TREADWELL & CO.

with the old standard

HARVESTING MACHINES

so popular with all California farmers, with all the latest improvements, and many new ones for the harvest of '72.

The Wood's Prize Mowers

and Wood's Improved Self-Rake Reapers.

These machines are indisputably THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

As a harvester, the Wood's Improved Prize Mower is confessedly without an equal yet before the country. These machines have been improved since first introduced, until they are now almost entirely a new machine. They are made by Walter A. Wood (the largest manufacturer of Farming Machinery in the world--a man who accepts "up with the times," and who now builds and sells over twenty-five thousand of the World's Prize Mowers annually. It led the world at the Paris Exposition, and has found no peer since.

The Wood's Improved Prize Mower is especially adapted to Oregon. It has a rolling or jointed bar with hand lever, two wheels, spring seat, and is made almost entirely of malleable iron, hard wood and steel. It is heavy, strong and durable, and though compact and powerful, is lighter draft than the other machines of equal weight. It is every way just the Mower for Oregon, as every farmer will say who has one. And its price is from $15 to $25 less than that of an inferior machine. Farmers, will you pay that difference? Investigate before you buy, and see if you are getting anything for that extra profit--for it is profit, as no Mower costs more to build than does Wood's. Send for a pamphlet before buying.

"Buy the Best."

Buy the Wood's Improved Prize Mower!

We offer also the

GENUINE HAINE'S HEADERS,

from 10 to 15 feet cut, improved by Walter A. Wood, having not only all the advantages of the old Illinois machine, but Wood's improvements, and also Bonne's Adjustable Reel.

2v3 No other Header has these improvements, and no other parties sell them. They are made especially for this coast, by Wood, at Hoosick Fall, N. Y.

The Kirby Self-Rake Reaper and Mower.

These machines are too well known to need description. Also the "KIRBY CLIPPER MOWER" price $75--the cheapest and for many purposes the best in the market.

The Mysterious Abdication.

The literary sensation of the hour in Germany is a revelation regarding the "Mysterious abdication" of Ferdinand the Fifth, in Austria, during the revolutionary troubles of 1848. Baron Helfert, who seems to have been in the secret, now gives to the world in his history of recent Austria; and it seems to have been a mystery from the very beginning. The Emperor had fled from Vienna to Olmutz to avoid the dangers of the rebellion. Early one morning a mysterious excitement pervaded the old town. Ladies and gentlemen were hastening, on foot or in carriages, to the Archbishop's palace; mounted orderlies were flying hither and thither, and troops of every grade were hastening to a common rendezvous. It was soon discovered that nearly all the members of the Imperial household had arrived in the night, and that the ministers and all the high officers of State were present. No one divined the cause of this unusual activity--neither the actors nor the spectators. The most influential men of the realm simply knew that they were ordered to assemble in gala dress in the palace at Olmutz, a little after daylight of a December morning. The company represented nearly every department of the government, in all varieties of dress, even to the priestly robes of the high officials of the Church. Anxiety and consternation were on every countenance. Even the Archduke Ferdinand approached the master of the ceremonies, begging to know why they were thus mysteriously called together at so unseasonable an hour. His only answer was that his lips were sealed until events should tell their own story. And thus the fairest prizes of the Imperial Court were kept in agony of suspense.

The incubus on the company was shown by the ominous silence or painful whispers, and the waiting minutes seemed hours. At last, at eight o'clock, the folding doors were thrown open, and their majesties, the Emperor and Empress, accompanied by the Archdukes, Francis Charles and the present Emperor, Francis Joseph, solemnly entered and took their seats assigned to them. A breathless suspense controlled the assemblage as the Emperor arose, and taking a document from his breast, read as follows: "Weighty reasons have brought me to the irrevocable determination to lay down the Imperial crown, which I do in favor of my beloved nephew; his father, my dear brother, renouncing all his rights to the throne in favor of his cherished son."

The Emperor then bade the Minister of the State lay before him the necessary documents for signature and ratification by witnesses; after which the youthful successor approached his uncle and knelt before him, in such state of mental agitation that he could not command his words of gratitude. The abdicating monarch bent over him with his benediction, and then embracing him, uttered the only free words heard during the entire scene: "God bless thee; be honest and he will protect thee. I have acted freely and willingly." Women burst into violent sobs, and the eyes of strong men became fountains of tears.--Scribner's Monthly.

Abraham, the reprobate son of good King David, wore his hair long, after the manner of the maidens of Judea, and for that bit of folly got entangled in the branches of a tree, and lost his life. If he had lived in these times, and adopted the fashion of our maidens, he would not have run that risk. A lady in Burlington, Iowa, was riding beneath the spreading branches of some trees, the other day, and her hair was caught even as that of the handsome Prince of the house of David. She was not hung, but left her chignon dangling in the breeze.

TROUBLESOME WOMEN.--At the close of one of Mrs. Swisshelm's orations she asked if any male citizen was present who was opposed to woman suffrage; if so she would like to have him stand up and give his reasons. To the surprise of nearly all present, the serious-minded Chaplain of the Ohio Penitentiary rose. Some one hinted to Mrs. Swisshelm his calling and position, when Mrs. Swisshelm inquired if he had any women in the Penitentiary. "Yes," responded the Chaplain, "we have twelve, and they make more trouble than the whole nine hundred men."

Nothing is more easy to do than mischievous, nothing more difficult to bear without complaining.

Men generally put a greater value upon the favors they bestow than upon those they receive.

Over warm friendship, like coals, are quickly dropped.
