TO PHYSICIANS.

New York, August 15, 1868. Allow me to call your attention to my PREP-ARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BU-CHU. The compenent parts are, BUCHU, Long Leaf CUBEBS, JUNIPER BEERIES.

Leaf CUBEBS, JUNIPER BEERIES.

Mode of Hreparation:—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchn as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle) leaving a dark and glatinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not mentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopea, nor s it a Syrup- and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation, with a feeling of profound confidence,

I am very respectfully,

The stranger mused a moment and then muttered to himself: "It is not possible that I can have been misinformed;" drew a paper from his pocket and handed it to Squire Hutton.

"What is this?" he exclaimed. "Something that it would be not polite to let every one peruse in these times; but I have heard that you was a staunch man in the cause of King George, and I can trust you. The exigencies of my case will not admit of delay. My horse must be shod, and must be within the British camp at Trenton by to-morrow morning." The old smith with an air of surprise, wiped his glasses to peruse the document, and by the last fading light of day recognized the well-known signature of Lord Cornwallis.
