STEAMBOAT DISASTER .- The following is a partial account of the burning of with the rank of Col. the steamer Stonewall, on the Mississippi river, October 27th:

Sixteen persons were saved by clinging to the stage plank. There were in all 250 or 260 souls on board, of whose man was brought ashore but died soon. The only officers of the boat known to be saved are George Fulton, chief engineer; Edward Faulkerson, pilot, and E. P. Watson, carpenter. Captain Scott was last seen floating on a spar. Men on shore rode down the stream in hopes of The scene aboard was heartrending in the extreme. The flames spread with wonderful rapidity under the action of a strong wind. Passengers in wild terror crowded on the forecastle until they were forced overboard en masse and drowned each other in desperate struggles to free themselves. Others would jump into the water, whirl around in a strong current for a moment and then disappear. Mr. Fulton jumped overboard and attempted to swim ashore, but and attempted to sw coming in contact with a number of mules, swam to and climbed on the wheel of the boat. While there the steam pipe burst and the wheel revolved three times, but he clung to it and was finally taken ashore in a skiff. Charles Williams, a deck hand, says he tried to smother the fire when he first discovered it with blankets, but the wind blowed so hard that he failed in his efforts. Hose was also brought to play on the fire, but the crowd of frenzied passengers rushed with such irresistible force on the men having it in charge that they were obliged to give it up. Williams then threw overboard all of the hay and getting upon it drifted to the stem of the boat, where he encountered the boat's yawl containsix men and a woman. He was taken in, but having no oars could not stem the current. Williams and the woman were Six months. put ashore, and the remaining men made another attempt to reach the steamer by using the seats of the yawl for paddles, but the current was so strong that they were carried down stream and seen no more. Williams thinks not more than thirty persons were saved, but it is hoped that more of them reached the shore.

FINANCIAL RETURNS .- We find the following under date of Chicago, November 1st:

A Tribune's New York special says the heavy break down in gold is now known to be caused by the general belief that Secretary Boutwell will in a very few weeks make a grand coup and at once return to specie payments, thus forestalling the decisions of the Supreme Court, which will undoubtedly be that the legal tender act is unconstitutional. . The decision is expected about the end of the year. This action of the Secretary will undoubtedly cause temporary dis-tress through the country and create a panic in the produce and general merchandise markets, but as this step has to be taken some time, the present is considered the most convenient-politically, better, indeed, than any other period not so remote from the Presidential election. Among the numerous financial matters in contemplation by Mr. Boutwell is one to replace the five twenty bonds about due, by a large foreign loan. This has often been contradicted, but nevertheless, is now about agreed upon with the agents of foreign bankers now in this country.

When Riter von Lang was private secretary of Baron von Buhler, Wurtem-burg Minister at the Court of Vienna, he was one morning roused from sleep by the Baron's valet, who hastily informed him that he was wanted by his excellency.

Leng hurried to the Minister's room to learn what important event had occurred. Hand-bills, The Baron opened the door to him, and said: "Monsieur Lang, I have remarked

I have tried Dr. J. W. Murray's Lung and Liver Balsam. I used it in my family with the best of success. I was sick for some months and best of success. I was sick for some months and used every remedy. I called in several physicians, but they did me no good. I exhausted every remedy known to the medical profession, and received no benefit. This Lung and Liver Balsam cured me, and I do not hesitate to recommend it to the public as a good and safe remedy to the public and my friends. It is good, and those who know me, as many do in this State. those who know me, as many do in this State, as I have lived in many parts of it, know that I would not recommend them to use a thing that had no merit, because I am opposed to quack remedies.

THE simplicity and practicability of this new Plow commends it favorably to the special notice of every farmer. It possesses a decided superiority over all other plows now in use. The wheels are four feet in diameter, and run on the unplowed land. Its entire construction is in no way complicated. The plow is managed in every manner with ease, and requires only two levers to be used in making any alteration. The superiority of the "Gay" Plow will be clearly shown by the following certificate:

We, the undersigned, citizens of Linn county, We, the undersigned, citizens of Linn county, Oregon, having purchased and used upon our farms the "Gay" Plow, hereby certify that the same has given us entire satisfaction. Its facility for adjusting to suit the depth of furrow without moving from the seat, is simple and easy. We like the plow for its draught, because the same is brought to bear directly upon the plow-beam instead of the carriage; also, because it is strong and durable, all except the wood-work being constead of the carriage; also, because it is strong and durable, all except the wood-work being constructed of wrought iron—no castings are used. The wheels running upon the solid land is an advantage over other gang-plows, in striking off land and in plowing, not having to make the necessary changes in the machinery, and the seat is always level, not throwing the driver forward or sideways as in other plows. Better work and more of it can be accomplished by the use of this Plow than by hand.

We take pleasure in recommending the "GAY" Plow to our brother farmers, as one having no superior in Oregon.
