SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 1870.

THEIR GAME.—It is instanced as a fact, to disprove the assertion that all the delegates to the Democratic Convention were candidates for office, that at least two of them were engaged in a pleasant little game of "seven-up," in the Court room, when the Convention was called to order for the purpose of organizing. It may have been, however, that they were playing instead of "argyfying," chance against chance.

THEIR STRONG SUIT.—The night before the meeting of the Democratic State Convention in this city, while a large number of delegates to the Convention were sitting around the stove in the bar-room of a certain hotel in this city, canvassing the "chances" of the party in the coming election, one of the delegates —we won't mention names—made the Strong remark that: "We've only got to select good candidates, and adopt a platform that nobody can understand, and then we'll go through all right!"

DISABLED ONLY.—The report that the steamship Ajax, which left Portland for San Francisco on Saturday last, had foundered off the mouth of the Columbia, and all on board gone to the bottom of the deep, deep sea, proves to be incorrect. It seems the steamer was disabled, but all the passengers were safe at Astoria, whither the ship had returned for repairs. Ere this we suppose the necessary repairs have been completed, and the good ship gone on her way rejoicing.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION. Convention met Thursday at 11 o'clock A. M., transacted the usual business and adjourned until 2 P. M., when a permanent organization was effected by the election of Jas. H. Foster, Chairman, and E. E. Wheeler, of Scio, Secretary. Delegates to the State Convention were elected as follows: J. H. Foster, D. Beach, A. B. Morris, J. W. George, John R. Smith, Norman Lee, W. R. Kirk, C. A. Williams, G. F. Colbert, Ed. McFarland, E. E. Wheeler, J. W. Cole, Pete Brenner, B. Ramsey, J. H. Lame, H. Smith, S. R. Clark, and J. P. Hogue. Central Committee, consisting of five, were elected, as follows: J. H. Foster, D. M. Thompson, John Ganter, J. W. George, and Almon Wheeler. The Convention then adjourned.

LOG ROLLING.—Candidates commenced to arrive to attend the Democratic State Convention on Monday, and on Tuesday the bulk of the delegates were here. Then commenced the "log rolling." You could see little knots of two and three all along the street, and we were informed that every knot thus collected contained at least one candidate.

NO MORE TREATIES.—Under the bill just completed by the House Committee on Indian Affairs, organizing a system of governing the Indian tribes, etc., no more Indian treaties are to be made or ratified. It provides for dividing the territory into four districts, with one general superintendent to each, and one agent for one or more tribes in charge of the general superintendents. Secretary Cox and Commissioner Parker approve the bill.

DEFAULTER.—The accounts of Collector Bailey, of New York, who levanted some days ago, are being investigated. Vail, deputy collector, declares the accounts are correct, so far, while District Attorney Pierpont says he has found a defalcation of $120,000, up to the present (March 21) time. The impression of some is that Bailey is secreted in New York, while others think he has committed suicide.

ANSWERS THE PURPOSES.—The snow sheds and fences erected along the line of the Union Pacific Railroad recently are a success, and very little detention has been caused to trains on that road by the late severe snow storm, which is spoken of as the most severe of the season.

DEMOCRATIC IMPORTATIONS IN CLACKAMAS.—The Oregonian having asserted that the Democrats of Clackamas had imported a large number of voters into that county, for the purpose of "overriding the will of the people," as the Democrat has it, the Oregon City Enterprise denied the charge, and with the most unblushing effrontery charges that they were Republican recruits. The Oregonian, to make its charge good, and to show to what lengths the leaders of the Democratic party of Oregon are ready to go, prints affidavits of some of the very men who were imported, certifying that their passage money and board bills were paid, with the express understanding that they were to vote the Democratic ticket at the next June election as a return for this expenditure of money in their behalf. It is invariably the case, that fellows who are constantly arrogating to themselves all the honesty in the country, and prate about the rascality of their neighbors, when sifted to the bottom are found to be the most unblushing and arrant of knaves.

"Repudiation the Only Principle of the Democratic Party."

During the heat of the debate on the adoption of the 8th article of the platform in the Democratic Convention on Wednesday night, one of the leaders of the party in Oregon asserted, what the Republican journals have been insisting on all the time, that repudiation is the only principle in the Democratic party. And as there was but one member in the whole Convention (Jasper Johnson, of Curry), who denied the proposition, we are to understand that, however the platform may read, laying aside all verbiage and meaningless sentences, the only principle, the whole end and aim of the Democracy of Oregon, is flat-footed, square, out and out repudiation of the public debt. Member after member arose to give in their adhesion to the principle, but the majority, while saying that they were not willing to pay the national debt, yet they were not in favor of adopting repudiation as a plank in the platform; in the language of Reed, of Multnomah, they were "not willing to put a burden on the shoulders of their standard-bearers that would trample them into the dust." The whole discussion, prolonged for near four hours, proved conclusively that the majority if not all the delegates were in favor of repudiation ("cancellation" they termed it) of the debt, and the fear, as stated by the gentleman from Lane, that a large portion of the party were too honest to vote it, was the only reason why the clause was glossed over, so as to sound honest to the masses. So we go into the campaign, on the authority of the Democratic State Convention, that Repudiation is the only principle of the Democratic party; that it has but one end and aim—dishonesty. This we knew before, but it remained for the great gathering of the chiefs of Democracy to clinch the matter, by bold and unequivocal assertions of the fact. And with such a platform, can the honest men of Oregon vote the Democratic ticket? The enunciation of this principle was the last straw needed to sink the already overloaded and demoralized party. The death-knell of Democracy in Oregon has sounded.

ARRESTED.—On the arrival of the Portland boat on Tuesday night, on which were a large number of delegates to the Democratic State Convention, our worthy Sheriff, Bob. Irvine, with two deputies, proceeded to arrest one of the delegates from Grant county, Mr. E. E. Turk, indicted by the last Grand Jury of this county for murder. This prompt action on the part of our Sheriff rather took Mr. Turk by surprise, as he has been enjoying his freedom, although under arrest in Grant county, the Sheriff of that county being security for his appearance here at the March term of the Court. During the whole time of his arrest, as we are informed, he was acting deputy sheriff of Grant county. And although under arrest for the highest crime known to the State, the Democracy of Grant selected him as their delegate, to represent their interests in the State Convention. The Democrats of Grant will be surprised that the brethering down this way pronounced their selection of delegate in this case as in bad taste, and that the Democratic delegate was arrested by a Democratic Sheriff.

MAYORALTY.—In Richmond, Virginia, two gentlemen lay claim to the Mayorship of the city, each holding a separate and independent court, and each having a special police force. Between the two times are quite lively in the city, although the casualties on the 18th as reported are but one man killed and three wounded.

THE BOTTOM FELL OUT.—On the morning of the 17th, at St. Johns, New Brunswick, a portion of the bottom of the harbor on the Carletin side, sunk bodily, so that where before at low tide there was a beach, there is now twenty feet of water. Wharves were destroyed and lumber set adritt.

Secretary Boutwell has purchased during this Administration $99,323,050 in bonds, so that the outstanding coin debt will be only a little over $2,000,000,000 at the close of the first year of the Administration. During the year he has sold about $63,000,000 in gold.

MATRIMONIAL.—A blushing young damsel sends the following advertisement to the press: "A young lady of exterior and pleasing appearance wishes to marry a gentleman of just the same way of thinking."

N. Y. LEGISLATURE.—On the 18th in the Assembly one member charges another with an attempt to bribe him. Oh, the beauties of a Democratic Legislature.

THE TIME.—The Central Committee decided on Thursday, April 21st, 1870, as the time for holding the County Convention for the purpose of nominating county officers, and other business.

WILL NOT SEND.—Owing to the attitude taken by the Pope, the Government of Spain will not send a special envoy to the Ecumenical Council at Rome.

WHEN.—The Ohio State Senate has adopted a resolution to adjourn on the 31st inst.

ILL.—Dates from Rome confirm the reported illness of the Pope.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. — This body ment at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday, and temporarily organized by the election of Gov. Geo. L. Curry, of Clackamas, Chairman, Lafayette Lane and A. W. Stanard, Secretaries. A committee of three, Fay, of Jackson, McComas, of Union, and Burch, of Polk, was appointed on credentials, when the Convention adjourned to 1 o'clock P. M. Upon the reassembling of the Convention, the report of the committee on credentials was accepted, and a permanent organization effected by the election of the following officers: Geo. L. Curry, of Clackamas, Chairman; W. E. Howell, of Clackamas, Secretary; A. W. Stanard, of Linn, Assistant Secretary; A. N. Arnold, of Linn, Sergeant-at-Arms. A motion prevailed to appoint one delegate from each county as a committee on platform. Said committee consisted of Miller of Marion, McArthur of Baker, Hunter of Union, Moore of Umatilla, Miller of Grant, Gates of Wasco, Thayer of Multnomah, Bennett of Columbia, Adair of Clatsop, Hodges of Clackamas, Swick of Washington, Jackson of Yamhill, Holmes of Polk, Smith of Benton, Crooks of Linn, Cochran of Lane, Parker of Douglas, Thompson of Coos, Johnson of Curry, and Fay of Jackson. The order of business adopted by the Convention was: 1st. Permanent organization; 2d, committee on platform; 3d, adoption of platform; 4th, nomination of candidate for Congress; 5th, for Governor; 6th, Secretary of State; 7th, Treasurer; 8th, State Printer; 9th, ratification of nominations of Judges of the 2d, 3d and 5th Districts; 10th, ratification of nominations of District Attorneys for 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th districts. Convention then adjourned until 7 o'clock P. M. Immediately upon the opening of the evening session, the majority of the committe (18) reported a platform and resolutions, which were read, when the Minority (2) reported. After some cross-firing as to how the platform should be adopted, the Convention resolved to take it by sections, as swallowing the whole thing at one gulp was too much of a dose. The first seven articles were adopted without a dissenting voice, but when the 8th came up the fight opened. It was pronounced by Humason, Johnson, Cochran, and others, as, simple flat-footed repudiation, and such a plank in the platform, the Democracy of Oregon was doomed to certain and overwhelming defeat, and they advised temporizing, policy and calm deliberation. Fay, Ben. Hayden, McArthur, and others, endorsed the plank, endorsed repudiation; wanted a Democratic platform, asserting that they had not had one for ten years. He (Fay) was in favor, for once, just once, of coming fair and square on Democratic principles, and if successful they would have fought the battle on principle, and if defeated they would go down with flying colors. Chapman, of Multnomah, "raised his feeble voice in warning." Reed, of Multnomah, asked: "Will you never learn anything? Will you never be instructed by the past?" He insisted that, repudiation engrafted in the platform, the Democracy of Oregon was forever dead. Jasper Johnson told the Convention that if the article was adopted, the death-knell of the party was sounded; the party was split in twain; that he was now and forever against repudiation in any form. (We would like to give the opinions of other lights of the Democracy, but time and space will not allow.) Humason moved to strike out the repudiation clause and insert in its stead: "We are in favor of an equitable adjustment of the bonds," which, after another amendment by Fay, to strike out: "the interest already paid has more than liquidated the national debt," (which Humason said was a lie, and everybody knew it), was passed. The balance of the resolutions were adopted without opposition, and the Convention adjourned until 9 o'clock A. M. on Thursday. We have but space to give the nominations: For Congress, Jas. H. Slater; Governor, L. F. Grover; S. F. Chadwick, Secretary of State; L. Fleischner, Treasurer; Thos. Patterson, State Printer. B. F. Bonham, of Marion, received the nomination for Judge of the 3d district, and N. H. Butler, of Polk, Prosecuting Attorney. The next Convention is to be held at Dalles City.

The following interesting statistics are from the official records of the War Department: Of the whole number of living graduates of West Point, both in and out of the army, when the rebellion commenced, sixty-seven per cent. had been appointed from slave States, and of these seventy eight per cent. remained loyal. Of the whole number of officers in the army when the rebellion commenced, seventy-four per cent. remained loyal: of the graduates seventy-six per cent. remained loyal, while of those appointed from civil life to the army, seventy per cent. remained loyal. Of the graduates in the army from the loyal Border States, seventy one per cent. remained loyal; and of the non-graduates, sixty per cent. Of the graduates in the army from the Free States, ninety-seven per cent. remained loyal. The record of the parents of the graduates during the past twenty five years, shows twenty-four and one half per cent engaged in agricultural pursuits, thirteen per cent. were lawyers and judges, five per cent. were legislators and executive officers of the National, State and Territorial Governments, and nine per cent. were army and navy officers.

Telegraphic Summary.

The President has signed the joint resolution giving the widow and children of Judge Stanton a year's salary as Associate Justice.

Eugene Schuyler has been nominated as Secretary of Legation at St. Petersburg.

CHICAGO, March 18.—A Tribune dispatch from New York says four vessels went ashore on Long Beach yesterday, and three on Long Island. The crews of two were all lost, and three of another.

The loan for the Mexican overland railroad will be placed in the market soon, based on a large grant of land by the Mexican Government, both on the line of the road and in the northern part of the Republic. General Rosecrans is interested in the enterprise, and proposes to establish an American colony on the land granted to the road.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The particulars of the explosion of nitro glycerine at the factory in Ridgeway, New Jersey, show that there was about 7,000 pounds of nitro glycerine in the building and twenty-five thousand pounds of material used in the manufacture. The building is a mass of ruins scattered miles around. The explosion was heard for miles, and its force shattered the windows of houses a mile distant. The bodies of the four men killed were blown to atoms. Loss $75,000.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Julian C Verplanck, the well known author and politician, died to-day, aged 64.

Capt. Slocum, of the schooner Saladin, from Jackmel, reports that on the 12th inst., in lat. 30° lon. 75', he saw a curious creature, 60 feet long and 24 feet broad across the back, resembling the so-called sea serpent.

The extensive freight depot of the New Jersey Railroad at Communipaw was burned with its contents, including twelve loaded freight cars and six horses. Michael Guirk, the watchman, was burned to death in the endeavor to save the books. Another man was seriously injured. Loss, from $50,000 to $100,000. Insurance light.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 9.—(Via Havana, March 17.)—The revolutionary movements are all on the wane and the Government officials are becoming more overbearing. Peaceful citizens are abused, and much public corruption has come to light. Three prominent army officers have been imprisoned for forgery.

Schlaher, the German Charge d'Affairs, has left to attend a session and explain the commercial treaty with Mexico. The current expenses of the Mexican Government exceed by one half the revenue.

General Gauderrame has surrendered to Marez with his officers. The State of San Luis Potosi is entirely free from the revolution, and the insurgents in that State have rebelled against their leaders, who were compelled to fly for their lives. A heavy battle is reported between the Potosi revolutionists and the Government troops. At first the revolutionists were successful, but they were afterwards beaten and compelled to fly before a bayonet charge of the troops. Three hundred insurgents were killed and 1,000 taken prisoners. Generals Cadena and Hoita escaped with 5,000 men. General Toledo has about the same number, which is all that is left of the formidable force recently menacing the Government. A pronunciamento has gone forth for the purpose of concentrating revolutionists in Michoacan. Escobedo is directed to turn all his attention there. The revolutionists have disappeared from Guadalajara. Two merchants of that State have offered the Government commander a voluntary loan. The revolutionary officers who left Mexico have been mostly captured or killed during the past few weeks.

HAVANA, March 18.—The plantation of Mrs. Emmerson, an American lady residing in Wilmington, North Carolina, situated near Sauga La Grande, was burned by the insurgents; also six plantations near Santa Espiritu. Owing to these reports sugar is buoyant. Many plantations have nearly finished grinding.

GEN. GRANT'S LETTER.—During the revelation which followed the September gold panic, much reference was made to a letter addressed by the President to Secretary Boutwell, and left with General Butterfield to be delivered to the Secretary on his return from Massachusetts to Washington, about the middle of September. The letter was alleged to have an indorsement of the Gould-Corbin theory of high gold. The letter itself is the best proof of its character, and is as follows:

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 12, 1869.

George S. Boutwell, Secretary of the Treasury—Dear Sir: I leave here tomorrow morning for Western Pennsylvania, and will not reach Washington before the middle or last of next week. Had I but known before making my arrangements for starting that you would be in this city early this week I would have remained to meet you. I am satisfied that on your arrival you will be met by the bulls and bears of Wall street, and probably by merchants, too, to induce you to sell gold or pay the November interest in advance, on the one side, ad to hold fast on the other. The fact is, a desperate struggle is now making, and each party wants the Government to help them out. I write this letter to advise you of what I think you may expect, to put you on your guard. I think, from the lights before me, I would move on without change until the present struggle is over. If you want to write to me this week my address will be Washington, Penn. I would like to hear your experience with the factions, at all events, if they give you time to write. No doubt you will have a better chance to judge than I, for I have avoided general discussion of the subject. Yours truly, U. S. GRANT.

The New Orleans Times hints that on the arrival of our Minister at Pekin, he will be officially recognized as Hi-Low.

STANTON FUND.—Subscriptions for the relief of the family of the late E. M. Stanton now reach $150,000.

REGISTRATION.—The registration of negro voters has commenced in Missouri.

ESSICK'S CLIMAX KNITTER!

IN presenting the claims of this NEW KNITTING MACHINE to popular favor, we aim at no more than a brief and candid statement of its actual merits. We confidently claim that the CLIMAX KNITTER is superior to all other machines in the following respects:

1. Simplicity of construction and operation.
2. Completeness and excellence of work.
3. Convenience of shape, size and weight of machine.
4. Durability of machine.
5. Rapidity of work.
6. Cheapness.

It is so simple in its construction and in its workings, that less than half the time is required to learn to knit on it than on others. With it the children of the household can do all the knitting.

It is made entirely of iron and steel. A man's sock can be made in thirty minutes. It makes the regular old old-fashioned knitting needle stitch or loop, (with several others if desired); turns the heel, making it of as good shape as by hand, without any sewing; narrows or widens, at the pleasure of the operator, and makes a perfect toe. Any article that can be knit by hand, can be manufactured on this machine.

Persons who wish to see the machine in operation, are requested to call on the agent in this city.
