

Albany Register.

U. S. Official Paper for Oregon.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 20, 1873.

Republican Candidate.

FOR CONGRESS,
HIRAM SMITH,
OF LINN.

Cholera prevails in France.

Losses by the recent Chicago fire $250,000.

Chas. Bradlaugh, the English agitator, has arrived in New York.

Earl Harwicke, Lord Lieutenant of Cambridgeshire, died in London on the 17th, aged 74.

Boss Tweed and niece arrived in San Francisco on the 15th, taking rooms at the Occidental.

The Marion County assessment roll exhibits a reduction in the amount of assessable property, amounting to $638,086.

The Government dredger is again at work at the mouth of the Willamette.

The telegraph still continues to issue appeals for the sufferers by yellow fever at Shreveport. The disease continues unabated, Shreveport being one grand hospital.

HAS HAD EXPERIENCE.—Olive Logan, we see it stated, doesn't believe that one married couple out of twenty have any love for each other. Olive has tried marriage pretty extensively and ought to know.

THE REASON WHY.—There are 212 churches and about 1,000 ministers in Chicago. And there are people in other parts of the country who wonder why Chicago is such a moral city.

On the recent voyage to New York of the steamship City of Brooklyn, a woman who was a steerage passenger, became insane from sickness, and threw her little boy four years old, overboard, then, with her baby in her arms, jumped into the sea. She was rescued, but the child was drowned.

Late English news is to the effect that heavy rains have swollen the streams, and caused an inundation of part of Forfarshire. A full freighted steamer sank in the Mersey, on the 16th, with all on board. A report was current that further changes in the Ministry would occur.

PLAIN TALK.—The Grangers are refreshingly plain in their resolutions. There is no machine ring about the following, passed by a farmers' meeting held at Clifton, Illinois:

Resolved, That we believe a thief should be called a thief, without regard to social or political standing, and we characterize the recent salary grab by our Congress and President as no better than a steal.

Nor is there any ambiguity in the following mottoes inscribed on the banners of the farmers who celebrated independence Day at Lanark, in Carroll county, Illinois:

"No more Republicans! No more Democrats! We want and must have honest men to fill our public positions."
"Salary grabbers, hunt your holes!"
"Salary of our Congressman, one hundred bushels of corn a day. Poor fellow."

An Iowa editor, recently, to keep up style, ran away with another man's wife. He did not get off so easily, however, as he imagined he would. The man followed him, and overtook the truant pair. The editor got behind the woman, and prepared to sell his life as dearly as possible. He was uncertain as to whether the outraged husband would shoot him or murder him with a carving-knife. He stood there, like the boy stood on the burning deck, and calmly awaited the result. The outraged husband came up to within two feet of the editor, and said: "Cuss your impudence, I want you to stop my paper," that was all. The editor recovered himself, and said he would have the matter attended to at once. During all this trying scene the woman stuck to the editor like a sand bar to a girl's stocking. Some people get mad and stop their paper for almost nothing. It rats all.

Inundation in Texas.

From New Orleans under date of Sept. 16th, we have news from Brownsville, Texas, stating that the Rio Grande has overflowed its banks for the first time since 1869, and that the country is inundated. There is three feet of water in the main plaza of the city of Camargo, and an almost unbroken sheet of water from Brownsville to the Gulf. The cotton crop is destroyed. The Rio Grande and Point Isabel Railroad track has washed away for over six miles, and almost the entire line is submerged and ruined. Poles of the Rio Grande Telegraph Company's line to Brazos are swept away. Mails are stopped, and stage communication with the Interior cut off.

A ONE-HORSE PROPHECY.—The Democrat asserted, not many months ago, that Greeley would carry Linn county by two or three hundred majority: Linn gave Grant a small majority. It now asserts that Hiram Smith will be overwhelmingly defeated—that he will not receive twenty votes in Albany precinct—next October! The little rogue might have said, with equal truth and show of common sense, that "Hiram Smith will get but one vote in this precinct—that of the pampered editor of the REGISTER, who is gorged with government printing, and dare not vote otherwise!"

A QUIET NEIGHBORHOOD.—Under the above heading the last issue of the New York Dispatch has the following: "The young ladies who promenaded the lower end of the Bowery were in better humor than usual Saturday evening. They did not have more than a dozen prize fights, but their language had its usual flavor of refinement."

THE BOOTH.—"Joseph," writing to the New York Dispatch, asking whether the elder Booth was an Israelite receives the following information which may be new to some readers:

No, Julius Brutus Booth was a native of St. Pancras, London. His father was an attorney, and intended him for the same profession. In his youth he was midshipman in the British navy, but soon left it for drawing and painting; afterward studied law, and then practiced sculpture. He was an accomplished linguist, speaking French, Spanish, Italian, German and Flemish, fluently. In his family he prohibited the use of animal food: animal life was sacred on his farm, and the trees were never felled by the ax. All forms of religion and all temples of devotion were sacred to him, and in passing churches he never failed to bare his head reverently.

Jefferson Davis, ex-President of a somewhat unfortunate Confederacy—who has heretofore conducted himself with commendable good sense—appears to have shown no slight degree of assiduity in a recent speech at White Sulphur Springs, in Virginia. He took occasion to assert that had the Southern people known what was to follow a surrender, they would never have been conquered, and also gloried in the fact that the women of the South would not be reconstructed, and hence there was hope that the children would grow up with the old principle in them. Should the children have as little sense as their fathers, and rush into another rebellion, the "old principle" would be walloped out of them very quick.

An English traveler reports having met Dr. Livingstone last June, and parted with him in July, in Central Africa. The Dr. was then in good health.

Forty-nine girls who attend cigar shops in Chicago were brought before the Judge the other morning. He said he could not see wherein they differed from their sisters of the street, and fined them all. Chicago cigar shops, with girls in them, are notoriously bad.

"TIME TRIES ALL THINGS," and has proven that Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is the remedy par excellence for the cure of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, asthma, phthisis, sore throat, influenza, and "last, not least," consumption. 2w

Missionaries and others sojourning in foreign lands should not fail to take with them a good supply of Johnson's Anodyne Linctus. It is the most reliable medicine for all purposes there is in the world.

Contagious diseases, such as horse ail, glander, &c., may be prevented by the use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Persons travelling with horses should take note of this.

ALBANY AND SANTIAM CANAL.

The Albany and Santiam Canal Company would respectfully call the attention of the public, and especially the Capitalist, and those desiring to engage in manufacturing, to their gigantic water power and water privilege. Sixteen thousand cubic feet constantly flowing every minute, equal to 800 horse power, with from 8 to 30 feet fall, sufficient for the most extensive machinery, with ground on which to erect the necessary buildings, etc. The Company deem it but proper that the public should know more fully the locality of this great water power, its facilities and surroundings, in order that those unacquainted may form some estimate of its value.

The city of Albany is the county-seat of Linn county, located on the southeast bank of the Willamette river, about 100 miles south of Portland, by river, and 80 miles by railroad; south of Salem 45 miles by river and 30 miles by railroad, and north of Eugene City 45 miles.

Albany is located in a prairie of the same name, which is the great agricultural center of the Willamette Valley, and it is believed that upward of 500,000 bushels of surplus wheat will be received at that point, the present season. The most of it will find its way to foreign markets, either by boats or railroad to Portland, and from thence upon the ocean. The Willamette river is navigated by beautiful steamers, carrying from 80 to 300 tons, running as far as Albany some ten months in the year. Also, the O. & C. R. R., with its beautiful locomotives, is passing through the city daily. The city of Albany is located upon a high, rolling prairie, with the Clalapaia, a beautiful creek, flowing into the Willamette river on the west, the water of which is used in driving two large flouring mills, situated on the bank of the Willamette river. The city is about one mile in length, running east and west, and from one-half to three-fourths of a mile in width, and is laid off with streets of good width.

The Canal, which is the subject and object of this communication, receives its waters from the South Santiam river, which heads in the great Cascade mountains, some 75 miles east of Albany; thence running westerly through a valley of the same name, to Lebanon, a village located near the west bank of said river, 13 miles east of Albany. The Canal receives the waters from the Santiam river at that point, thence running west to its terminus at Albany. The main Santiam flows northward, and empties its mountain waters into the Willamette river 10 miles northeast of Albany. The Canal is brought from Lebanon through a beautiful prairie for a distance of 12 miles, and empties into the Willamette river, forming on its way and in the city some of the finest water powers for manufacturing purposes found on the Pacific coast. There are but few, if any, points in the State which surpasses Albany now, for manufacturing facilities. Cheap water power and easy access, and convenient transportation, either by water or railroad, and the location beautiful and healthy.

The Canal Company offers liberal inducements to persons desiring to engage in the business of manufacturing, and will furnish water power upon the most reasonable terms. Manufacturing of all kinds is needed in Oregon, and could be made profitable. The Canal Company will agree to furnish, within sixty days, any water power needed, from a button factory to that of a locomotive.

Immigrants and others are earnestly invited and requested to visit Albany and examine for themselves. Real property can yet be procured on very reasonable terms, both in and out of the city. Our people compare favorably with the rest of mankind, morally, socially, politically and financially.
