UMATILLA COUNTY. In the point of natural resources, there is no county in the Eastern portion of the State more wealthy than Umatilla county. The extent of its agricultural lands is nearly unlimited, and in the event of the Umatilla Indian Reservation being Umatilla Indian Reservation being ther from success in asserting her sov-ereignity than ever she has been before; for she has lost 60,000 men and fifty thrown open for settlement, it will boast of an extent of farming land that would sustain a large population. The soil is very rich, and of the character that will last forever. The amount of small grain it will produce to the acre is about : Wheat, forty bushels ; oats, seventy five ; barley, eighty. Vegetables grow well, and all varieties flourish in a manner that speaks loud-in its favor. Besides, it pesents many fine opportunities to stock-raisers, and its endless rolling hills furnish abundant pasturage for innumerable herds of cattle and horses. At the present time this branch of industry is very profitable to those that engage in it, and
