Her husband is one of the worst kind of drunkards, and has afforded her no support whatever, and she severed the miserable relation with a bullet. She had been married two years, and was 18 years of age. Her husband, on being told that she had suicided, ran towards the mountains, and up to last accounts had not returned. The neighbors are in hopes that he has made way with himself. The Salt Lake Tribune says: "The persuasive revolver was used on the head of a polygamous scoundrel the other day in one of the lower wards, by his first wite, who had tolled shrough life with him, raised his family of children, and helped to accumulate the property to which he brought a second to divide it with. The State Agricultural Society has pared neither pains or expense in making new and important improvements on the Fair grounds near Salem.

Workmen have rebuilt the grand stand, which was demolished by the storms
of last year, adding a number of needed improvements thereto. A platform has also been built in front of the pa-vilion, some 80 feet in length, for the benefit of carriages, backs, etc. A new sidewalk has been constructed, connecting the pavilion direct with the railroad platform, doing away with the middy pathways formerly used in reaching either locality. The meanest man in Oregon is told of in the Statesman. He lives in Gopher valley, Yambill county, and is a well-to-do citizen. A few days ago his son was taken violently ill, and a physician informed him the boy could live but a short time. Horrid as the idea may seem, the father expressed a desire to negotiate for the coffin humber before the sick boy breathed his last, and only desisted at the earnest solicitation of his neighbors. Nor was this all. When it became necessary to bury the dead, the father sternly refused to furnish clean clothes for the corpse, and a shrond was actu-ally provided for the departed son, and paid for by sympathizing friends and

A lady named Mrs. Glenn, living about three miles from Salem, over in Polk County, narrowly escaped death one morning last week. She went out, as was her custom, to milk a cow, which had a young calf by ber side. As Mrs. Glenn approached the animal she charged upon her and knocked her down, endeavoring to gore her with her horns. Terribly frightened, of course the lady screamed for assistance, but before it reached her one of her wrists was badly broken, and she had received several bruises on the body. Had the enraged animal's horns been less crooked the lady would undoubt-edly have been instantly killed. Dr. McAtee, of Salem, was called, and at last accounts the injured lady was doing as well as could be expected. On Monday of last week, as Mr. William McCoy was driving a band of cattle to Portland, when about four miles east of Latayette one of them, a large tour-year-old steer, run out into the brush. Mr. William Malone, who was helping to drive, dismounted and tried to bring him out. The steer be-coming enraged, attacked the young gentleman and succeeded in getting him down and might have gored him to death but for the extraordinary presence of mind displayed by the gentleman. He crawled between the fore legs of the animal and threw him down, the animal falling on one of his legs. In this position they had to lie, the man being unable to extricate himself and not during to let the infortated brute get up first. After struggling in this way for some time, assistance arrived and the young man escaped by crawling out between the animals crease over the sales of the previous year (1872.)

The table also shows that our sales Exceed those of any other Company for the period named, by the number of 113-254 Machines, or nearly double those of any other Company.

It may be further stated that the sales of 1873, as compared with those of 1872, show a relatively larger increase, beyond the sales of other makers, than of any other year.

For instance in 1872 we sold 45,000 more Machines than any other Company, whereas, in 1873, the sales were 113.254 Machines in Excess of our Highest Competitor.

These figures are all the more remarkable, for the teason that the sales of the principal Companies in 1873 are 1-as than their sales in 1872; whereas, as has been shown, our sales have largely increased.

The account of sales is from morn returns made to the owners of the Swing Machine Patents.

It will hardly be denied, that the superiority of the SINGER MACHINES is fully demonstrated—at all events that their popularity in the household is unquestionable.
