

Albany Register.

LOCAL MATTERS.

O'Connor received 2 votes at Halsey, 6 at Harrisburg, 5 at Scio, 1 at Orleans and 7 at Albany—total, 21.

WEATHER RECORD.—For the month of October, kept by J. T. Smith:

Table with columns: Oct. Morn., N'n., N.P., Temp., Withr., W.d. Rows 1-31.

Mean temperature for the month, 54 degrees. Highest temperature on the 1st, 61; lowest on the 21, 23, 24, 26, 27 and 28, 47. Highest temperature during the month on the 9th, 80; lowest on the 21st, 27. Clear days, 19; cloudy, 6; showery, 4; raining, 2. Frosty mornings, 3. Wind north 19 days; northwest 1; south 5, southwest 6. Aurora night of the 17th.

THE ESCAPED NUN.—Edith O'Gorman, the escaped nun, delivers her startling lecture on "Life in a Convent," at Parrish Hall in this city, on Monday evening next—November 18. This talented lady has been lecturing to crowded and fashionable audiences in Portland and Salem, and is spoken of in the highest terms by the press of those cities. As the admission is but 50 cents, we expect to see the hall crowded on Monday evening. Read her card in this issue.

ENTERPRISE.—As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, our enterprising friend Wheeler, at Shedd, is paying cash for nearly all kinds of country produce. Judging from the well selected stock of goods, and the general appearance of thrift about his establishment, Wheeler must be enjoying the legitimate fruits of his sagacity, pluck, and fair dealing. Go and see him if you want to get your "moneys worth."

GOOD TEMPLAR'S ENTERTAINMENT.—The dramatic entertainment given by the Good Templars in their Hall in this city last Tuesday night, was largely attended, and gave very general satisfaction. The drama of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," so vivid in its representations of the various experiences in the life of the inebriate, was well performed in most of its characters. The audience seemed to regard the representation of the character of "Switchel" with the most favor. The songs rendered in character, by Messrs. Hart and Clement, were very good and amusing. "A Scene in an Albany Bar Room during the Fair," was fully up to Albany's best licks in that line, and possibly a little beyond. It was a splendid representation of a saloon row. The Barber Shop scene was funny, as the laughter all over the house indicated. The last act was a "side-splitter," a laugh-and-grow-fat-er, sure. We laugh yet. Give us more of 'em.

GLOSS.—Our old friend, B. C. Clark, writes us that he has changed his place of business, and that letters and papers will hereafter find him at Seattle, W. T. Says his fighting weight is 180, and that everything is lovely and the goose elevated.

SPLendid NEWS.—Here's a paragraph from a San Francisco market review of Nov. 5th:

"The produce market is rapidly improving, from causes we have frequently stated would effect this result. The supply of grain does not equal the demand. The agents of the Bank and Friedlander are scouring the country for lots in store at Stockton, deliverable within thirty days. It is the general belief that choice lots of wheat will command $2 within the current month."

We hope the above is reliable, and that the advance in price will reach this settlement at an early day.

$6 SUBSCRIBERS.—There are quite a number of gentlemen who proposed to pay us $6 for the present volume of the REGISTER, provided Grant should be re-elected President of the United States. As it is universally conceded that Grant has been successful, said $6 men are invited to call and "see us."

THANKSGIVING.—Gov. Grover has issued his proclamation, calling on the people of Oregon to observe Thursday, Nov. 23rd, as a day of thanksgiving and praise for the many blessings conferred upon them by the Great Author during the past twelvemonth.

CITY ELECTION.—The election for municipal officers, to serve the citizens of Albany for the year 1873, comes off on the 2d day of December next. We only charge $2 for announcing the names of candidates.

FUNERAL SERMON.—Of Elder J. Burkley will be preached, in the Baptist church, in this city, next Sunday, November 17th, by Dr. Hill.

No more credit in the newspaper business after January, 1873. All subscriptions that have not been prepaid on that date, will be stricken from the books. Take warning.

Money continues "tight," with little prospect of easement for some time to come.

D. Beach, Esq., was taken suddenly, and it was thought, dangerously ill, on Tuesday afternoon. He was reported as improving yesterday.

A good deal of unsteadiness was manifested by some of our oldest and most temperate citizens, on Thursday morning, some of them displaying an immense amount of agility in getting up off the sidewalk and replacing their beavers. All this unsteadiness was, of course, laid to the heavy sleet that fell during Wednesday night. Much of this kind of weather, and we shall adorn our pedals with "skates."

The late rains have swelled the volume of chuck in the Willamette.

In consequence of the general belief that the present is to be a cold, hard winter, our wood dealers have laid in more than double the usual supply of wood. Last winter the supply ran short.

W. R. Cannon has sold out his interest in the Albany and Corvallis stage line to a gentleman from the latter place.

People who don't wish to be warded out to work an extra day on the roads, should be careful how they sign petitions for opening new or changing old routes—that's all.

The illustrated poetry in this number of the REGISTER is gotten up specially for Sunday reading. The "moral" will be discovered when read.

Some frozen rain fell on Thursday—delightful weather for barnless or shedless stock!

We are greatly obliged to a kind friend for the present of a bushel of splendid apples; to another for some huge potatoes; to another for a fine lot of grapes. Many thanks, gentlemen; may you come often and never be troubled with corns.

We have the finest Washington Press in the world, for sale cheap. Also, a number of fine engravings on wood.

Very few, if any, unoccupied dwellings in the city. Good dwellings for rent in demand.

Dr. Linsey Hill was in the city on Monday.

Pork! pork! Messrs. Westlake & Simpson wish to buy pork. Go for 'em, you that have the arteekettle to sell.

Of all the sewing machines made, for beauty, simplicity, durability, elasticity, less complicity, strength and cheapness, those advertised in the REGISTER are doubtless the first patterns in the world or elsewhere. For special and particular features of excellence, examine those for sale by J. Farnsworth in the Register Building.

Mr. Hillabidel has now on hand several hundred gallons of the purest and best cider vinegar on the coast. It was manufactured by him at his place on First street, in this city.

The great loss of wool and woolen goods by the Boston fire, has advanced the price on such goods to a good figure.

Chas. Mealey, Pat. Farrel, Wallace Mauzey, and others, who went to the mountains last week, on a hunt, have doubtless enjoyed themselves much, as it has rained almost unceasingly, in the valley, since their departure.

A splendid lot of dried peaches at Blain, Young & Co's.

A new invoice of skates, for ladies and gentlemen, just received at W. H. Kuhn & Co's. They are just in time.

Lealers are paying 34c per dozen for eggs.

Fresh roll butter stiff at 30c per pound.

Wheat is legal tender at warehouses at 50c per bushel.

This city has expended about $3,000 during the year in repairing crosswalks, building cisterns, etc.

City election will soon be on hand—so will the candidates for office.

The Statesman says that McFadden, in the penitentiary from this county for incest, is in a state of mind bordering on insanity. He implored the physician to give him strichnine, the other day.

Furs, beautiful, cheap, and the very latest, at Blain, Young & Co's.

The Politician.

Letter from Emmasville.

EMMASVILLE, Nov. 10, 1872.

FRIEND VAN:—The election having passed off quietly, and everything settled back in their regular routine, I thought I'd pen you a line.

The men at work on the A. & S. Canal voted as follows: 9 for Grant, 3 for Greeley, and several bedrockers not voting.

We enjoy life here around our huge camp fires. We have erected our shanties with heavy timbers, setting plank upright, leaving space in the center of the roof for smoke to escape, consequently leaving our fire in open space. Our town grew finely for one day, 20,000 feet of lumber being used up in that space of time. Determined not to be behind the balance of the world in improvements, we are now booming the river, and have chartered one mill on the Santiam to saw lumber for the express purpose of having the one thing needful for improving our city Emmasville. We can hear distinctly the stroke of the large bell at Lebanon, and thought we heard Taylor lecturing—but they must come to us or they will not flourish.

The canal is progressing as rapidly as could be expected with such inclement weather as we have been having. So much rain has fallen as to retard the digging in the "deep cut" materially. Two weeks of good weather, however, would enable the contractor to go through it like a mice. After the canal is finished the finest kind of lumber can be floated to Albany, which alone would be of the greatest advantage to her, beside the additional interest of an almost unlimited water power which it would afford for the running of mills, etc.

Mr. Morris' contract is for 3,500 feet, which takes the canal to the edge of the prairie. The cutting averages twelve feet in depth, twenty feet wide at the bottom and sloped one by one. The cutting is all the way through timber, and some of the trees and old stumps that must be removed are worthy of mention for their size, one of them taking forty yards of dirt to undermine it, and three weeks steady work to get it clear for the plows. Work will be steadily pushed on the canal unless the heavy rains should cause the Santiam to overflow its banks. There is now 800 feet of the canal completed, and 1,250 feet dug a depth of eight feet.

Jase. Wheeler has a number of hands engaged in putting in a headgate at the mouth of the ditch.

More anon. M. B. A.
