacher sternly; "sich questions as dat would upst an' system ob deology."

"Jane, give the baby some laudanum and put it to sleep, and bring me my parol. I am going to a meeting for the 'Dar are,' said a sable orator, "two pads through this world. De one am a broad and narrow road dat leads to perdition, and de udder am a narrow and broad road dat leads to sure destruction." "If dat am de case," said a sable hearer, "dis cullud individual takes to de woods."

Faith is the blessed tree which produces the noble and priceless fruits of wisdom, virtue and true felicity. Mr. Impulse, on being advised by his physician to take iron, contemplates swallowing a horse-shoe.

Man talketh of himself as ignorant, but judgeth by himself as wise. The most mischievous liars are those who keep sliding on the verge of truth.

What the gently distilled dew of heaven is to the plants and flowers, so is the kind voice of sympathy to the bosom that heaves under the pressure of life's accumulated sorrows and afflictions.

Success rides every hour; grapple it and you may win, but without a grapple it will never go with you. Work is the weapon of honor, and he who lacks the weapon will never triumph.

The San Francisco Mining Press says: The Oregon iron rolled in this city makes first rate wrought iron for blacksmiths' use. Oregon iron has been pronounced rather tough for castings, but that quality is very desirable in wrought iron.
