The general health of the county is improving.

The weather has been superb during the week.

Mr. J. M. Shelley, of Harrisburg, called a moment on Monday.

The city was full of people on Monday.

Mr. Myers, of Jacksonville, tarried in the city the first of the week.

Dr. Plummer has opened out a fine stock of drugs in his new store on First street.

Mr. Bales sold 1,200 bushels of wheat, last week, to the mills, at fifty-eight cents per bushel.

Messrs. Settlemeir & Barne's new frame on Broadalbin and First streets is going up rapidly.

Mr. Mills, lately from Illinois, is erecting a neat residence on Third street, south of Dr. Jones' residence.

Winter apples are selling at 50c a bushel. The crop in this county is fair.

Quarterly meeting for the Lebanon circuit of the M. E. Church South, commences in that village to-morrow.

The City Marshal has been putting in new street crossings where needed, and he has been doing the work well.

We should judge from the looks of some of our exchanges that a new roller would vastly improve the print.

The litigant law having been repeated, parties who have legal advertising to do can choose the paper in which it shall appear.

Baum's new styles of clothing seems to meet the approbation of customers, judging from the number of suits he is daily selling.

If you want to save your carpet and add to the warmth of your house, go to W. R. Blain's and buy some of his paper carpet lining.

One of the handsomest young men in the county will lead to the altar one of Linn county's most lovely daughters in a few days.

The Farmers' warehouse sent ten thousand bushels of wheat to Portland last week, to be shipped to Europe through Morgans Sons.

Prof. Belding is turning out some of the best brooms ever made in this burg. His parlor brooms are specially good. Try one.

Dr. Geo. W. Gray is turning out some of the best work in his line we ever saw. For first class dentistry, call at Gray's office.

White sticks of candy with red lines running through from end to end, forming the "legend" O. S. Fair, was a novelty at the stand of Piper & Co., on the State Fair grounds.

Mr. Ab. Humphrey has purchased Geo. W. Young's property in the eastern end of the city, paying $1,200 for it. There are two dwellings on the premises.

Cordwood sells at about the following figures, delivered: Ash and maple, $3 25 to $4 per cord; Oak, $4; balm and fir, $3.

Mr. Louis Rehwald has opened a fine assortment of boots, shoes, etc., in the frame on corner of Broadalbin and First streets. Call and price his goods.

Friend Hindman, who lives out near Camp Polk, came in on Monday to renew his supply of ammunition. Hindman gets away with quantities of game during each winter.

Mr. F. S. Crosby, Lighthouse Superintendent at Yaquina Bay, shed the light of his countenance upon us Monday. Uncle Sam has not a more faithful or efficient officer than Mr. Crosby.

A large number of Odd Fellows and their wives, went from this city to Brownsville yesterday, to witness the ceremonies incident to the dedication of the new Hall built by Callapooya Lodge No. 43. They doubtless had a good time.

The mail train going north was delayed an hour or two on Monday, by the breaking of the rims of one of the locomotive drivers, beyond Junction.

No change in the produce markets. Butter, fresh country roll, is stiff at 25c per pound, while eggs hold their own at 25c per dozen. There has been scarcely any change in price in these two articles all summer.

We invite our friends all over the county, specially, and throughout the State, to write us as often as convenient, giving the local news, etc. Write briefly and to the point, on one side of the paper only.

The demand for houses seems to be on the increase. Twenty or thirty neat cottage buildings would be an investment that would pay, as they would rent right along, paying a large per cent. on the money invested in them.

If the times are hard, stop your paper at once, but don't discontinue your allowance of whisky or tobacco. A good paper is a great comfort to the wife and children, to be sure, but that is no reason why you should provide them with a weekly luxury at the expense of a daily necessity!

An Eastern exchange publishes the astounding fact that an Albany girl compels her feller to repeat the Lord's prayer every time he kisses her. That's too thin, entirely. We haven't any such hard-hearted girls in this neck o' woods.

Dick Fox has his endless chain-over-sho t-backaction-double-barreled-n o-n-explosive-horse rigged wood saw under complete control these days, and woodpiles melt before that machine like dew before the morning luminary!

Our people are new beginning to think of the erection of a woolen mill. A little effort would secure the necessary stock. Let us have it—there is no point in the State where such an institution would pay better, and no place offering so many inducements.

Messrs. Morris & Parker have built an additional room on the east side of their warehouse. The front or south end is fitted up as an office, while the north end is used to store grain sacks, which, by the way, require no little room, as they have used about $10,000 worth this season.

We understand the Albany & Santiam Canal Company have offered to donate to the Home Manufacturing Company a block of land just east of Morris & Parker's warehouse, at the mouth of the Canal, on condition that they erect their buildings thereon. This is liberal, certainly.

Mr. McAlexander, an old citizen of Albany, but of late a resident of or near Eugene City, was in the city on Tuesday. He had been suffering with rheumatism for some months, confined the most of the time to his room, until quite lately. He is now, however, so far recovered as to be about a little. He is stopping for the present at Soda-ville.

Wm. Donaca, of Lebanon, lost a valuable horse at the State Fair last week. The road between the city and the grounds was full of teams, and in attempting to pass round a hack in front of his team, he met a returning hack, the pole of which struck the horse in the side, penetrating the animal several inches, and killing him almost instantly.

Piper & Maydenbaum, of Seattle, W. T., occupied a booth at the State Fair, where they manufactured the finest kind of candies, etc. Through the politeness of our worthy County Treasurer, Capt. Shields, we have been favored with a specimen of their candy, which shows what art and skill combined can produce, even in so sweet an article. Thanks, Cap.

We commence, this week, printing the laws. As they will take up the entire first and eighth pages of our paper for some weeks, we shall issue a supplement each week, containing the latest news, etc., so that our readers will be gainers instead of losers because of such laws. The REGISTER will keep up it's lick, so long as it is so freely and liberally backed by this public.

Baker Gay and his brother, Good, started for the headwaters of the McKenzie, where they will spend the winter trapping beaver, martin, otter, etc. They will also kill and cure venison and other wild game. As Baker is an old trapper, the brothers will doubtless have a successful run during the winter, returning in the spring with "dead loads" of furs and jerked meat.

Our artistic friend, Wadsworth, returned from the region of Moss Butte, a day or two since, where he went to locate a ranch. He succeeded, he informs us, in obtaining 160 acres of good land in that section, on to which he intends moving his family at once. If Wad. proves to be as good a farmer as he is a painter, he will be a millionaire yet.

On Tuesday, a little son of Mr. Chambers, who lives on A. Hackleman's farm, probably fifteen years of age, was thrown from a refractory horse with such force as to deprive him of his senses for a time. He was considerably contused about the head, and thumb nail torn off, and pretty well shook up generally. Dr. Linsey Hill gave him the necessary medical attention, and he will soon be around again.

She saw him on his bright blue steed,
 A dusting down the road,
 And pit a pat, and pit a pat
 Her little heartlet good;
 And soft she sobbered to herself,
 "Though swift his paces be,
 He cannot kite so fast but what
 My heart keeps up with he,"
