To District Clerks. ALBANY, Oct. 21st, 1874. The Clerks of the various school districts in the county of Linn will take notice that I have this day made an appropriation of all the school funds on hand subject to my orders, amounting to the sum of $10,000.

The distribution made, is this county's pro rata of the funds arising from the interest on the bonded debt of the State, and amounts in the aggregate to the sum of $10,000.

The Clerks will please call on me for their orders, at J. W. Babin's law office, in the Pariah brick over the Post Office, in Albany, Oct. 21st, 1874.

PARAGRAPHETS. Wheat 57 cents per bushel. Look out for the circus about Fair time.

Miss Sparks, of Portland, came up the first of the week. The price of wheat was down to 58 cents in this market on Monday.

Mr. Belding and family have returned from California, to stay. Wm. L. Hill, Esq., of the Oregonian, was in the city Monday.

Take a look at that nice clothing at S. E. Young's. The Anniversary near Lebanon last Sunday was largely attended.

W. H. Doid is to be Chief Crier at Judge Baber's sale, next Friday. No change to notice in the markets this week. Butter 25 1/2; eggs 20c.

Harry Kuhn is happy again, since Monday. It's a girl. A load of tow was brought into the city and sold on Tuesday, by the Williamson Brothers.

A runaway on Monday, from the Farmers' Warehouse, kicked up some dust, but done no material damage. Our Foreman, Ed. Gavlin, has gone to Jefferson on a recruiting expedition.

Miss Della Haight, we are sorry to learn is still very low, with little hope of an early recovery. Pat. Farrell, recently burned out at Lebanon, has moved his family to this city. Welcome home.

Mrs. McChing is in very poor health, and she talks of a trip to the Islands for her benefit. Mrs. Hamer, Mrs. Eli Carter and Mrs. L. E. Blain are at present tarrying in Salem, visiting.

Mrs. Anna Jones has been confined to her room for some days with heart disease, and is still very feeble. Monday being the Jewish day of Atonement, several of our business houses were closed.

John Farrell, having sold his possessions in W. T., returned to this city last week. Dr. Phinney's new drug store on First street is nearing completion, and Messrs. Geo. Young and Enoch Sloan have made a good job of it.

Rumor has it that freight on the railroad from this city to Portland is to be reduced to ten cents per bushel on wheat. Good, if true. Grand Patriarch Isaacs, of California, gave us a call on Monday. We are inclined to think he is the right man in the right place.

Harry Wolf went below on Tuesday. He contemplates moving to East Portland. He will have friends wherever he goes. The finest flavored tomatoes we have had upon our table this season, came from the garden of Mrs. Wm. Ralston. They were delicious.

We make our bow to Mr. C. P. Babin, President of the State Agricultural Society, for a complimentary ticket to that same. S. H. Claughton, P. M., has opened a brand new postoffice under the Old Fellows Hall, Main street, Lebanon. Next Friday Judge Baber will sell at auction valuable personal property. Read the advertisement on 4th page of this paper.

The Estey organs are highly spoken of by first-class musicians. Rev. I. Wilson is agent for their sale in this city. W. H. Doid & Co. have a number of new wagons on hand, and one of the prettiest little express wagons in the county—all for sale at low figures.

Jim Titus sold six "Singers" in Benton county, the first four days of last week. The demand for the Singer increases daily. Bishop Pierce, of the M. E. Church South, preached in the Congregational church last Friday evening. The sermon was well received. The commencing near Lebanon, which commenced last Friday, under the auspices of the Cumberland Presbyterians, was fairly attended.

There was no change of landlord's in the St. Charles Hotel last week, as one of the parties backed down. Charley Wilson, at Webfoot Market, had upon the block, the first of the week, the carcasses of the first month lamb sheep of the season. It was rich and juicy. Mr. Hindman informed us that another week will be had in the vicinity of his ranch, near Camp Folk, only about one hundred miles from this city.

In Memoriam.—In the House, on Tuesday, Mr. Stannard introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted: WHEREAS, The Hon. N. H. Cranor, a member of this House during the session of 1872, has an illness, Providence has removed from our midst by death, therefore, in token of respect for his memory.

Resolved, That in his decease the State has lost an able representative and the community a good citizen. Resolved, That we devoutly sympathize with his afflicted family in their great bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolutions, certified by the Clerk, be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and also placed upon the Journal of this House. Resolved, That in token of the esteem in which we hold his memory this House do now adjourn until 9 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

NOTICE.—The Linn County Council of the Patrons of Husbandry will meet on Tuesday, the 6th day of October, in the city of Albany. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance will have to be transacted. W. F. ALEXANDER, President.

A dozen or twenty new dwelling would find immediate occupants. The creation of a number of cosy residences would pay, and a small capital would do it.

Mart. Paine and wife expect to start for California early next month. Mrs. Paine's health is not good, and a change of climate it is hoped will prove beneficial.

Fred. Hill's child died, after a short illness, on Saturday, and was buried Sunday afternoon. A large concourse of citizens were in attendance at the funeral.

Wm. Gird started on Tuesday for the Washington County Fair at Hillsboro, taking with him several horses. William will make it lively for the Washington county horses.

One thousand dollars is quite a pile of money, but Titus, Bourgeois & Co. offer to put that amount up on the "Singer." Read the card at the head of their column this morning.

That pet deer, lately owned by Harry Wolf, was put up at raffle on Saturday night, and W. C. Twedale was the lucky man. Thirty-six got away with it.

There are still plenty of antelope in the region about Camp Polk, about one hundred miles from this city, out on the Willamette Valley & Cascade Mountain Wagon Road.

Dr. G. A. Whitney has resigned his position as physician at the Siletz Indian Agency, to take effect the first of October, when he will take up his residence in this city.

Mr. Geo. C. Howard, traveling agent for J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., called on Tuesday. Mr. Howard is a gentleman with whom it is a pleasure to do business.

Preparations for the coming County Fair are commencing in earnest. The time is short, but sufficient to enable each to get something ready to exhibit on that occasion.

The Old Fellows of Brownsville dedicate their fine Hall on the 20th of next month, when a grand old time will be had. A large attendance may be expected from this city.

Freddie Wayne, the only child of Fred and Julia Hill, who died last week, was five weeks and five days old. It was a cruel blow, and the mother of the beautiful babe is nearly broken hearted with grief.

The talk of building a new hotel in a central location is getting stronger and stronger, as the necessity for such an institution becomes more and more apparent. Our hotel accommodations do not begin to supply the demand.

Charles Menley and his son George last week struck out for Black Butte, or that vicinity, where he intends trying the virtue of farming. Success, old boy.

Mr. S. M. W. Hindman, of Camp Polk, came in last Friday, in quest of the usual Fall supplies, bringing in a few of those huge trunks for which the soil in that region is famed for growing.

On Saturday night some one broke into the little room used for an office at John Hurd's saw mill. This is the second or third time a thief or thieves have gone through the office, and it's getting to be an old thing.

Daniel Miller, late of Tangent, left Oregon last week for the Eastern States, never to return. As he is alone in the world and has plenty of coin, he will probably spend the remainder of his days traveling—seeing the world.

At the dedication of the new M. E. Church South at Tangent, on Sunday, the balance due on the cost of erecting the building, some $700, was subscribed. The dedication sermon is highly spoken of. There was a large audience in attendance.

Last Friday S. E. Blain bought the interest of Mr. Newby in the fine warehouse near the railroad depot. Blain & Sox now own the house, and Mr. Terrell is chief clerk. They are prepared to store an immense quantity of grain, in stacks.

The rates are against us, and we are not prepared, as we supposed we would be, to issue our blanket sheet—just double the present size. A few weeks must yet elapse and then we shall fulfill our promise to the letter. Have patience.

Money is very tight indeed, and we hear the complaint on every side. "I can't collect money enough to keep up running expenses." Of course, when others find it difficult to keep even, for the last debt to be paid is his.

The little son of John Humphrey, who lives a short distance from this city, Sunday morning last, fell with his open left hand upon the stove, burning the hand cruelly. The little fellow is but fifteen months old. The burn extends over the entire inside of the hand, and is very painful.

Among the newly elected officers of the State Grange we notice that Linn county comes in for her share of the honors. Mrs. M. A. Powers, of Shedd, was elected Pomona, and Mrs. Jane Cyrus, Ceres—both excellent selections. Wm. Cyrus was chosen Overseer, and John H. Smith re-elected Secretary.

Mr. McChing has left in our possession a little memorandum book, picked up by him on the road between this city and his farm, which is valuable to the owner. It contains two wheat receipts to J. Davis, from the Farmers' warehouse. The owner can get it by calling at this office.

When Bill Gird started for Washington county on Tuesday morning, his caravan of horses, wagon, buggy, sulky, etc., almost blocked up First street, and a large number of people gathered at the corner of Ferry and First to see him off. Bill's outfit will make a pretty good Fair of itself.

One of the oldest buildings in the city, and probably one of the best, the large two-story frame on the corner of Washington and Second, owned by Mr. Walter Monteth, around which cluster so many recollections of the early settlement of Albany, has been raised two or three feet from the ground, a neat brick wall built under it, and other improvements made, rendering it attractive externally, and the internal arrangements much more convenient. With a new fence and a coat or two of paint, it will be one of the most elegant buildings in the city.

On Tuesday, as Mr. John Crawford was driving "Put Smith" out on the Fair Ground track, the horse suddenly jumped to one side, apparently to attack another horse, upsetting the buggy or skeleton wagon to which he was attached, throwing John Crawford violently to the ground, injuring his shoulder considerably and otherwise jarring him, and smashing the vehicle to the extent of a hundred dollars or more. After doing this much damage, the horse stood still until spoken to, when he came back to where Mr. Crawford stood. Mr. C. was out again the next day, his only complaint being that his shoulder was somewhat stiff.

Grand Worthy Chief Patriarch, Samuel Isaacs, made an official visit to Orgeana Encampment, I.O.O.F., of this city on Monday evening. It was a very pleasant occasion, and all were pleased and greatly benefited by the visit. Uncle Sam is none of your little dried up mummies, but weighs two hundred and sixty-five pounds, with scarcely an ounce of superfluous flesh, and strengthened by years of honest toil at forge and bellows. He is a genial, whole-souled, large hearted prince, and his visit will prove of untold benefit to the Order in this State. The best wishes of all go with him on his journey.

McClain's street sprinkler came out Monday morning gorgeous with fresh painted invitations to go to Baum's for clothing, dry goods, groceries, etc. A number of the merchants on First street objected to Baum's monopoly of the sprinkling wagon so long as their money helped run it, and ordered a reconstruction or they would discontinue their weekly installments of coin. Baum being informed of how matters stood agreed not only to pay the amounts subscribed by those refusing to pay, but bound himself to give Mc. a new suit of clothes, provided he would continue through the season to sprinkle the streets with the newly painted sign-wagon. But the counter-very became too hot for Mc. and he trundled his wagon up to the paint-shop, and had it painted a gorgeous dun colored bridle—and once more peace reigned.

The Legislature has gone to work apparently in earnest, judging from the number of bills introduced in the two houses. Repealing bills have been introduced, which, if they become laws, will undo about all the work of that body two years ago. Among them we notice a bill to repeal the Litigant Act, to abolish the late Session of the Commissioner of State Lands for La Grande district; to repeal the game law; to repeal the law creating a State Board of Equalization; to repeal the law providing for the payment of the traveling expenses of the Supreme Judges, etc. Bills have been introduced providing for the abolishment of the grand jury system; to amend the mechanics lien law; to provide for the payment of claims arising out of the Modoc war; to amend the Code in relation to practice in the courts; to amend the road law; to provide for the payment of bounties on the scalps of wild animals; to provide for the disorganization of Tillamook county; to provide salaries for clerks and sheriffs, instead of fees as now paid; to amend the act for protecting game and fish; providing that the Legislative Assembly shall meet on the second Monday in October, 1875, and on the same day every second year thereafter; to exempt a homestead from forced sale in certain cases. Also a bill, introduced in the House on Monday, was read a second time and referred to the Judiciary Committee, to repeal the act of 1872, providing for clerical aid in the office of Secretary of State. A bill has also been introduced repealing the act creating an Assistant State Treasurer. Retrenchment is the watchword of the hour, and all parties seem to be striving to fulfill the promises made in the last canvass.

Official Vote for Governor, Etc. On Thursday, the 17th, the two Houses of the Oregon Legislature went into Joint Convention at half past one o'clock P. M. Governor Grover and the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the State were in attendance. President Cochran took the Chair. The Secretary of State produced the vote for Governor as returned from the different counties, and it was opened by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. The vote was here announced as follows:

OFFICIAL VOTE FOR GOVERNOR. Grover, 7,113; For Campbell, 6,532; Grover's plurality over Campbell, 550; Tolman's plurality over Campbell, 973.

The Speaker announced the total vote as follows: For Grover, 7,113; for Tolman, 9,713; for Campbell, 6,532; Grover's plurality over Tolman, 550; Tolman's plurality over Campbell, 973.

He then said: "I, John C. Drain, Speaker of the House of Representatives, in the Eighth Biennial Session of the Oregon Legislature, do declare L. F. Grover elected Governor of Oregon for the next four years, dating from the date of his inauguration."

The President of the Senate then arose and said: "According to an arrangement made by a Joint Committee appointed for that purpose, the Convention will proceed from here to the Opera House, where the oath of office will be administered to the Governor-elect, and where His Excellency will lay before the Convention such message as he may desire to communicate."

The Convention thereupon adjourned to the Opera House, where there was a large number of the general public in waiting. The President called the Convention to order. Bishop Pierce offered up prayer. Chief Justice Bonham then administered the oath of office to the Governor-elect, after which the President of the Senate introduced Governor Grover to the Convention, who then addressed the Convention.

After hearing the message the Convention adjourned sine die. In the House on the 21st, the Committee on Elections reported on the case of Bart Curt v. Gilbert Reynolds, contestants for seats in that body from Grant county, that it was the unanimous opinion of the Committee that Bart Curt was duly elected; a Representative from Grant county, and entitled to the seat occupied by him. The House sustained the report of the committee, and Bart Curt's troubles are over.

A bill has been introduced in the Senate repealing the law providing for the office of State Geologist. There are to-day a great many worse laws upon our statute books, and instead of repealing the law, it should be continued, and a fair salary attached to it, which would enable such officer to be of vast benefit to the State.

Mr. Beecher preached his last sermon for the season at Twin mountain, N. H., last Sunday, his text being from the 1st verse of the 13th chapter of Matthew. He was accompanied by a large number of his flock, and on Sunday, October 4th.
