Home News.

Home Manufacturing Company. Doubtless our readers will remember that, on several occasions of late, we have mentioned the fact of the oremization of a company entitled the Home Manufacturing Company, made up generally of the farmers of Linn, Marion and Polk counties, the intent and purpose of the Company being to enter into the manufacture of wagons, plows, and other implements and machines demanded by the farmers of this State. As soon as the whole amount of capital stock was subscribed a meeting of the stockholders was called, to organize by the election of officers, select a place to creet the necessary shops, and get ready for business. At this meeting, held at Salem, October 12th, 1874, seven Directors were elected, four of whom are from Linn county, one from Marion and two from Polk. At a sbsequent meeting the Board of Directors elected Chas, W. Bowle, the Director from Of Printz Store, Residence of Or. Harris Fourthest., four blocks we stof the Court House. Residence of Or. Roughton Opposite Dr. Tate, on nov 1573 of the location of the Company's works then came up. and after discussion it the citizens of Saiem, Albany, and other points interested, that propositions in the shape of subscriptions or donations in each or real estate, to induce the Home Manufacturing Company to locate their workshops, would be received, the point making the best showing, offering the largest subsidy, to secure the coveted boon. Sealed proposals or donations to be forwarded to the Secretary, A. W. Stanard, from this time until 2 o'clock P. M. of Wednesday, December 2d, 1874, at which time there will be a meeting of the Board of Directors, when the bids will be opened, and doubtless the location decided upon. We have been thus explicit in placing a full statement of the whole matter before our readers, that all may thoroughly understand just what is demanded to secure the erection of the factory in this city. We understand that the business "come down" handsomely in the way of donations to secure the erection of the Co.'s works there. Be this as it may, we hope every property-holder in the city of Albany, fully realizing the vast benefit to accrue from the crection of the works in this city, will give with a liberal hand. The location of this branch of industry in this city at this time is of more importance, and of greater vital interest to our future prosperity and growth, than any matter hitherto calling for the action of our people. No one can fail to see the benefits to accrue to this community from the successful projection of an enterprise that must from the first hour of its inception be a paying investment-an enterprise that will grow and increase from year to year, until its business will have reached such vast proportions that hundreds of employees will be kept constantly at work to supply the demand for its manufactures. Secure this manufactory, and other branches of industry, attracted hither by its success, will be erected. thus utilizing the power furnished by the Santiaga Canal in propelling machinery, increasing the value of our real estate, opening wide the door for the employment of skilled labor, increasing our the sell of the impounding country, party into successful operation.

We do not wish to paint the picture too highly, and we believe we have not; long winter evenings are almost upon in fact, the immense and beneficial results to accrue from securing the industry under consideration can not, in our opinion, be estimated too highly. It will have a beneficial effect upon every trade and branch of industry prosecuted in this community. If these are facts, and we opine none will gainsay them, is it not the duty, is it not to the interest pecuniarily, of every citizen to do all in his power to secure such benefits, even if for the pre-ent-and we are sure it will be but temporary—the aid so extended make home attractive, or attend them may seem to be a pretty heavy burden to innocent recreations outside of their in these stringent times? Let us all our means in aid of this enterprise, whether it will be with your sanction and we will never for a moment re- or without it. Be wise in this regard,

THE ALDEN FRUIT PROCESS .- As before announced in this paper, articles of incorporation have been filed by well known citizens of this city looking to the organization of a company for the purpose of preserving fruits by the Alden process of evaporation. The capital stock has been placed at $12,-000, and books opened to secure the subscription of such capital stock. Having made inquiry of Mr. Eli Carter. Secretary, at whose office the stock books can be seen, we learn that subscriptions are coming in very slowly; that there does not seem to be that interest manifested in the matter that an undertaking of so much importance demands. The primal cause doubtless is that our citizens generally have not looked into the matter-have not informed themselves as to the real value of the process, and have not estimated the large income they would annually Marion, President of the Company, A. receive for the products of their orchords hereafter, were such a company in successful operation here. It is a noteworthy fact that thousands of bushels-we might with truth say, tons-of was ordered that notice be given to fruit is retting on the ground to-day, because it will not pay for gatheringthere is no market for it. Nominally, it is true, apptes are quoted at 25c per bushel, and a few bushels of choice winter apples may be sold for 50e per bushel; but probably ninetenths of the fruit raised in this county is never gathered, but remains upon the ground when it falls, to be eaten by the hogs or to rot. By the Alden process, all this fruit has at once a market value, and every bushel can be converted into a commodity that will always bring the easir in any market in the world. Apples dried by this process command a much higher price than by any other mode, commanding about $1 40 per bushel in the Eastern markets to-day. By this process every bushel of apples raised in Linn county in excess of the home demand has a market value in coin, and by our not having such an institution in successful Call, see, and get price and terms before buying elsewhere, at my Blacksmith Shop, as to the interest at stake, and will worth of fruit are going to waste. The difference between drying fruit in the open air and by the Alden process is marked. By the first, they are liable to the attacks of insects, and are at all times more or less contaminated by dust and stray refuse, carried by the wind, and besides are darkened and discolored by the partial decomposition caused by the light and dry heat. By the Alden process perfect uniformity is attained; the process is an evaporation in moist air, in the presence of heat, thus directly imitating nature hereselt in the organic process of ripening, the whole being so quickly accomplished that there is no time for decay to set in. Neither is the fruit discolored, but preserves intact the fresh flavor and texture of the original article. By a small outlay of money an industry may be introduced that will make a now comparatively valueless product of the county a valuable commodity; and the products of our orchards being thus rendered valuable, more attention and care will be taken of our orchards, and as a consequence a better and more desirable article of fruit will be produced. It is an investment that, if properly conducted, will pay all the way through, and if our farmers and business men will consult their own interests they will not population, and affording a better and see the enterprise lag one moment for WASTED OPPORTUNITIES. - The us, in which so many opportunities are improved and so many thrown away. Among those who may, in after years, bitterly regret these wasted opportunities, are those thoughtless parents, who suffer their children to go out from their presence night after night, and come back contaminated with the world, through not pursuing the course necessary to keep them at home. If parents would retain their children under their own supervision the coming long winter evenings, let them homes. Youth loves brightness, and "come down" to the fullest extent of will have it. It is only a question and do not imagine that to draw the cord of restraint tightly will effect what you desire. Enter into their feelings, remembering what yours were at their age. By all means do not fall into the habits of some families, where each goes his separate way to pleasure and relaxation, for such a course has caused the entire and complete dismemberment of many a promising household, which, otherwise, might have been happy and prosperous to the end. Improve the opportunities afforded by these long winter evenings, that your future joys my be enhanced and not darkened.

WELL INDORSED,-The Gift Concerts in aid of the Kentucky Library are not at all speculative. The institution is chartered by the State of Kentucky. The first prize in the next drawing, which takes place November 30, is $250,000. It is a reliable institution, and some one will get that money. And that there may be no doubt as to the honesty of its manage-ment, we cite the fact that the best banks in Louisville indorse it, and that Governor Thomas E. Bramlette, of Louisville, is the general manager. An institution so fathered is certainly deserving of confidence.

Fred. Wheeler, brother of Al. Wheeler, of Shedd, who came to this State from South Bend, Indiana, some seven moths since, started homeward on Wednesday. We are inclined to think Fred, will return, although he didn't think so when he left us. We wish him a pleasant journey, anyway.

To make cloth waterproof, put into a bucket of soft water half pound of powdered alumn; stir at intervals until the mixture becomes clear, then pour off into another vessel, in which place the garment to be made waterproof, and let it remain 24 hours; take out and hang it up to dry without wringing it. The goods so treated are perfectly waterproof, and are much better than rubber or oilcloth goods. They fatten fowls by machinery, now-a-days. The operator grasps the pullet, duck, goose, or whatever bird is to be fattened, by the neck in such a way that it's mouth is forced open; he then inserts a metalic tube, and by the pressure of his foot on the machinery or force pump to which the tube is attached, injects the food, which is in liquid form, an indicator telling him when the necessary quantity is given. We believe, however, it is a French institution, and has not been introduced into "American civilization."
