"Hurrah for the Bottom Dog."

I know that the world, the great big world,
From the peasant up to the king,
Has a different tale to the tale I tell,
And a different song to the song I sing.
But for me, and I care not a single fig If they say I am wrong or am right, I shall always go for the weaker dog,
For the under dog in the fight.

I know that the world, the great big world,
Will never a moment stop,
To see which now may be in the fault, But will shut for the dog on top.
But for me, I shall never pause to ask Which dog may be in the right, For my heart will beat, while it beats at all,
For the under dog in the fight.

Perchance what I've said I had better not said, Or 'twere better I had said it in song; But with heart and with glass, filled check to the brim, Here's a health to the bottom dog.

A lady at Chattanooga is not exactly posted on the word "disfranchised." She was told that Mr. Smith was disfranchised, and she wanted to know how long he had been so. On being informed that he had "been so" about four years, she said she didn't see how that could be as Mrs.
Smith had a child only two years old.

dozen counties will adopt prohibition.

Plantation Bitters.

This wonderful vegetable rethe feeble and debilitated. As a among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate, or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits. For sale by

"LILLINOTS"—Burglars entered the house of Joshua Central, on Ferry creek, near beaten him, they tied him, his wife and two small children, ransacked the house and decamped with a valuable gold watch, one hundred and thirty dollars in money, and other valuables. The police are in pursuit.

While Mrs. Peter Malitor, residing near Houston, Minn., was passing between the separator and the horse power of a threshing machine, near Chicago, her dress was caught by the tumbling rod, and she was crushed to death in a moment. The law requires that the tumbling rod attached to threshing machines shall be boxed, but in this case the requirements of the law had been neglected.

Extraordinary Freak of Nature—Barium Out Barium.

[Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial, Oct. 24.] There is living in Peru township, Morrow county, a family named Finley. Up to last Wednesday morning it consisted of Mr. Joseph Finley, his wife Mary, and two children, little girls, aged three and five years. On Monday morning Mrs. Finley was confined and gave birth to twins, joined together in a manner unknown to books. To give a clear idea of it, just suppose that you sever the bodies of two men at the lower part of the abdomen, and then put the two upper parts together, and you have the trunk of this child.
At the instance of Drs. Williams and Little, the clothing was taken from it, and a critical examination was made so far as could be, without doing injury. From the occupant of one child to the occupant of the other, there is a continuous spine in a direct line. Upon one side, and directly in the center of the trunk, were perfectly developed hips, thighs, legs and feet. They are in nice proportion to the body of either child. On the opposite side there is one large, imperfectly formed leg, presenting the appearance of the consolidation of two legs.
There are eight toes on this limb, two of which have the appearance of great toes, being much larger than the others.

EACH HAS A WELL-FORMED HEAD, Good features, good chest, good arms and hands, lungs, heart, liver and stomach. Between the perfectly-formed limbs, and properly situated, are the anus and sexual organ, in common. The lower portion of the bowels, the bladder, and perhaps the kidneys, are in common. All the other organs are separate. There was but one umbilical cord and one placenta.
The length of the body is twenty inches, and the umbilicus is central in the abdomen, and equi-distant from each head.
It nurses well at both ends, and when first exhibited to the party,

ONE CHILD WAS ASLEEP AND THE OTHER CRYING.

While the physicians were making their examination, both cried, but a few minutes after, the one which was crying first went to sleep, while the other remained awake. When either head would cry, the perfect leg which was nearest to that head, kicked and drew up, while the leg nearest the other head remained quiet.
When either cried, the toes on the imperfect foot would move, but the limb remained stationary. Both heads nurse well, and the child, or rather the children, are in excellent health. The physicians could see no reason why it, or they, should not live, but that is doing well. There was no physician present at the birth, and the labor pains lasted only fifteen minutes. Mr. Finley is alive to the importance and

VALUE OF THIS ADDITION TO HIS FAMILY.
He is now charging gas money, and he informed the writer that he had already entered into articles of agreement with a gentleman for the sale of the body, if it should die. Price fixed is $10,- 000. Negotiations are in progress if it lives. He is convinced that there is money in it, dead or alive, but that there is most in the latter condition.
He says that he is conscious of the fact that he "is an unlabeled man, but has sense enough not to be fooled out of it."

SUBTERRANEAN GORESS FROM PARIS.
—A Paris correspondent writes: "A story which is afloat in Paris is that of the existence of a subterranean passage, with one entrance beyond the fortifications and another in Paris itself. I have seen the letter conveying the information to the authorities. The writer says he has it from one of the maons employed in the work, who offers to come to Paris with a safe conduct, he being a German.
The letter seems quite honest, and some of the details are curiously minute. I fancy the writer is a good fellow, but that he has been misled by some German workmen. The subterranean passage is said to have been the work of six years, and to have been dug by German workmen, on high pay, who were always taken to and from their work blindfolded.

It is said that heads of lettuce can be produced in winter in from 24 to 48 hours by taking a box filled with rich earth, in which one third of slacked lime has been mixed, and watering the earth with lukewarm water, then taking seed which has been previously softened by soaking in strong brandy twenty-four hours, and sowing in the usual way. We are assured, but will not vouch for the fact, that a good sized head of lettuce can be obtained in the time mentioned.

The daughters of the late John Busing, of Yonkers, having been only bequeathed $60,000 each, while their brother received a farm worth $72,000 and $60,000 in cash, are now endeavoring to prove the insanity of the testator, in order that there may be an equal distribution of the property.

TO MAKE MOLASSES CANDY.—One teacupful of molasses; a teacupful of vinegar; a piece of butter half the size of a nutmeg. Put the whole in a skillet, on the fire, and boil exactly ten minutes, stirring it all the time. Then set it off to cool. Pull it as soon as it is hard enough. Rolling it twelve minutes will make it too hard. Eight minutes will not be enough. Ten minutes by the clock is the exact time.

Plugged watermelons, with tartar emelic in them, are distressing the youth of Michigan beyond measure. There isn't half as much fun in stealing them as the other kind.

It is said that experienced husbands can tell when their wives are going to ask for money by the way they purse their mouth.

Nothing can be made to lie so much as facts, except figures.
