TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORE, August 15, 1868.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREP. ARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BU-CHU. The component parts are, BUCHU, Long Leaf CUBEBS, JUNIPER BEERIES.

Mole of Hispardian:-Buchu, in vacuo. Ju-niper Berries, by distillation, to form a fue gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries ; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more partiable than any new in use.

Buchu as propared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance ; the color. It is a plant that emits its fragmance ; the extinue of a flame destroys this (its active principle) leasing a flort and manness describes. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my prep-mentation predominates ; the smallest quantity of the solider ingredients are added to prevent fer-mentation ; upon inspection it will be found not a bea Tinoture, as made in Pharmacopes, nor is it a Syrap—and therefore can be used in cases where ferer of inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation. Howing that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your appro-hation, with a feeling of profound confidence. I am very respectfully. ## A Lesson in Love.

One of the most beautiful actresses of the boulevards received daily for about a month a little penny bouquet of violets.

She found the bouquet in the box or with the door-keeper in the evening, as the play was about to begin, and this simple offering of the unknown love affected her in spite of herself. While acting she looked carefully around-at the boxes, the parquet, and even behind the scenes-but to no purpose; she saw nothing by which to recognize the man of bouquets, and thereupon she gave her imagination free rein, and the imagination of an actress is very similar to that of other folks. Was he a foreign prince who wished to captivate committed the previous assault. The her heart before placing at her feet his crown and treasure? Or was he an artist too bashful to declare his passion? She interrogated the box-keeper, the tire women, in short, everybody employed in the theatre, but nobody knew anything about it; still the bouquet came. The other evening, as she entered the theatre, she received a fresh bouquet of violets, and this time the flowers were accampanied by seletter. "At last !" murmured she, and opening it by the light of a reflector, read as follows :

DESPERADOES IN TEXAS .-- We copy

the following from the Austin (Texas) Journal: "Our readers will remember that sometime since it was announced that Sam Jenkins, a freedman, living near Huntsville, was taken from his cabin at night and severely whipped by a party of desperadoes, who were well known. At the subsequent session of the Grand Jury, Jenkius gave explicit testimony as to the perpetrators of this outrage, who were accordingly indicted. To prevent his testimony from going before a jury, and to punish him for daring to complain, the unfortunate man was murdered by the same persons who had

VARIOUS ITEMS. A party of scientific gentlemen are spending the Winter in the "Tip Top House," on the summit of Mount Washington, in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. They are supplied with every comfort that experience suggests, and spend their time in making observations upon the state of the weather. They converse with their friends and receive the news transpiring by means of the celegraph. On last Sunday morning, at 3 o'clock, they report that the thermometer stood at 59 degrees below zero, with the wind outside blowing at the rate of one hundred miles an hour. In the interest of science this is commendable, but such intense cold must be disagreeably un-

What is an editor?. Some one answars this question thus : "Why, he is the man who reads the newspapers, writes articles on any subject, talks to all who call, is blamed for a hundred things which are nobody's business but his own. helps people get into office (who forget all about it alterwards), and frequently gets cheated out of half of his earnings. He works and does more to build up a town than any other body, and the miser and the fogy are benefited thereby ; yet they will say that the editor's paper is one of no account, will not advertise or take the paper, but will borrow it. Who wouldn't be an editor. At Berlin, a certain Madamo Rost, a tight-rope performer, undertook to ride a velocipede backward and forward upon a single rope stretched at a height of forty-five feet and fell when just over the parquet of the circus building, striking gainst some chairs, and breaking her back in several places.
