Becoming convinced that Albany was the coming place for men of business nerve and energy, they immediately set to work to secure a foothold among us.

The competition for securing the location of the Home Manufacturing Co.'s works, between Salem and this city, promises to be of the liveliest character.

Our little city has been very prosperous during the past season; a large amount of money has been expended in the erection of business houses and private dwellings; but the past season is but a drop in the bucket to the coming prosperity and rapid growth of our city.

If our property-holders and business men show a liberal spirit at this time in securing an enterprise that must from the first draw a large and valuable trade to our doors—a traffic, too, that will increase and expand from year to year.

Let every well wisher of Linn county subscribe freely and willingly, and we shall have the works.

The outlook is not very favorable for an advance in the wheat market. While there may be an advance in price in Europe, it will be so small, as not materially to advance the rates here.
