MINING NEWS.—The latest news from the Stickeen country is excellent. The Stickeen river is open, and the ice running out in large quantities. Thirty companies are engaged in mining, making as high as ten ounces per day. In six or seven days, it was thought, the ice would all run out of the river. Everybody was in high spirits. Three steamers have been built especially to navigate the river from Wrangel to Buck's Bar, and probably are now making regular trips. The gold excitement is increasing instead of diminishing, and people are crowding to the new gold fields from ever quarter. Parties who have been talking of going from this place, are more than ever determined on the trip. To those who do go, we wish the very best of prosperity, and hope they will all secure $1,000 diggings. We have the fever som'at. Who wants to buy a print shop?

SCHOOL MEETING.—The school meeting for this district, called for last Saturday, met and adjourned to meet on Thursday, May 16th, to receive the report of the committee appointed to select suitable ground for a school building, and prepare plans for the erection of a suitable school house. Let there be a full attendance. When the cost of lot and building are ascertained, a tax levy will be made to raise the amount of money demanded.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—Else where in this issue, Mr. M. L. Carothers announces himself as a candidate for Justice of the Peace for Albany precinct. This gentleman has served very acceptably, we believe, the past two years, in the office. The only candidates really in the field for the office are Messrs. Jos. Hannon and M. L. Carothers.

Public Speaking.

Last Saturday afternoon the Court House was well filled by citizens, who had gathered there to listen to the speeches of the three candidates for Governor of Oregon. Grover led off in his usual manner. As he spoke entirely of himself and Gov. Watkins, and as the speech has become somewhat stale from oft repetition, we do not deem it worthy of a longer notice.

He was followed by J. C. Toleman, Republican candidate, who delivered one of the wittiest speeches probably ever heard in our Court House. It was full of humor, genuine wit, and sharp hits at both his opponents. Toleman surprised even his most ardent friends, and is making a very creditable canvass indeed, instead of being a total failure, as advertised by both the Democratic and Independent press. Let the truth be told though the heavens fall.

Rev. T. F. Campbell, Independent candidate, followed in an able, argumentative speech, of probably an hour and a half's duration, showing why he was an independent candidate, and the cause of the present anomalous condition of politics in Oregon. Mr. Campbell is a fine speaker, possesses first class abilities, and if elected will undoubtedly make a good and able Governor. The story that during the late rebellion Mr. Campbell took sides with the South against the Old Flag—in fact was a pronounced secessionist, is denied utterly by those who knew and respected him then. On the contrary, it is asserted on the best of evidence, that Mr. Campbell publicly asserted that secession would be suicidal in its effects on the Southern States, and for this course he was branded as a Union man. It is related further, that during the war, when the spirit of antagonism was highest against those who in the least upheld the spirit of rebellion, Mr. Campbell preached, while the stars and stripes floated proudly over his head, acceptably to large audiences composed of officers and soldiers of the Union army. We fail to see the necessity of making false statements with regard to the character or ability of either of the candidates for the Gubernatorial chair. Falsehoods are certain to react, and do the object at which they are aimed more good than harm.

THE SODA BUSINESS.—In the hands of A. Carothers & Co., is assuming huge proportions, and they will be compelled to add additional machinery to enable them to fill orders for the excellent article of soda manufactured by them. The soda manufactured by them can be had at nearly every village in this county and in the surrounding counties, their business extending as far south as Roseburg, the terminus of the O. & C. Railroad.

PARTED FOREVER.—We have received a beautiful piece of music, entitled as above, from the publishers, Shemman & Hyde, San Francisco. For the best and latest sheet music and musical works, instruments, etc., forward your orders to these gentlemen.

NEXT WEEK.—We shall publish the oration delivered by Rev. D. K. Nesbit at Hackleman's grove, near this city, the 27th of April, 1874. It is a masterly effort, and should have a wide circulation.

AN INCIDENT.—Some people, always looking to the main chance, make everything a matter of business. One of your practical fellows, a merchant of our city, the other day, was exceedingly anxious, apparently, to gamble on the result of the coming election, offering to bet the best suit of clothes in his store on his ticket. "All right," says Dr. Smith; "business is business; you put up your wares, I'll put up mine. I'll go you a full set of teeth, the very best, against your best suit of clothing, you agreeing to wear the teeth, lose or win, and I agreeing to wear the clothes." This was entirely too practical for our merchant, who is possessor of a good set of natural teeth, and he can't see "were he makes noddings by the sehwp."

READY FOR DELIVERY.—Mr. S. C. Adams will visit this city next Monday, bringing with him copies of his great Synchronological Chart, an illustrated panorama of the world's history, for delivery to those who favored him with their subscription some eighteen months ago. The Chart has received the highest recommendations from men of letters all over the United States, as well as from the press, and is certainly a great work. We have only space to say at this time to those who subscribed, don't fail to be here and secure the Chart—it is a complete history, and is a whole library in itself.

EFFECTS OF LIGHTNING.—The telegraph office at Gervais, below Salem, was set on fire by lightning on Monday. The papers, &c., in the office were consumed, and the building would have shared the same fate, had not the operator, who was absent when the mischief was done, came in just in time to save it. This is something unusual for Oregon.

ASTORIA EXCURSION.—The threesteamers, Grover, Willamette Chief and Beaver, will take part in carrying passengers to Astoria, starting on the 25th. The Beaver will start from Harrisburg at 9 A. M. on the 25th, the Chief from this city at 2 1/2 P. M., and the Grover from Salem on the arrival of the Beaver and Chief at that point. Tickets for the round trip, ten dollars.

THE CLIMAX STEAM WASHER.—Certainly stands at the head of all labor-saving machines for cleaning clothes; and the more you try it the better you like it. There is no rubbing necessary, therefore all the drudgery of washing is done away with. It is not expensive, and all can secure one—another recommendation. Read the card in another place in this issue.

NEW PAPERS.—From Salem we have the Daily Mercury; from Eugene City the Daily Journal—both gotten up in good style, and red hot, the first advocating the claims of the Democratic ticket, the last the Republican.

Friend Handy, of McMinnville, threw his elegant form into our front parlor yesterday. He proposed taking a run up to Eugene, or farther.

THANKS.—To Mrs. J. F. Backenst, for a beautiful bouquet, presented on Wednesday.

Markets show no change. No wheat offering.

PARAGRAPHLETS.

Baum is in the market, and wants to buy all the wool in the county.

Everybody goes the Independent ticket—it's a splendid selection.

Clay Kuhn is convalescing slowly but surely.

Edmond Cary, call and see us—it may be to your advantage.

The fruit prospect in this county is very fair.

A new awning is going up for A. Carothers & Co.

Weather cloudy, indicating more chuck.

The festive rat is getting pretty "numersome" and venturesome in this bailiwick.

Many of our Grangers are busy with the plow. Much seeding yet to be done.

Roads rapidly drying up under the influences of pleasant breezes and bright sunshine.

Mr. A. Hannon proposes to start for his home near Waitsburg, in a few days.

Dwelling houses never were in so great demand in this city as at the present writing.

A. C. Layton will commence the erection of a new residence as soon as lumber can be obtained.

"Flush times" are anxiously looked for and expected—when they come.

A. Carothers & Co. put up a large amount of fine ice last Winter.

We have an idea that the convention business is played out in this section for this season.

The storm of Monday tore down the telegraph line in every direction.

The appropriation for the improvement of the Upper Willamette is said to be $5,500—an immense sum to be sure.

The Court House was well filled on Saturday, the day on which the three candidates for Governor spoke their pieces.

Steamboats still vex the clear waters of the Willamette as far up as Corvallis—ten miles above this city.

We now have two houses where guns, ammunition, fishing tackle, etc., can be purchased, or firearms repaired.

Indications are that the crop of wild strawberries will be very abundant this season, and in easy reach of the city.

Miss A. V. Blain has a class in drawing, at the residence of her mother, corner of Third and Washington.

The happiest men we ever saw were those who received nominations at the Independent Convention last Saturday. Hoopee!

Receipts of the festival given for the benefit of Albany Collegiate Institute, Friday night of last week, at the Opera House, about $30. 'Twas a stormy night which prevented the attendance of many.

ROAD TAX.—About these times prepare for the road supervisors. They will go for you sure.

Three boys arrested yesterday morning for basting a Celestial.

MARRIED.

In this city, on the 5th inst., at the residence of J. C. Powell, Esq., by Rev. Isaiah Wilson, Mr. H. Weed and Miss A. J. Teeters—all of this city.

Compliments received. They started immediately for Portland, on the noon train, on a bridal trip. We wish them the fullest happiness.

New To-Day.

For Justice of the Peace.

Through the solicitation of many voters of Albany Precinct, I this day announce myself as a candidate for Justice of the Peace.

The New Patent Climax Steam Washer!

WILL DO THE WASHING FOR AN ordinary family in from thirty minutes to one hour!
Requires no attention while the process of cleaning is going on; much less soap than by the old process; the clothes requiring no rubbing. It is especially adapted to washing Lace Curtains and all fine Fabrics, and for Flannels is most desirable, as it will not frill them, as a Machine or hand-rubbing does.
For full particulars as to price, &c., call on the agent, ELLI BAZEL, at W. H. McFarland's store and tin store, First street, Albany, Oregon.
