How to do up SHIRT-BOSOMS.

—Take 2 table-spoonfuls of best starch, add a very little water to it, rub and stir with a spoon into a thick paste carefully breaking all the lumps and particles. Add a pint of boiling water, stirring at the same time; boil half an hour, stirring it occasionally to keep from burning. Add a piece of starch polish the size of a large pea; if it is not at hand use a table-spoonful of gum arabic solution (made by pouring boiling water upon gum-arabic and standing until clear and transparent), or a piece of clean mutton tallow half the size of a nutmeg and a teaspoonful of salt will do, but it is not so good. Strain the starch through a strainer or a piece of thin muslin. Have the shirts turned wrong side out; dip the bosoms carefully in the starch and squeeze out, repeating the operation until the bosoms are thoroughly and evenly saturated with starch; proceed to dry. Three hours before ironing dip the bosoms in clean water; wring out and roll up tightly. First iron the back by folding lengthwise through the center; next iron the wristbands, and both sides of the sleeves; then the collar-band; now place the bosom-board under the bosom, and with a dampened napkin rub the bosom from the top towards the bottom, smoothing and arranging each plait neatly. With a smooth moderately hot flat-iron, begin at the top and iron downwards continuing the operation until the bosom is perfectly dry and shining. Remove the bosom-board, and iron the front of the shirt. If the irons become rough or smoky, lay a little fine salt on a flat surface and rub them well; it will prevent them from sticking to anything starched, and make them smooth.

CHEAP AND EXCELLENT CANDLES.

—A correspondent of the New England Farmer says: "I have tried the following recipe twice, and find it all that it is cracked up to be. I have no doubt that it would have been worth more than $20 to me if I had known it twenty years ago. Most farmers have a surplus of stale fat and dirty grease which can be made into good candles at a trifling expense. I kept both tallow and lard candles all through the last summer, the lard candles enduring the heat the best and burning quite as well, and giving as good light as the tallow ones. For 12 pounds of lard take 1 of saltpeter and 1 pound of alum, dissolve the alum and saltpeter in a gill of boiling water, pour the compound into the lard before it is melted, stir the whole until it boils, skim off what rises; let it simmer until the water is all boiled out or until it ceases to throw off steam, pour off the lard as soon as it is done, and clean the boiler while it is hot. If the candles are to be molded, you may commence immediately, if to be dipped, let the lard cool first to a cake, and then treat same as you would tallow."

WEAR AND TEAR ON THE LINE.

—Through the thoughtlessness and carelessness of housewives, says a lady in the Ohio Farmer, many linesful of cloths are worn out more while drying two or three days, than they would be in the honest wear of two or three months. How the vicious winds do whip and slash and snap and crack those good sheets and shirts and table cloths that I see from my window! No honest wear is ever going to make one's garments cut up such antics as does this angry gale! And yet there they hang, twisted and twirled and writhing and wearing out, through very carelessness. Good material is worth making up well and then worth the preserving. Calico dresses should never be trazed if it can be prevented; wring them well and hang them in a room through which a stovepipe runs. If you have a spare upper chamber or any old house or shed it is better to hang clothes in than to put them out for an indefinite time to battle with the elements. I always feel uncomfortable if I have a washing out on the line and the weather is unfavorable—about as much as though I had lost my garters or broken my shoe-laces.

MOONSHINES.

—To make "moonshines," or wine cakes, roll a coffee cup of pale yellow sugar, and put in a bowl, then add the yolks of 6 eggs and a pinch of salt, beat well and pour into the flour tray, and work into a soft dough; roll very thin, and cut out with a large tumbler; drop into a trying pan of hot lard, and cook quickly. When done, sift white sugar over them.

DURABLE-STOVE-BLACKING.

—By adding a teaspoonful of pulverized alum to half a package of good stove-polish, wet up with a little water, much time and labor will be saved, as a stove polished with this mixture will remain bright a long time. It should be applied when the stove is nearly cold, and with a dry brush rubbed until it is dry and shining.

COLEMAN'S

No better evidence of the efficacy of

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound

Extract of Eucalyptus can be desired, than the following summary of cases, treated with this remedy alone, by that eminent physician, Dr. D. V. W. ST. J. in the U. S.

Marine Hospital, San Francisco, reported in the Annals, No. 1873, Proc. Ac. Med. Journal.

Completely corroborative of the above,

are the reports of the experiments with

Eucalyptus by Dr. Lorrimer, of Berlin,

Prussia, and Dr. Keele, Chief Physician of the Austrian Railway Co., published in the Am. M. Jour. July, 1872.

It will be found very efficacious in obstinate cases of Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Hacking Cough, Chronic Sore Throat, Lencor-rhoea, etc., and in nausea during pregnancy.

Dr. Coleman's Double

Extract of Eucalyptus is a special preparation for the treatment of

FEVER, and AGUE,

and is warranted to
