GRANGE PICNIC.

Orleans, Shedd and Peoria Granges will hold a basket dinner picnic on Thursday, the 28 inst., at a grove a half a mile southeast of Willamette Church, in Orleans precinct.

D. M. Cook, Independent candidate for the State Senate, has withdrawn from the canvass.

In a card to the Granger he says: While I should be glad to see the people triumph over all manner of corrupt Political Rings, I do not believe I can aid them in that direction by remaining a candidate.

On Monday a number of Post-landers passed this city on a special train, enroute for Oakland.

It is the season of the year when those who can afford it are fleeing to the shady groves, and clear, cold waters, to be found in the interior of the State, for health and pleasure.

Hanser & Co. are selling vast quantities of goods these days.

They have a first rate assortment, well at the very lowest rates, and are accommodating and liberal with their terms, and therefore are hardily to be outdone in the present. "Patrons" their goods.

SCHOOL HOUSE AND HALL.

School District No. 19 and Knox Bute Grange intend erecting a new building for school and Grange purposes, at Knox's bute, about four miles east of this city. The building will be 24x48 feet, two stories high. The lower story will be used by the district for school purposes, and the upper story by the Grange as a hall. It will be a neat, comfortable, durable edifice, of which the community may well feel proud.

Some of the new comers to our city, rumor has it, have been attacked by small pox since their arrival here. When it first broke out, the disease was pronounced measles. The disease was contracted on the steamer from San Francisco to Portland. So far we have been unable to trace the report up. If the report be true, and it is really small pox, the city authorities should take immediate steps to prevent its spread.

N. BAUM Wants 200,000 lbs. of good WOOL, and will pay the highest market price for it.

Pays 15c for eggs, 15 to 20c for butter, $1 37 1/2 for lard in 10lb. cans, and for all other produce the highest market price. He has the largest stock of goods, and sells them cheaper than any house in the city. Call and see for yourself. In Cheadle's brick building, First street.

DIRECTORS ELECTED.

On Tuesday the following named gentlemen were elected Directors of the Farmers' Company for the new year: G. F. Crawford, F. Froman, A. Wheelton, M. H. Wilds, G. W. Vernon, John Huston and G. F. Simpson.

The two Howards, brothers, were arrested at Junction last week, and taken to Eugene, on charge, one of bigamy and the other for seduction. The first was discharged; the second, charged with seduction, was held to appear in the sum of $1,000.

Alex. Purdom, late one of our boys, left for Roseburg on Thursday, to join the company in charge of Supt. Plummer now engaged in repairing the Western Union telegraph line. Good fortune and health attend him.

The Indians at their rancherie in the eastern suburbs of the city, howled and danced Sunday afternoon and nearly all of Sunday night. It must have been a sweating time among the Abergwines.

The Temperance picnic at Roberts' bridge, about ten miles south of this city, on the Calipoola, was largely attended. It was a gay and festive occasion.

Work on the Canal is being prosecuted with vigor—on that portion running through the eastern part of the city. At present "licks" it will soon be completed.

This is getting to be a thundering country—several very heavy peals having disturbed the air on Tuesday.

Strawberry parties are now the rage. The fruit is very plentiful in almost any direction from the city.

New dwellings are springing up in every direction, keeping our streets busy.

JUDGES OF ELECTION.

In some unaccountable manner, in printing the list of Judges of election last week, we omitted several precincts. We print the full list this morning:

THE REPUBLIC.

We again take occasion to commend this magazine to the attention of our readers. In dealing with the present political and economic questions of the day, the Republic is practical, fair, and thorough, and its statements can be implicitly relied upon. The last number of this valuable magazine is more than usually attractive, discussing leading topics, such as the "political situation," "cheap transportation," "southern war claims," etc., in a vigorous and straightforward manner. Every citizen who feels an interest (and who does not?) in the practical questions of the day, and in governmental affairs, should subscribe for and read this magazine. Published at Washington, D. C., at $2 per year.

Wood's Household Magazine, for May, has an abundance of excellent reading. There is the real go-ahead snap to this periodical which entitles it to much credit, and we cannot name one that will afford an equal amount of entertainment and instruction for so little money. The number before us contains among other articles a paper entitled "Poor Jack," by F. W. Holland, in the interest of seamen; "The Child in the Church," by Mary Hartwell; "Kin and Kad," by H. V. Osborne; "Dumb Days," by Caroline B. LeRow, and "some good poetry. There are several illustrated articles, the New York Fashion, Architectural Designs, &c., &c. The illustration on Decoration Day is just the thing. Price of Magazine $1 per year. Address, Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, N. Y.

Picnicing is to be the fashion this season, and quite a number have already been "interlined" for the summer.

Election tickets will be ready for distribution next Saturday. Let each precinct make provision to obtain tickets at this office on that day.

A lumber yard is to be established in this city by an outside milling firm. It's a good idea, and will pay.

Morris & Parker's new warehouse is progressing favorably. It will be a splendid building when completed.

GAY AND FESTIVE.

We were privileged to attend the solemnization of a wedding ceremony on Wednesday, the contracting parties being Mr. Charles Bourgardes, of Titus, Bourgardes & Co., jewelers of this city, and Miss Mary Willet, daughter of Mrs. Prator, who resides in the vicinity of Shedd—about fifteen miles south of this city. There was a large number of the relatives, neighbors and friends of the bride and groom in attendance. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. G. Irvine, of the U. P. Church, and he did his work well, and we can recommend him as one who thoroughly understands how to do it gracefully, elegantly, and most expeditiously. Immediately after the ceremony came the wedding dinner—and such a wedding dinner! To describe it would be simply impossible. Suffice it that the table was loaded with good things, turkeys, chickens, ham, pies, cakes, preserves, jellies, etc., etc., all showing a master hand in the preparation and cooking. We never saw a happier lot of people around a festive board than were gathered under the hospitable roof of Mrs. Prator on that occasion. Our experience is that there is nothing that will bring out the good qualities of people and make them contented and happy, in such an inconceivably short space of time, as good victuals well and thoroughly cooked. Its only once or twice in a life-time that a common man gets to sit down to such a feast, and the bare recollection of it in after years is a "big thing." Mrs. P. may well be proud of that dinner—it can not be excelled, its praise was in everybody's mouth. We have come near forgetting the cause of all this liberal expenditure of time and money—the bride and groom. A finer looking couple we have rarely seen—he with his broad shoulders, deep chest, good square features, and an honest, manly look out of his dark blue eyes, and she, with her faultless form and handsome face, both elegantly but not gaudily attired, made a picture of health and happiness long to be remembered by all in attendance. If the most fervent wishes of a large circle of warm friends can avail them, not a care or sorrow will ever cross their pathway through life to cause them one moment of pain.

The Odd Fellows are beginning to talk of a railroad excursion out south, to transpire probably in August. We're on it, you bet you.

INSANE.—J. M. McConnell, adjudged insane, was forwarded to the Asylum on Tuesday.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Eagle Woolen Mills, Brownsville.

The city was full of farmers on Tuesday. Whenever the Grangers come to town business is lively.

Election tickets have already made their appearance. Election day is close at hand.
