

Letter from Munichhausen.

A WATER-SPORT—DEPARTURE FROM URUGUAY—AN UNUSUAL PASSAGE TO CHILL.

TALCAHUANO, Chili, May 1. I left Montevideo and Uruguayan territory about four days ago, by a route that is not much traveled; which is not to be much wondered at as the facilities are none the best for comfort, rest, or refreshment.

The day was quite calm and pleasant, and we were emboldened to keep our little craft standing out to sea until at least ten miles intervened between us and the shore.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

Having no matches or tinder-box I was obliged to produce fire by the aboriginal method of friction. So to this I applied myself, and after rubbing two dry sticks together assiduously for more than an hour, it was at length gladdened by a successful result—first smoke and then flame.

The Indians who alone inhabit the country commiserated my forlorn condition and fed and clothed me in such attire as they had at hand, and were kind in forwarding me to the settlements.

It is hoped that the officers of the State Agricultural Society will be able to take such action in regard to the proposed invitation to Horace Greeley, to visit Oregon this fall, as will bring about that highly desirable result.

In a divorce case heard at Bangor, Me., on Tuesday, the case was entered in court, no action defendant proved, default, testimony heard, divorce decreed, and certificate issued in just eight minutes and a quarter.

The Death Sentence of Jesus Christ.

We find in a copy of the New London Courant, Democrat, sent to a friend, the following transcript of the sentence of death, pronounced upon Jesus Christ, with the specifications upon which the same was founded—translated from the columns of the Catholice Zeitung, a German paper.

We have been requested by several readers to publish the sentence pronounced by Pontius Pilate, late intendant on the Province of Galilee, that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death by the cross.

In the seventeenth year of the reign of the Emperor Tiberius, on the 25th day of the month of March, in the small holy city of Jerusalem, during the pontificate of Annianus and Cataphas.

Pontius Pilate, intendant on the Province of Lower Galilee, sitting in Judgment in the Presidential seat of the proctor, sentences Jesus of Nazareth to death by the cross, because he is guilty, as the numerous and notorious testimony of the people proves,

- 1. Jesus is a misleader. 2. He has excited the people to sedition. 3. He is an enemy to the laws. 4. He calls himself the Son of God. 5. He calls himself falsely the King of Israel.

6. He went into the temple followed by a multitude carrying palms in their hands.

Order the first centurion Quirinus Cornelius to bring him to the place of execution.

Forbids all persons, rich or poor, to prevent the execution of Jesus.

The witnesses who have signed the execution against Jesus, are—

- 1. Daniel Robani, Pharisee. 2. John Zorobabel. 3. Raphael Robani. 4. Capat.

Jesus is to be taken out of Jerusalem through the gates of Tourne.

This sentence was engraved on a plate of brass, in the Hebrew language and on its sides are the following words: "A similar plate has been sent to each tribe." It was discovered in the year 1289, in the city of Aquila, in the Kingdom of Naples, by a search for the Roman antiquities by the commissaries in the French army of Italy.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

On the afternoon of the day following I described a singular object swiftly approaching from the west. I made for it and succeeded in grasping hold of what proved to be the branches of a tree.

A Thrilling Adventure.

One dull day in August, just afternoon, a balloon rose in the air at the foot of Clost Hills, on the western edge of the central plain of England. It was inflated with the lightest of gases which chemical skill could produce, and it rose with amazing velocity. A mile up and it entered a stratum of cloud more than a thousand feet thick. Emerging from this, the sun shone brightly on the air ship; the sky overhead was of the clearest and deepest blue, and below lay cloud-land—an immeasurable cloud surface looked as solid as that of the earth not wholly lost to view.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

He saw at once that life and death hung upon a few moments. He seized or tried to seize the valve, in order to open it and let out the gas. His hands are purple with intense cold—they are paralyzed. They will not respond to his will. He seized the valve with his teeth, it opened a little, once, twice, thrice. The balloon began to descend.

As a stratagem—A few evenings since as Justice Evans was leaving his office, he was confronted by two charming young ladies, who received him in a friendly manner. Conducting them back to his office, the bland magistrate inquired in what way he could oblige them.

How to MAKE LOVE—A sly-hearted love-dove writes to a literary paper asking how he shall go to work to win the affections of a woman. Attend! Sapient! Don't talk about "going to work" to win the affections of a woman; it can't be done in that way.

A disconsolate citizen of New Orleans put the following question to one of the papers published there: "Mr. Editor—That what I wish to ask you is whether strychnine, what the police gives to dogs won't poison the human being after assassins have been tried. Please put in the paper how this is, for if fried strychnine is pizen, I go again as assassins— Yours, till poisoned."

The Trinity Church Property.

ONE OF THE ANNEKE JANS BOUGHT OFF FOR $1,000,000—A GROCER OF INDIANAPOLIS THE LUCKY PERSON.

Indianapolis is steadily keeping pace with her sister cities in the matter of first class sensations. The last we have to chronicle is in reference to a settlement of some New York property, by which the city becomes possessed of a cool million. The following is a brief history of the case: For the past thirty or forty years the relatives of Mr. Caldwell have been identified with the movement of the Anneke Jans heirs to obtain possession of the Trinity Church property.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Anecdote of General Jackson.

A widow who resided in Washington during Jackson's administration, related the following incident to an acquaintance of the writer's. "I never knew," she began, "what it was to have a care or a worry about the future while my husband lived; but he died suddenly, leaving me poor, with several small children. I fled taking in boarders. Now and then a debtor would ask for his bill, and I would take French leave, and forget in his hurry to ask for his bill, and thus deprive me of a whole year's labor. One inmate, however, a very stylish clerk in one of the departments, was kind enough to stay until he owed me more than five hundred dollars. He wore the finest broadcloth, and the most expensive jewelry, and patronized me in such a grand way that I rarely had the courage to dun him. At last, the grocer nearly drove me distracted about the bill he was owing him, so I went in desperation to Mr. Jones. "Now recall, Mrs.," he said, calmly looking down on me with serene pity, you ought to know that this isn't the way to get a gentleman of my standing; I—aw—fear I shall be under the necessity of leaving if I am to be annoyed about that paltry sum again." I supposed I was a fool, but I dared not answer him, and withdrew looking as guilty as if he had dunned me.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

Up—five miles above the earth higher than the inaccessible summit of Chimborazo or Dawngiri. Despite the sunshine everything freezes. The air grows too thin to support life, even for a few minutes. Two men only are in that adventurous balloon—the one steering the air ship, the other watching the scientific instruments, and recording them with a rapidly bred of long practice.

NEW TO-DAY.

The Sun. The Dollar Weekly Sun. A Newspaper of the Present Times. Intended for People Now on Earth.

THE DAILY SUN, $6 A YEAR. A preliminary reading the new paper, with the latest news from all parts of the world.

THE DOLLAR WEEKLY SUN. Five copies, one year, separately addressed.

R. H. McDONALD & CO., DRUGGISTS. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of Drugs and Chemicals.

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY! DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Hundreds of Thousands Bordered with Gold.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK. Made of Pure Rum, Water, Proof Spirits and Refined Liqueurs.

AGENTS WANTED. We want first class and responsible Agents in every city and town where we have not already appointed them.

Why and Where. Our Pianos are superior to any in the market. Our pamphlet contains engravings of all the different styles of instruments that we manufacture.

Musical Instruments Supplied. All kinds of Musical Instruments, Pianos, Organs, etc.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENT ARION PIANO. A FEW REASONS WHY THE ARION PIANO IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

Supersedes all Others. The use of a bar, which is a part of the Iron Frame on a line with the heavy steel stringing, gives Great Strength. Where most needed, and in this respect all other Pianos fail. The construction of the WREST PLANK, into which the Tuning Pins are inserted, is such that it is impervious to the sun's rays.

Length and Purity on Vibration. All go to prove what we claim, viz.: that the Arion Piano Forte is the Best Instrument Manufactured.

THE PATENT ARION PIANOS. Are used Exclusively in the AMERICAN CONSERVATORIES OF MUSIC of New York city.

Read The Following: I afford no such place to give you, in these few lines, a very interesting testimonial for the Piano Forte of your manufacture.

Agents Wanted. We want first class and responsible Agents in every city and town where we have not already appointed them.

Why and Where. Our Pianos are superior to any in the market. Our pamphlet contains engravings of all the different styles of instruments that we manufacture.

Musical Instruments Supplied. All kinds of Musical Instruments, Pianos, Organs, etc.