LOCAL AFFAIRS

JO. TEAL'S CATTLE HEAD FROG.—Through the poitences of Abe Hackleman, Esq., of this city, we are permitted to extract the following interesting news from a letter just received from Mr. Frank Moore, dated Moore's Ranch, North Fork Crooked River, July 19th, 1871. In relation to the cattle recently reported as stolen from Jo. Teal and Henry Coleman by the Indians at Silvie's river, Mr. Moore contradicts the story in the following particulars: He says that four of the men left in charge of the cattle came to his (Moore's) camp in the evening, two of them riding one horse, got their supper, reported the Indians raising Ned on Silvie's river, and then hurried on to Eagle Rock, ninety miles from Silvie's river. A day or two after Mr. Moore, in company with Mr. Henry Coleman, went over to Buck Creek, where they met Yates with three other men, who reported having been to the Teal & Coleman camp and that they had found the cattle last forty-five head; they found the tracks of these latter, and believed they would have no difficulty in securing them. Yates intimated that the men in charge of the cattle had let their fears get the better of their judgment, and had thus been led into the belief that the Indians were about to gobble them up, and had fled from an imaginary danger only. Mr.
Moore had secured a splendid ranch, and reports his cattle doing well. So it seems Jo. Teal's story of losing 600 head of fine cattle through the bloody talons, is about as genuine as the "clotted blood" found on his person on a certain occasion.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.—The Secretary of the Linn County Agricultural Association, Mr. J. H. Evans, informs us that many needed improvements are under way or are soon to be inaugurated at the grounds of the Association. Among other things the amphitheatre is to be lengthened sixty feet, making the building one hundred and twenty feet long, which will afford seats for an immense number of people. The lower portion, underneath the seats, will be used as a moonshouse restaurant. An addition to the Pavilion, on the north front, 16x21 feet, is to be made, and will be used as offices for the clerks, giving the whole of the original edifice for the display of such articles as may be brought for exhibition.
Various other arrangements for the convenience of exhibitors of agricultural machinery, stock, etc., will be completed soon; and everything that will conduce to the pleasure and profit of visitors and exhibitors in attendance on the sixth annual fair will be attended to in proper season and in good shape by the proper officers of the Association. The officers are determined that through no lack of energy and accommodation on their part shall there be cause for complaint, and they commence this early that everything may be in apper order and nothing overlooked that may, in any way, prove a drawback or hindrance to the fullest success of the exhibition.

MORE SEWING MACHINES.—Miler & Pearson are receiving by every steamer new invoices of those beautiful, simple and reliable Buckley Sewing Machines, pronounced by those who have used them as the best machine for all kinds of family sewing now in the market, and the price only $15. Who is willing to see his wife or daughter stitch, stitch, stitch all day and long into the night, with an old fashioned needle, to make a single garment, when he can purchase, for the insignificant sum of forty-five dollars, a machine that will accomplish the same kind of work in one hour? Of course no man with a soul in him, who loves his wife and family, will refuse to invest so small a sum in an article that will make what was before continuous and unending toil, a light and pleasant duty. The Buckley will answer all demands made upon it in the sewing line. See them.

THAT SOCIABLE.—The Sociable gotten up for the benefit of the late Methodist pastor of this city, on Friday night of last week, was largely attended, and proved a success. The ladies under whose management the Sociable became a success, are deserving of great praise, as they worked under great discouragement and many disappointments that would have caused them to abandon the opposite side to have thrown up the sponge. It proved a pleasant social reunion, and all seemed to enjoy the occasion. The ladies were enabled to present their late pastor with sixty-one dollars as the fruits of their labor.

GET BACK.—Our esteemed friend, Ed. Freeland, after an absence of many days, to his home and friends in this city. Ed. reports having had a good time out in the mountains, climbing the tall blackberry bush and wrenching the luscious fruit from its thorny limbs, and other invigorating exercises. Ed. is thoroughly embrowned, in as fat as a saw, and as hilarious as a bird. If it done everybody as much good to take a trip to the mountains, there are some people we wot of that should start with the early dawn so as to get there the first day, if possible.

TEMPERANCE LECTURES.—Mrs. Carrie F.
Young, M. D., editor and proprietor of the Woman's Pacific Coast Journal, San Francisco, delivered lectures on temperance in the Congregational Church of this city, on Monday and Tuesday evenings. We were present on Tuesday evening during a part of the lecture, and were much interested with the manner in which Mrs. Young handled her subject. The Doctor spoke with ease and grace, and is doing a good work for the temperance cause, and should receive the hearty support of the Good Templars. She went to Corvallis on Wednesday.
