SEWING MACHINES.

THE CELEBRATED

Buck Eye Sewing Machine.

Price $45; without table, $25

Eight reasons why the Buckeye Sewing Machine is superior to all others:

1. It is the simplest shuttle machine made.
2. It has less wearing parts.
3. It has no small springs or compound cranks.
4. It is better adapted to a large range of work without change.
5. It has less pieces of machinery.
6. It is less liable to break needles than any other machine.
7. The shuttle will wear longer than the shuttle in any other machine.
8. That it has the best feeding device, which will never wear out, get out of order, break needles, feed unevenly, slip on starched goods, or pucker the seam so that one part of the fabric will come out shorter than the other, which all other feeds are liable to do. It makes every stitch of an equal length. It is stronger than other feeds. We can take a strong piece of cloth, and put one end in our machine and the other end in any other machine, and guarantee that our machine will take the cloth from the other, in consequence of the superior strength of the feed.

It is the only feed strong enough to feed thick sole leather, sewing on shoe soles. No soaping the cloth or any other aid is required.

It has no complicated machinery, and therefore is not liable to get out of order. It has a beautiful movement, making nearly two thousand stitches per minute.

The Buckeye Sewing Machine makes the lock stitch, the same as the Howe, Wilson, Singer, and Florence, alike on both sides. We offer a premium of one hundred dollars for any machine on this coast that will make a stronger or more elastic stitch than the Buckeye. For full particulars address,

Further Improvements.

We contemplate various improvements, adding materially to the general interest of the REGISTER, as rapidly as the increase of patronage will justify. Among the first of the "New Departures" is the enlargement of the paper one or two columns to each page, making it, if not the largest, the equal in size of any journal in the Union. This will be done early in the coming Spring, should the increase in our subscription justify. We look to our friends throughout the county and State to lend us their aid in this matter. Help us now, and we will give you the best to be had for the money.

The Divine Tragedy.

Below will be found a portion of Longfellow's last and greatest poem. Following the first scene comes the preaching of John the Baptist, in which the austere prophet summons the people to repentance in the fearful language and imagery of the Hebrews under the Old Covenant:

JOHN THE BAPTIST.

Repent! repent! repent!
For the kingdom of God is at hand,
And all the land
Full of knowledge of the Lord shall be
As the waters cover the sea,
And encircle the continent!

Repent! repent! repent!
For lo, the hour appointed,
The hour so long foretold
By the prophets of old,
Of the coming of the Anointed,
The Messiah, the Paraclete,
The Desire of the Nations, is nigh!
He shall not strive nor cry,
Nor his voice be heard in the street;
Nor the bruised reed shall he break,
Nor quench the smoking flax!
And many of them that sleep
In the dust of earth shall awake,
On that great and terrible day,
And the wicked shall wail and weep,
And be blown like a smoke away,
And be melted away like wax.
Repent! repent! repent!

O Priest, and Pharisee,
Who hath warned you to flee
From the wrath that is to be!
From the coming anguish and ire?
The ax is laid at the root
Of the trees, and every tree
That bringeth not forth good fruit,
Is hewn down and cast into the fire!

Ye Scribes, why come ye hither?
In the hour that is uncertain,
In the day of anguish and trouble,
He that stretcheth the heavens as a curtain
And spreadeth them out as a tent,
Shall blow upon you, and ye shall wither,
And the whirlwind shall take you away as stubble!
Repent! repent! repent!

PRIEST.

Who art thou, O man of prayer!
In raiment of camel's hair,
Begirt with leathern thong,
That here in the wilderness,
With a cry as of one in distress,
Preachest unto this throng?
Art thou the Christ?

JOHN.

Priest of Jerusalem,
In meekness and humbleness,
I deny not, I confess
I am not the Christ!

PRIEST.

What shall we say unto them
That sent us here? Reveal
Thy name, and naught conceal.
Art thou Elias?

JOHN.

No!

PRIEST.

Art thou that Prophet, then,
Of lamentation and woe,
Who, as a symbol and sign
Of impending wrath divine
Upon unbelieving man,
Shattered the vessels of clay
In the Valley of Slaughter?

JOHN.

Nay,
I am not he thou namest!

PRIEST.

Who art thou, and what is the word
That here thou proclaimest?

JOHN.

I am the voice of one
Crying in the wilderness alone:
Prepare ye the way of the Lord;
Make his paths straight
In the land that is desolate!

PRIEST.

If thou be not the Christ,
Nor yet Elias, nor he,
That, in sign of things to be,
Shattered the vessel of clay
In the Valley of Slaughter,
Then declare unto us, and say
By what authority now
Baptizeth thou?

JOHN.

I indeed baptize you with water
Unto repentance; But He
That cometh after me,
Is mightier than I and higher;
The latchet of whose shoes
I am not worthy to unloose;
He shall baptize you with fire,
And with the Holy Ghost!
Whose fan is in his hand;
He will purge to the uttermost
His floor, and garner his wheat,
But will burn the chaff in the brand
And fire of unquenchable heat!
Repent! repent! repent!

HE TOOK A CHAIR.—A Chicago lover, who went to see his girl one evening recently, was received with marked frigidity, possibly owing to the fact that he had lost all his possessions in the fire. After lingering a few moments, he moved toward the door, saying, "he guessed he'd go." "Oh!" said she starting from a beautiful condition of semi-unconsciousness, "won't you take a chair." "Well, I don't care if I do," was his reply, and he took the chair thanking her kindly, and carried it home. He says it is a good chair, made of walnut, with a stuffing and green cover—just what he wanted.

Some young men of Fort Wayne went into a restaurant and dined to the amount of several dollars. One young man proposed to pay the bill, when another young man stopped him and he proposed to pay. The game was played by all, when it was proposed to blindfold the waiter, and the one he caught was to pay the bill. While the waiter was groping around the room the dead beats made good their escape.

A very prompt way of taking a man at his word was lately furnished by one striker, a 'bus agent on the Kansas Pacific Railroad. Having protracted the sowing of his wild oats too long, his father was kindly remonstrating against his dissipation, and remarked that he would rather follow his son to the grave than see him a drunkard. The young man replied, "Here goes, father," and instantly put the pistol to his head and discharged it.
