

Republican Ticket for 1872

FOR PRESIDENT,

U. S. GRANT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

HENRY WILSON.

Presidential Electors, A. B. BRACHAM, of Clatsop county, W. D. HARRIS, of Washington county, J. F. GAZLEY, of Douglas county.

IF.

If an individual can advocate one line of policy to-day and its opposite to-morrow; if he can "advocate the elevation of the black race, the granting of lands to freedmen, the necessity of passing laws for the protection of southern loyalists, the absolute right of the Federal Government to enforce these laws, and the vital importance of defeating Democracy, because its triumph would defeat these wise measures," and then turn around and swallow it all by denouncing those very measures; if a leading advocate of protection, one who has devoted a long life to it, and has done more than any other living advocate to mould public sentiment in its favor, can, in his old age, for the sake of the Presidency, ally himself with the friends of free trade; if he can say of the Democracy: "May it be written on my grave that I never was its (Democracy's) follower, and lived and died in nothing its debtor."

If he can say that, and place himself in a mendicant attitude at the feet of that party, and beg for its support; if an individual can descend to such a plane of inconsistency and dirt-eating perfidy, and still be honest, then the Democracy are quite right, and Horace Greeley, the "wood-chopper" of Chappaqua, is the grandest, the most superlatively sublime picture of honesty the world ever saw.

The Death of Juarez.

It will be sincerely regretted by American readers that President Juarez, of Mexico, is dead. His decease will doubtless prove a serious blow to the successful development of progressive ideas of civilization in that aurely-cursed nation. An exponent of Liberal ideas, and a most fearless energetic and devoted leader of that party, Juarez had succeeded by his personal popularity and superior administrative tact and ability, in gathering about him a support of faithful adherents, which enabled him to do much towards restoring his country from a state of semi-barbarous anarchy and ignorance, to a state of progressive enlightenment and peace. The material interests of the country were being rapidly developed, which opened for Mexico a bright and glorious future. It is thought his death will again involve the land in revolutions and counter-revolutions. With the past history of Mexico before us, her penchant for revolutions, it would be difficult to arrive at any other conclusion.

Business Men for Grant.

Greeley's quixotic inclination to take up with every new fangled notion that comes along, renders him quite impracticable to the sober, business interest of the country as a candidate for President. His past eccentric history in the advocacy of "isms" and projects, justifies the fear that in the President's office he would be equally prone to experiment in visionary schemes, which would seriously impair the business interests of the country, if not precipitate financial ruin. The business men of the country know that Grant's policy is safe and secure, as well as prudent, and they will vote accordingly.

Eight months ago Horace Greeley was a strong supporter of Gen. Grant. It took him just that long to be "born over again."

The Last Charge.

A New York dispatch states that Barton Duncan, M. M. Pomeroy, Bayard of New Jersey, Van Allen, of New York, and other leaders of the straight Democratic movement, held a private conference at the New York Hotel, on the afternoon of the 25th, to take preliminary steps to organize throughout the country. They reported enthusiastic responses from all quarters to the call for the Louisville Convention, in September. They say that full delegations from all the States will be in attendance. This affords a last chance for old fashioned, bed-rock, hickory Democrats to show their hands. Alas, however, for that class of Democrats here in Oregon! The Engle Guard is the only Democratic journal that now can consistently rally them. The rest are each engaged in blowing a Greeley-Brown toot horn.

The One Will More Than Offset the Other.

While a few Republicans in each State, such as have been influenced by a desire to secure its rewards, rather than by a love of its principles, or a desire to assist in their practical development, may go over to the Greeley-Brown faction, their number will be more than made up by accessions from that class of the Democracy, who have always been sincere in their love of the old-time Democratic principles, but who now refuse to be bought or sold without their consent. The identity of the Democratic party having been willingly yielded into the Chappaqua faction, these Democrats will no longer feel under obligations to cling to its fortunes.

A Fellow Feeling.

The New York Tribune was formerly very zealous in its efforts to ferret out and expose, and very hearty in its language of condemnation of the Tammany frauds and thefts. Now that Greeley has become the Democratic candidate for President, and is supported enthusiastically by the Tammany thieves, it will be very likely, in fact, it may be certainly anticipated, that the bark of Tammany so far as the Tribune is concerned, will henceforth have a smooth sea and balmy breeze.

Germans Opposed to Greeley.

The Germans have never been admirers of Horace Greeley. His persistent advocacy of the most radical sumptuary legislation has made him almost universally obnoxious to that element. The example of Carl Schurz in endorsing him will be followed but by few of the Republicans, and many of the Democrats will also refuse to vote for him. Greeley's nomination has had a tendency to consolidate German Republicans and Democrats on Grant.

The charges of corruption which are being used so indiscriminately by the Chappaquas against the Administration, fall harmlessly to the ground, in view of the fact, that the most searching investigation into the affairs of the three Departments, have failed to fix upon the Administration a single act of dishonesty. The opposition know their charges to be false, but hope by frequent repetition to make them pass for truth.

The Democracy of Oregon are now engaged professedly in "sacrificing"—on the altar of "fair and honest" Greeley. The "frank-incozes" they use smells to heaven very loud of rank deception.

All the powers have accepted the invitation of the French Government to send representatives to a Congress at Paris to consider the metrical system.

The Trademark Convention between Austria and the United States went into effect on the 23d inst.

The editor of the Journal, at Eugene, has been presented with a plum seven inches in circumference, a timothy stalk six feet high, and a turnip weighing ten pounds.

KANTON NEWS.

North Carolina is conceded to be Republican by New York papers. In St. Louis on the 25th inst, Arthur Holmes being refused admittance into his house, forced an entrance at the back door, stabbed and killed his wife, and then escaped. His wife had kept an assignation house when he was absent from the city.

Gov. McCook, of California, says that the feeling in his section of the country is all for Grant. Western people all oppose Greeley because they are free-traders.

Ex-Judge Thomas Wilark has resigned from the Tammany General Committee. He is dissatisfied at the conduct of reformed Tammany and the nomination of Greeley.

The New York Herald on the 25th inst. received a long letter by cable from Dr. Livingstone, addressed to James G. Bennett, thanking him in a most cordial manner for the kindness and generosity shown in fitting out and sending Stanley to his relief.

Governor Austin has received a dispatch from Brainard, Minnesota, asking that troops be sent there immediately. The town was filled with Indians, and hostilities were threatened. This was on the 25th.

The Protelery at Winchester, N. Y., an educational home for children of vagrant and destitute people, was burned on the 25th. Six hundred people were asleep in the building when the fire occurred, but all were saved alive, though entirely destitute.

Dr. Simon P. Taft, of Newark, N. Y., was arrested on the 25th for producing abortion on Elizabeth Heendershot, resulting in her death.

The New Jersey Democratic and Liberal State Committees at a conference at Trenton on the 26th, decided to hold separate conventions on September 10th.

The largest Republican meeting ever held in Nebraska took place at Lincoln, July 26th. Fully five thousand people were present.

D. F. Brown, a wealthy fruit grower near St. Joseph, Michigan, offered his wife (with whom he had lived over forty years) $16,000 to sign a bill of separation, so that he could marry the hired girl, a blushing damsel of sixteen years. Mrs. Brown thought the $16,000 of more value than such a husband, and she accepted the offer.

The Staats Zeitung publishes a letter from Benjamin F. Loan (Schurz's competitor in the Senatorial contest) in which he declares, according to his recollection, that Mr. Schurz, in a speech at Jefferson City during the Senatorial contest, utterly denied all sympathy with those who favor rebel entrenchment, and repudiated the action of Republican papers which undertook to commit him to that policy, and in the most emphatic language asserted his entire devotion to the most ultra doctrines of Radicals, and pledged his faithful support of them.

The great plains of Texas contain one hundred and fifty-two millions of acres.

The Jackson (Tenn.) Whig gives the particulars of a horrible outrage which was perpetrated at the village of Pinson, a week ago yesterday. A negro named Wash Cornely found a drunken white man named Smith in the road, and with his pocket knife mutilated him in a most shocking manner. At night the negro stripped himself naked and made his way into the bedroom of a young lady named Cherry but was frightened off. The negro was arrested next day, and narrowly escaped lynching.

The stenographer who accompanied the Sub-Committee of Indian Affairs on their recent visit to Indian territory has returned. Some very important testimony has been taken, disclosing immense and almost incredible frauds upon the Cherokees, Creeks, Choctaws and Chickasaws, through the means of corrupt bargainers by Indian delegates with Washington lobbyists and agents. The Committee is said to be indignant against persons involved in these robberies of ignorant Indians, and the cancellation and annulment of such existing contracts will be insisted upon.

The Park street Methodist church in Indianapolis, Ind., raised $30,000 on the 27th, to complete the edifice—will be the finest in the State.

The French Government contemplates the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico. The death of Juarez has removed the only obstacle thereto.

While our opponents are engaged in charging corruption upon General Grant's Administration, let it be borne in mind that since March 4, 1869, the public debt has been reduced $331,945,881 07, and the interest on it has been cut down $22,002,519. If there is anything in these figures to indicate corruption, we fail to see it. So long as the people can see the public debt being rapidly canceled, the expenses of the government lessened, the taxes diminished, and three Departments of government managed in an honest and prudent manner, they will be satisfied. Such is the aspect presented by the Administration of Grant.

It is confidently expected that Georgia will go Republican. A. H. Stevens and Robert Toombs refuse to support Greeley, and their example will be followed by multitudes of Democrats. The Savannah News says that thousands of Georgia Democrats will not go to the polls.

The Tammany thieves all shout for "Shant" Greeley. What a commentary is that on honesty!

A Hoax.

The purported snubbing of Gen. Sherman in Berlin, the German Capital, turns out to be a hoax. He was well and courteously received.

Latest News.

The riot at Savannah, Ga., was occasioned by several negroes being expelled from the street cars. At one P. M., on the 29th ult., five negroes were expelled from the cars. The excitement became general, and by night 2,000 negroes lined the street. About 3 o'clock the negroes fired into a car, and white men in the car returned the fire. Every car that passed after that was fired into, and for an hour, the negroes shot in all directions. The police arrived with their muskets, ordered out by the Mayor, but the cars stopped running and demonstrations ceased. Quite a number of casualties are reported among the whites, and several blacks were wounded, but no deaths.

The three young men were arrested in Savannah, Ga., charged with ejecting negroes from the cars.

The Germans, for 25 years a prominent Democratic paper in Cleveland, Ohio, hauled down the Greeley-Brown flag on the 30th ult., and announced its intention to go for the election of Grant. For this act several German Democrats threatened its editor.

Gov. Geary, in a letter to the Labor Reformers, reiterates the expression of his sympathies with the labor cause and says the true policy of the laboring people is to marshal their strength upon candidates for Congress and Legislative officers who will support their cause. The Labor party, he thinks, holds the balance of power in Pennsylvania, and could, if they would, control the contest for the Presidency. At the evening session of the Conference, a vote of sympathy with the Williamsport strikers passed, and of censure against the administration for the non-enforcement of the eight hour law.

EARTH NOT OUR HOME.—I cannot believe that this earth is man's abiding place. It cannot be that our life, cast up by the ocean of eternity, is to float a moment upon the waves and sink into nothingness. Else why is it that the glorious aspirations, which, like angels, peep from the temple of our hearts, are forever wandering about unsatisfied? Why is it that the stars which hold their festival around the midnight throne are forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And, finally, why is it that bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view, and then taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of our affections to flow back like Alpine torrents upon our hearts? We are born for a higher destiny than that of earth. There is a realm where the rainbow never fades; where the stars will be set before us, like islands that slumber on the ocean, and where the beings that pass before us, like shadows, leave our presence forever.—Juliet.

- "An intoxicated person must not ask for strong drinks at this bar."
"Enough is better than a feast."
"An habitual drunkard cannot be accommodated here with anything stronger than lemonade."
"Temperance is a virtue."
"Minor children must have a written order from their parents, or drink nothing but soda pop or lemonade in this saloon."
"Children obey your parents."

They have a new way of treating the broken legs of horses, which ought to be generally known. A valuable horse, in Hartford, Conn., had his leg broken a short time since. The leg was carefully set by an experienced surgeon, and was covered thickly with plaster. When the plaster "set" or hardened, it kept the limb as immovable as if it had been made of iron. This treated, a broken leg, it is asserted, will knit together in a brief time and become as good as ever.

A young genius has invented a patent bug-buster, worked with an air-pump. All the apertures in a room are stopped but one, at which the deadly instrument is placed. By exhausting the receiver, a current of air is produced strong enough to draw all the vermin out of the room, through the air-pump, into a hopper, where they are put under the influence of chloroform, and stabbed in the back with a pitch-fork.

The most efficient remedy for snake bite is simply to immerse the part bitten, as soon as possible, in water as hot as can be borne. It dissolves the poison at once. This remedy has been repeatedly tried, and found effectual.

Spectacles were first used towards the end of the thirteenth century, and are said to have been invented by Roger Bacon.
