U. S. Official Paper for Oregon. SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1874.

Elko, Nevada, is troubled with small-pox patients.

A treaty has been made between Mexico and Italy for extradition of criminals.

From Rome on the 4th inst., we learn that the Pope is somewhat better.

It is now thought that no action will be had in Delegate Cannon's case until next session of Congress.

The physicians at Victoria demand $50 a day for attendance on the pest house, and refuse at that figure to assume charge unless a month's pay is assured.

On Wednesday night of last week, at Belmont, Nevada, McIntyre and Walker were strung up by the Vigilantes. Both men were desperadoes.

Tim Davenport is surveyor for the contemplated wagon road across the Cascade mountains by the Santiam pass discovered last season by John Minto. The party will consist of sixteen men, will commence work at once, and will be engaged about one month.

Luttrell, of California, is still going after the Pacific Railroad Company and the Contract and Finance Company. He made an argument before the House Committee on Pacific Railroads on the 5th, but the Committee adjourned without intimating what action will be taken.

In the United States Circuit Court at Madison, Wisconsin, on the 4th, an application was made for an injunction to restrain the Wisconsin Attorney-General and Railroad Commissioners from enforcing the law regulating railroads which was passed at the last session of the Legislature of that State. The argument will probably be had in a week or two. We suppose we shall soon know, by authority, whether the Wisconsin Railroad Law is good or bad law.

A correspondent writing from Detroit, Michigan, says the great Zack Chandler has actually joined the crusaders, and is taking part with the praying bands of women in Detroit, and aiding to put down the whisky business. "As long as the lamp holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may return."

Whiteside County Council, Illinois, proposes to go into the manufacturing business—capital stock $100,000, shares $24 each. All Granges taking stock are to order implements direct, thus saving agency and advertising expenses. They have a $30,000 site, three acres in extent, on Rock river, with 1,500 inches of water, all of which was a present to the Council.

The U. S. Senate has passed the bill releasing the Northern Pacific Railroad Company from the requirement to pay cost of surveying lands granted by Government.

It is said the Democrats of Tillamook county refused to vote for Grover because he received the Tillamook River Wagon Road.

Jay Gould is reported to be going after the Erie Railroad again.

T. Morrisey, living near Exeter, N. H., murdered his wife on the 4th, while in a drunken fit.

The Ohio Democratic State Convention is not to be held until the 26th of August.

M. Hoffman, of Washington county, has been sent to the Penitentiary one year for embezzlement.

The iron works at Oswego are getting ready to turn out iron in vast quantities—over 100 coal pits have been put in and fired.

A well known real estate dealer of Detroit, Michigan, John McDermott, suicided on the 6th. Prussic acid caught him.

Heuri Rochfort appeared as a lecturer before a slim audience, in the Academy of Music in New York, on the 5th.

Rich placer mines are reported about thirty miles below Iopa, California. A rush has set in for the new Eldorado.

The U. S. steamer Suardara, with a scientific party detailed to observe the transit of Venus, sailed from New York on the 7th.

The extensive woolen mill at Los Gatos, California, was burned on the 6th. Loss $15,000 to $20,000 over insurance.

Affairs in Cuba are reported as bad. The Captain General is apparently still determined to push the war against the insurgents. When will the cruel war be over!

The House Postal Committee has agreed to report a bill providing for the free delivery to regular subscribers of papers published in the county. Newspaper "exchanges" are to pass through the mails free.

John McDermott, a saloon keeper of Jeffersonville, Ind., who was constantly under the influence of liquor, went to his mother-in-law's, where his wife was staying, having left him because of constant ill treatment, and asked his wife to return home. He returned shortly after with a navy revolver and shot at his wife who was nursing a babe. The ball struck the babe in the back of the head, going through it and into the breast of the mother, killing the babe and probably fatally wounding its mother. This happened last Monday.

A. J. Dufer writes to the Oregonian, from Chicago, saying to the farmers of Oregon and Washington Territory that he feels safe in assuring them that they will receive a fair compensation for all their surplus hams, bacon and lard another year. There are several causes for this, among which may be mentioned the new arrangements of railroad tariff rates to Chicago. Under these new rates corn now brings forty-five to sixty cents per bushel, while under the old rates of tariff it commanded but from eleven to seventeen cents per bushel. This being the case, the corn is being shipped to market, instead of being fed to hogs, used as fuel or left lying in the crib. The deficiency in the pork market of Chicago up to June was 35,000 barrels. The deficiency in other markets is also great, therefore it is believed pork will be in such demand that it will pay to ship it from Oregon.

Hermits are becoming common. The latest has been discovered in Ohio. He resides in a hut made of two poles planted about six feet apart, on which are suspended cross-poles. The space inside is inclosed with wide strips of bark. The name of this interesting party is Sprigg, but whether his father's name was Shillelah is unknown. He is a native of "Vermont," aged thirty-five, and came to Paulding Center about two years and a half ago. He entered 160 acres of land, and squatted, with the idea of remaining five years. His hair, which is dark, extends to his waist, and such a coating of dirt covers his face that it is impossible to distinguish his features. His clothing has not been changed since he left Vermont, his shirt resembling the cloth of an Egyptian mummy, and his coat being of that pattern usually attributed to Joseph. Altogether he is a most disgusting specimen. He eats parched corn and scraps of meat; has three horses and sixteen head of cattle. He is a man of some education, and holds on to his log, his bark shanty, his dirty clothes, and his 160 acres of land, with the tenacity of a leech which has not tasted anything but water for ten years.

CONSUMPTION CURABLE.—Dr. Wm. Koch, of Berlin, well-known from his long investigations in the domain of modern surgery, and from his treatise on shot-gun fractures, has discovered a new method of treatment for consumption. It consists in healing up the affected portions of the lungs by injections of iodine, so as to check the process of festering, which is the origin of the disease. The treatment has been tested in the great hospitals of Berlin within a short time, among others at the Royal Charity, in the presence of the most eminent surgeons. All the reports of the cases in which this treatment has been administered are favorable, and hold out a promise of a complete cure. For many years Dr. Koch has tried the experiment with animals, having tested it with more than three hundred, at a vast outlay of time and money.

INHERITANCE OF APPETITE FOR ALCOHOL.—A striking instance of the kind has been recently brought to our knowledge. A lady, wife of the Mayor of an Atlantic city, was a confirmed inebriate, and in spite of the most assiduous efforts made by her husband and others to restrain her, continued to drink until her life fell a sacrifice to the indulgence. Her grandmothers were intemperate, and they both died of drunkenness. Several of her brothers were inebriates. She had a child, a daughter, who exhibited in childhood a marked appetite for strong drink, and who drank to intoxication whenever she had the opportunity. This child died at the age of six years. During her brief life she was known to have been repeatedly drunk. So inveterate was her appetite for liquor that she resorted to the most cunning tricks in order to procure it—tricks such as would do credit to the ingenuity of an adult.—Pacific Medical and Surgical Journal.

A colony of 40 Irish families recently passed through Omaha bound for Hall county, Neb., and they reported 150 more families en route. Oregon offers a better home for emigrants than Nebraska, yet no efforts are made to secure emigration in this direction.

On the glorious fourth, all the Grangers of Washington and adjoining counties will give a grand picnic at Hillsboro. Everybody and his mother-in-law are invited.

Ministers of the interior—The cook and the doctor.
