SEWING MACHINES.

THE CELEBRATED
Buck Eye Sewing Machine.

Price $45; without table, $25

Eight reasons why the Buckeye Sewing Machine is superior to all others:

1. It is the simplest shuttle machine made.
2. It has less wearing parts.
3. It has no small springs or compound cranks.
4. It is better adapted to a large range of work without change.
5. It has less pieces of machinery.
6. It is less liable to break needles than any other machine.
7. The shuttle will wear longer than the shuttle in any other machine.
8. That it has the best feeding device, which will never wear out, get out of order, break needles, feed unevenly, slip or stretch goods, or pucker the seam so that one part of the fabric will come out shorter than the other, which all other feeds are liable to do. It makes every stitch of an equal length. It is stronger than other feeds. We can take a strong piece of cloth, and put one end in our machine and the other end in any other machine, and guarantee that our machine will take the cloth from the other, in consequence of the superior strength of the feed.
9. It is the only feed strong enough to feed thick sole leather, sewing on shoe soles. No sewing the cloth or any other aid is required.
10. It has no complicated machinery, and therefore is not liable to get out of order. It has a beautiful movement, making nearly two thousand stitches per minute. The Buckeye Sewing Machine makes the lock stitch, the same as the Howe, Wilson, Singer, and Florence, alike on both sides. We offer a premium of one hundred dollars for any machine on this coast that will make a stronger or more elastic stitch than the Buckeye. For full particulars address, MINER & PEARSON, Gen. Agents, Albany, Oregon.

CITY AND COUNTY.

(Original.)

A Terrible Affair.

A little mouse peeped from a hole,
And sniffed the air for food;
An old tom-cat smooching round,
Perceived the youngster's mood.

Quite cautious little mouse peered
Around with wary eyes;
Old Tom drew back, pregnant to spring,
As mouse's nose he spies.

Mouse thought he smelt a cat,
And turned his tail instantly;
Old Tom was vexed, and round the room
Like mad began to canter.

He ran against a pile of plates
And knocked them better-shelter;
Old doors old Tower tho' 'twas rain,
And made a rush for shelter.

Into the stable door he went,
"Tween farmer Joe's two legs;
Kerpoop-tly--and dog and man
Were scrambling to their legs.

The milkmaid saw the squirming pat,
And screeched aloud with fright;
Brindle thought the girl was mad,
And kicked with all her might.

One foot on Betsy's stomach lit,
Who ran against the wall;
The other hit the yearling calf
And started it to bawling.

The noise alarmed a flock of geese,
Who ran to squawk and flutter;
A settler's hen, in terror wild,
Flew in a churn of butter.

The housewife flew to take it out,
But ran against the crib;
The baby tumbled cross a pot
And broke its little rib.

A shriek arose from baby's throat
That raised the echoes round;
The noise alarmed the sightless horse,
Who started with a bound.

He ran against a beehive full,
And knocked it over sad;
The injured bees rushed forth quinged
And stung like mad.

They stung the horse, the cat and dog,
And Bot and farmer Joe;
They stung the housewife on the nose,
The baby on the toe.

The cow was stung inside the ear;
The calf twice on the tail;
The hen was stung quite in her eye
While sitting on a rail.

The horse did kick the cat did squall,
The dog did yelp and Bot did howl;
Farmer Joe and wife set up a yell,
That drowned the baby's for a spell.

The noise they made 'twas hard to write;
They raised an awful din;
If mouse had remained at home,
This never would have been.
