A Great Bargain. THE FARM KNOWN AS "FARMOUNT Lake" is offered for sale at $10,090 in coin—$4,000 in hand, and the remainder in six equal annual payments, with interest from date. The tract is in good shape, being nearly a square, con-taining about 660 acres of rich soil; and is diver-sified with forests vast, fair lawns, lordly oaks, and willows sitting by the lake, the woodland and prairie so alternating as to make it one of the most attractive pinces in the State. It is situated on the west side of the Willamette river, within half a mile of Albany, which is known as being in the heart of the best agricultural portion of Oregon. The location is healthful. It has a good stone quarry, about 100 acres under fence, a twostory frame barn with shedding 90 feet square; a large and handsome new house two-stories high, thoroughly painted inside and out, the large enp-boards and book-cases being fixtures, and the house having under its whole length a good dry cellar. In addition to the c there is a neat well-house, a wood-house and all other necessary outhouses. There is a mendow, large pasture, or-chards, garden, &c., &c. It is susceptible of be-ing divided into four farms, all of them having good soil, fuel and rail timber, and three of them having stock water. For particulars address J. C. Mendenhall, Esq., Albany, or the undersign at Portland.

How a Boy WAKES UP .- There he lies in his crib, a nut-brown cub of four years. He sleeps the sleep of healthy childhood. In the same position he lay when he dropped into unconsciousness one arm under his head, one leg kicked out from under the coverlet. He is per- the manner of preparing food in that feetly motionless. His round cheek pillows itself on the extended arm, and his leg seems to have been arrested in the middle of the last restless kick, as the curtain fell over his blue eyes, and he was fast asleep. You can scarcely perceive his regular res; iration. A train of cars thunder by without noise-he might be carried across the street without awakening. It is morning; daylight streams into the windows; the sun shines on the hill-tops. The sounds of stirring life are beginning to be heard about the house. Watch the boy. Still and motionless as a figure of marble. As you look, the gates of sleep are suddenly locked. He is awake in a twinklingawake all over. His blue eyes are wide open and bright—his lips part with a shout—his legs fly out in different directions-his arms are in rapid motion-he flops over with a spring-in ten seconds he has turned a couple of somersaults, SOLICIT THE ATTENTION OF ALL and presents before you a living illustration of perpetual motion. The oldest weighs 630 and the youngest, who lives in Illinois, 650 and none of them weigh less than 500 pounds, nor under seven feet high—the Sucker, the youngest, being 7 feet 8 inches. They are all well proportioned.

Thirsty gent enters the bar-room of a first-class hotel early in the day: "Land-lord, I guess I've got sense enough to take a drink this morning." Obsequious bar-tender furnishes the required beverage, and the thirsty gent smiles, smacks which have all been recovered. He was formerly from Brooklyn and New York. He treats the matter as he would a joke.

Murder Run Riot. It is no use for any political party, either in or out of power, to attempt to conceal the fact that a condition of things approaching to absolute anarchy prevails at the present moment in many of the Southern States. A generous desire to soften the hardships of defeat, a patriotic desire to see the Union once again redesire to see the Union once again re-stored to its pristine splender, have hitherto induced loyal Northern men to overlook certain manifestations of a two overlook certain manifestations of a tur- struggled. bulent spirit and to pardon a certain amount of opposition to the supremacy of Government. It was hoped that a little time would soothe the exasperated feelings of the vanquished rebels, and show them the advantages of returning to habits of law and order. But these natural expectations have all been disappointed, the leniency of the Government has been foully abused, and the quondam Confederates have actually rioted in murder and outrage. In many Southern districts the Federal authority is ignored altogether, legally-appointed officers are have more brilliancy than I," said the altogether, legally-appointed officers are compelled to fly for their lives, justice is impeded in its action, and the Courts are impeded in its action, and the Courts are in marriage shows that." Nor do the Ku-klux miscreants confine their operations to the colored race; white men have repeatedly been killed because they were loyal to the Government, and therefore obnoxious to the "chivalrous" Southerners. Now these facts suggest some very pertinent queries : Are the Fedeer or jurisdiction in the South? Are the murderous conspirators of the Ku-Klux to be supreme masters there, and to lay down the law for all comers! Are loyal and law abiding citizens to carry their lives in their hands from day to day, and receive no protection? DIED OF A FRYING PAN .- "Died of a frying pan," is the epithet which the Columbus, Ga., Enquirer says appropripart of the country. The editor says of the Southern man : His standard food is a piece of bacon fried; the fat taken, and with flour or meal mixed into a heavy mass and consigned to the inevitable frying pan, and out comes a lump of leathery-looking something which the stomach of an ostrich could not digest. Give him a chicken, and what does he do with it? Cuts it up, and into the frying pan it goes. After being slowly simmered until hard, it is put into a deep dish and grease poured over it, and what is not soaked up in the chicken is made way with by soaking his leathery bread in it. Give him a rich, jucy steak, and into the frying pan it goes, and it is slowly simmered and simmered until no knife will cut it, and then caten with heavy bread, soaked in the remaining fat; and thus good wholesome food in quantity sufficient to afford a wholesome meal for a French artisan's tamily, is by the fry-ing pan process rendered not only barely enough for one man, but converted into a slow poison and a frightful source of
