Gumb's Dog.

Gumb, who lives next door to us, has bought a new dog. He needs a new one. His last one used to bark all night in the yard, until in frantic desperation, we would shy boots and ologue bottles and furniture at him. But he always went on worse; and in the morning Gumb would come calmly out and gather up those missiles and carry them into the house. He has more than twenty pair of boots and slippers in his possession, besides chair legs, and cakes of soap, and hair brushes, and match-safes, and towel-racks. And he never had the manliness to offer to give them back. On the contrary, he trained that dog to sit by the front gate and seize us by the leg when we came out, apparently for the purpose of securing some more boots. But we poisoned him one night, and the next morning Gumb threw the carcass over into our yard. We returned it. Gumb returned it. We both stayed at home that day and spent the time handling that dog to one another over the fence. Then we hired an Irishman to stand there night and day to return the deceased to Gumb's yard. Then Gumb also engaged an Irishman. It was exhilarating work. The corpse probably traversed that fence six or seven thousand times in every twenty-four hours. He must have become familiar with the route, even if he was dead. At last he wore away with so much handling, and on the last day the Irishman whittled away the hours by flinging only the tail at each other. Our Irishman at last buried the tail and resigned. And now Gumb has got a new dog. It will be excessively singular if we do not fish for that dog some evening soon with a codfish line and a piece of beef, and run him up all of a sudden to our window, and launch him into the sewer.

Where the "Confounded Mother" Was.

[Ell Perkins in N. Y. Com. Advertiser.] A gentleman who came up the Hudson on the St. John yesterday tells this story: "I noticed," he said, "a serious-looking man, who looked as if he might have been a clerk or a book-keeper. The man seemed to be carrying a crying baby, and was doing everything he could to still its sobs. As the child became restless in the berth, the gentleman took it in his arms and carried it to and fro in the cabin. The sobs of the child irritated a rich man, who was trying to read, until he blurted out loud enough for the father to hear:

"What does he want to disturb the whole cabin with that d—d baby for?"

The man only nestled the baby more quietly in his arms without saying a word. Then the baby sobbed again.

"Where is the confounded mother that she don't stop its noise?" continued the profane grumbler.

At this the father came up to the man and said: "I am sorry we disturb you, sir; but my dear baby's mother is in her coffin down in the baggage-room. I'm taking her back to Albany where we used to live."

"The hard-hearted man," says my friend, "buried his face in shame; but a moment, wilted by the terrible rebuke, he was by the side of the grief-stricken father. They were both tending the baby."

A Shawl Factory in Cashmere.

A gentleman who traveled a long time in India, and Cashmere gives some curious facts about the manufacture and cost of a real Cashmere scarf or shawl. While in Cashmere he visited Mooki Shah, who is the best and greatest manufacturer of shawls in that city. The factory was a miserable, dirty building, the workroom measured about sixty by thirty feet. Here he found some forty men and boys, of all ages, from six to fifty, arranged in twos and threes, at different looms, each one having a loom to himself, for all the most valuable shawls are made in looms, in small pieces, according to the pattern, and then sewed together. The pattern is not put in colors or squares, like our patterns of worsted work for chair backs, seats, and slippers, but the directions are written. When the patterns are made they are sewed together. At some looms in operation there appeared to be four or five hundred small bits of wool with rolls of different shades of woolen thread, to be used in different parts of the patterns. It was astonishing to see the dexterity with which the small children worked these hand-looms and understood their written directions.

A citizen of Pomeroy, accompanied by a waggish friend, went into a dentist's office to have a tooth drawn. Not being blessed with strong powers of endurance, he was nitrous-oxided. After the molar was extracted, and while regaining consciousness, he inquired of his friend, "Where am I?" "You're in jail for killing your wife." "In jail for killing my wife? I always thought it would come to that."

DR. VANCELEVE'S
Galvanic, Abdominal Supporter
—AND—
UTERINE REGULATOR.

THE MERITS OF THIS INSTRUMENT consist principally in the support it gives to the abdomen and spine. The belt is broad, supported by suspenders passing over the shoulders, and kept in shape by self-generating Galvanic Plates, which give a pleasant current.

The Regulator is also Galvanic; its Cup and Nozzles are made of silver; its Stem, of Copper and Zinc, is hollow, that injections may be thrown through it, or into the neck of the Uterus. It can be so regulated by its thumb-screw as to meet any mal-position of the Uterus, and is unequalled in meeting any form of female disease.

Price, $25. Patented August 15, 1871, by W. S. Van Cleave, Centralia, Illinois.

Territory for Sale, or will receive Royalty for manufacture.
For State or Territorial rights to manufacture and sell on the Pacific Coast, apply to COLL. VAN CLEEVE, Albany, Oregon.

SPECTACLES.

MONEY CAN NOT BUY IT, FOR SIGHT IS PRICELESS!

But the Diamond Spectacles will preserve it.

WE NOW OFFER A GLASS TO THE public which is pronounced by the most celebrated opticians of the world to be the most perfect, natural, artificial help to the human eye ever known. They are ground under our own supervision, at our own manufactory, in New Haven, and are so constructed that the core or center of the lens comes directly in front of the eye, producing a

CLEAR AND DISTINCT VISION,
As in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as shimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, etc., peculiar to all others in use.

These glasses are manufactured from minute crystal pebbles melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy. They are mounted in the finest manner, at our own manufactory, in all styles of gold, silver, steel, rubber, and shell frames, of the best quality. Their durability can not be surpassed, and their price is such as will suit the most fastidious. Some genuine robes bearing our trade-mark, & stamped on every frame.

For sale by the principal opticians and jewelers, throughout the country. Manufactured by J. E. SINGER & Co., Optical Opticians, New York. For sale only by TITUS BROTHERS, Dealers in watches, clocks, jewelry, silver ware, etc., Albany, Oregon.

Entered according to act of Congress, in the year 1871, by J. E. SINGER & Co., in the clerk's office of the District Court of the United States, for the Southern District of New York. 30-3

THE NEW FAMILY SINGER SEWING MACHINE,

WITH ATTACHMENTS FOR ALL KINDS OF WORK.

Is fast winning favor in the household, as shown by the rapidly increasing sales. This NEW FAMILY MACHINE is capable of a range and variety of work such as was once thought impossible to perform by machinery. We claim and can show that it is the cheapest, most beautiful, delicately arranged, nicely adjusted, easily moved, and smoothly running of all the Family Sewing Machines. It is remarkable not only for the variety and different kinds of texture which it will sew with equal facility and perfection, using silk, linen, or cotton thread, fine or coarse, making the interlocked-stitch, like on both sides of the fabric sewn. Thus, heavier cloth, or leather, may be sewn with great strength and uniformity of stitch; and, in a moment, this willing and never-warying instrument may be adjusted for fine work on gauze or sensitive tissue, or the tucking of muslin, or ruffling, or almost any other work which delicate fingers have been known to perform.
