From the Helena Herald of the 16th inst: W. C. Child, Agent of Wells, Fargo & Co., received intelligence yesterday that the overland coach which left here on Saturday morning was waylaid by highway robbers about 10 o'clock that night, near Silver Star.

There was considerable treasure on board, we understand, and this is what the robbers demanded, but John Featherston, the express messenger, responded by giving them the contents of a double barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot, which had a most salutary effect, causing a precipitous flight of the highwaymen, and the coach proceeded on its way to Morier's. At this station the passengers stopped over one day, unwilling, as we learn, to venture further in the same coach. The following is a list of the passengers aboard: A. McGregor, wife and child, Major Magnus and wife, and Mrs. A. M. Woolfolk and little daughter.
