Albany Bath House & Barber Shop

THE UNDERSIGNED would respectfully thank the citizens of Albany and vicinity for the liberal patronage bestowed on him for the past seven years, and hopes for the future a continuation of their favors. For the accommodation of transient customers, and friends in the upper part of town, he has opened a neat little shop next door to Taylor & Montgomery's saloon, where a good workman will always be in attendance to wait upon patrons.
JOE WEBBER,

Home Interests.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

AT HALSEY.—This evening, at Carey's Hall, Halsey, that some mingle in the mazy dance, enjoying it as only young, rich warm blood can. As tickets for ball and supper are but $2 50, there will doubtless be a large gathering on the occasion. Balance all.

JUDGE BABER IN VIRGINIA.—From the Salem, Virginia, Roanoke Times, of November 20th, we clip this: Judge G. H. Baber, of Oregon, is stopping with Mr. Wm. Karnes, of this place. The Judge is a brother of Mrs. Karnes. We welcome him to our midst, hoping that he may remain, as we learn he has an idea of doing so. Men of character and influence are always cordially received by us.

YOUNG AMERICA AT THE COLLEGE.—The first entertainment by the "Young America" of Albany Collegiate Institute, on last Friday evening, eclipsed anything of its kind ever given in the city. This is the universal expression of all in attendance. It has been suggested that if the Young Americans would repeat the entertainment during the holidays at the Opera House, the proceeds to be donated to the Ladies' Benevolent Society, the hall would be crowded, and a large sum thus secured for benevolent purposes. Let us have it, if possible.

STEAMER OHIO.—This light draft steamer is now making regular trips between this city and Portland. She is the only steambow now built and running on our rivers that can make regular trips throughout the year on the Willamette. If proper encouragement is given, the Ohio will remain in her present trade, making regular trips from Portland to this city, winter and summer; and if the business offered is more than can be done by the Ohio, more boats, of similar capacity and draft, will be constructed by Capt. Scott, so that our business men can rely on being served at all seasons at low rates of freight.

FINE GUNS.—C. P. Harper & Co. have received a new invoice of those splendid breech and muzzle-loading double-barreled shotguns—the finest in market—together with ammunition, fixtures, etc., which will be sold very low. They have, also, elegant dress goods, a fresh supply of clothing and gentlemen's underwear that should receive the attention of those desiring to dress well during the holidays, while their stock of rubber overshoes, groceries, ribbons, laces, elegant shawls, silks, and scores of other articles, both useful and ornamental, is full, from which you can select as to quality and price.

AT LEBANON.—There are some as energetic, thorough-paced business men as are to be found in the State—men who do not stand with folded arms and wait for something to turn up, but are up and at work, compelling something to turn up, and to turn in their favor. Among the stirring business men of the place is our old friend S. H. Cloughton, who has acquired the name of being one of the best "rustlers" in the State, from his persevering industry and the unvarying good success which follows him. Mr. Cloughton has now opened one of the best selected stocks of general merchandise in the place and he offers to sell everything on his shelves and counters at as low figures as good goods can be purchased for, either for cash or merchantable produce. Give him a call and save money. See ad. in this issue.

GOING EAST.—Miss Mary Finlayson and her brother Chris, started for San Francisco on the last ocean steamer; from thence by rail to Indiana. Miss Mary goes hoping that the change may prove beneficial in restoring her health, and she takes with her the best wishes of a large circle of warm friends. Chris, goes for the purpose of entering a large machine shop in the East, where he will perfect himself as a machinist. We predict for Chris, a brilliant career. He is a natural mechanic. Although scarce eighteen years of age, he has, at odd hours, completed two small steam engines, which are now in running order at his father's place, James Finlayson, Esq., a short distance from this city. Every part of the machinery was made by him, castings and all, at the blacksmith shop on his father's farm. Success to Chris.

SOCIABLE AND FAIR.—The Opera House will doubtless be crowded this evening with the lovely daughters and handsome sons of our city. They will go there to see their friends and acquaintances, and to spend coin for the elegant articles there offered for sale by the ladies of the Benevolent Society, knowing that while they are procuring pleasure for themselves they are at the same time putting their money where it will do the most good. Hurrah for the Sociable and Fair, and the aid and comfort it will extend to the indigent. Everybody is invited, and we hope everybody will come.

MASONIC.—At the election for officers of Corinthian Lodge A. F. & A. M., last Saturday night, the following gentlemen were promoted: M. V. Brown, Master; Dr. D. B. Rice, S. W.; Ed. Carter, J. W.; W. W. Parish, Sec.; L. Senders, Treasurer; Martin Rahwater, Tyler.

CHURCH ROBBER.—We learn from a note from the Forks, that some irreverent rascal has robbed Liberty Chapel, a church building in the neighborhood of the Crabtree School-house, of the lamps and window-blinds. Robbing a church is about as low down as thieving ever gets. Bring back those lamps and blinds, or expect everlasting redemption, both in this world and the next.

Subscriptions still pouring in. We give a big paper, full to the brim of excellent reading, all for $2 50 a year. Where is there a head of a family so poor that he can't raise two dollars and a half for such a paper? Enroll your names at once, you that have not subscribed, and receive the best paper on the coast for the money.

We ask our friends everywhere to write to us. Post us in the news of your section, that we may print it for the edification of all. You can, by a very little trouble, furnish us with a vast fund of local and State news which will be of interest to the general public. Write to us—never mind the "style." We will use the news items of your locality, and we'll put 'em into shape. Write.

Albany Engine Company gives a grand ball New Years eve, at the Pacific Opera House, at which we predict there will be the largest gathering of handsome and well dressed ladies and gentlemen ever seen in this neck o' woods. The ball will be a crusher, and no mistake, as the boys intend "laying themselves out" on it—and the Onesters know no such word as fail.

"OPPOSITION TO MONOPOLY."—Is the watchword at our sister city of Jefferson, on the banks of the picturesque Sautinam. A Christmas tree was arranged for the Methodist Church there, and everything went swimmingly until the boys got wind of it. Then the hat passed round lively for a few hours, a fair amount of "donations" were secured, and now there will be an opposition tree at Jefferson on Christmas. No sooner was it announced that a revival meeting was to be commenced in one of the churches there, than public notice was given that an "opposition revival," would, at the same time, be inaugurated at another church. It's a lively little burg, is Jefferson, "you bet," as our old friend—would say.

CAPT. MILLER.—On Saturday last Capt. Miller received a terrible fall, that came within an ace of winding up his career as a steamboatman. He attempted to step from the upper story of Beach & Monteth's warehouse on to the upper deck of the steamer lying at the wharf, when his foot slipped and he was precipitated to the lower deck of the boat, some twelve feet or more, falling on his back. It was some time before Capt. knew what was the matter with him, he was so confused by the fall—tudeed, until a physician had appeared and made an examination for broken bones. Happily no bones were broken, and beyond a contusion of the forehead and a severe shock of his whole anatomy, Capt. Miller was pronounced ready for biz, in the course of an hour or two after the fall.

HOODLUM BAND.—A band of "minstrels," calling themselves the "Hoodlum Band," of Lebanon, "organized over the laws of this State," or any other State, for the matter of that, turned themselves loose on the quiet and staid citizens of that prosperous little burg last Friday evening, and for a time they made things howl generally, as we are informed by one of the victims. Equipped with the soft and melodious-toned tin horn, the reverberating and soul-enchanting gong, the spiritstirring tinpanum (as the Latins have it), the bumbajjar, swionette, "hoss fiddle," and various other musical instruments more or less known and used in highly civilized communities, the "Hoodlum Band" proceeded to serenade, in the most elegant and effective manner, every "friend" in the place—and all were counted friends. And when that Band "set down" before the residence of a citizen, and proceeded to give the "opening chorus," that citizen waltzed into view at once, with arms full of peanuts, "cool oil," or anything the boys demanded. It was a memorable night in the history of Lebanon, when "riotous music" compelled everything and everybody to "come to time." If our old friend Josh, could have secured that band when he wanted to "go for" Jerico, he would have had a good thing—the Band wouldn't have got through the first "stanza" before the walls would have been covered.

MARRIED.
 On the 22d inst. at the bride's mother's, in Linn county, Oregon, by Rev. E. R. Geary, Mr. George Knox and Miss Margaret Cox, late of Chicago, Ill.

George is a brick, and we congratulate him on securing so handsome a prize. May their lives be one long Summer dream.

PARAGRAMLETS.
 Fiz, bang!
 Christmas.
 A good day.
 Turkey day.
 Christmas gift.
 The day we celebrate.
 No watermelons in our market!
 The day in which much powder is burned.
 The day for candy, and nuts, and fire-crackers, and jolarity.
 A day for good clothes, and rich dinners.
 John Claypool has returned from his trip east of the mountains.
 M. A. Baker is now City Recorder, vice J. R. Herren, resigned.
 On the 16th inst., to the wife of R. S. Owen, a daughter.
 The new City Council enters upon its duties one week from Tuesday.
 Turkeys have been selling from $1 to $2 50 each in this market.
 Venison hams, at Charley Wilson's—nice and sweet.
 Three bad cases of typhoid fever are reported at the New England House, Corvallis.
 Sluts of ice cream, peaches and cream, and other "goodies," at the sociable this evening.
 John Parker don't turn his head any more. He's got one of them things on his neck.
 Jewelry and silverware at Titus Bros. till you can't rest—and oh, so nice.
 Samuel E. Young is convalescing slowly from a severe attack of quincy, and is still unable to attend to business.
 No improvement noted in the local markets, and prices remain at last week's quotations.
 Carothers & Co. have received a new brand of cigars that are nifty. Try them.
 Baum has some beautiful vases, etc., which he will almost give away for coin. Nice presents they would make, to be sure.
 We finish the U. S. laws with this number. Hereafter we shall have more space and time to devote to local and general news.
 We issue a twelve page paper to-day, full of news, miscellany, poetry, receipts, agricultural matter, etc.—eighty-four columns of first class reading matter, all for $2 50 per year.
 One of those beautiful extension tables, made at Graf & Collar's, would make a handsome gift to the good wife. They are perfect in every respect—no better made anywhere.
 The Sunday School exhibition at the Methodist Church next Wednesday evening promises to furnish a rich treat to our citizens, and as the admission is but 25c, a crowded house may be expected.
 The second match game of billiards, 500 points, between Messrs. Baum and Tally, and Messrs. Fish and Natter, came off last Friday night, the two last named gentlemen coming off victorious by 85 points. The next game, we believe, comes off between Mr. Fish and Mr. Natter, which will doubtless be a lively affair, as both are good shots.

A heavy frost Tuesday night. Sweet elder retails at 25c a gallon.

Don't forget the exhibition at the M. E. Church Wednesday night.

Mr. Clark, of Corvallis, visited this city on Tuesday.

The auction sale on Wednesday was fairly attended, and goods sold low.

Election of new officers at the Camp this evening. Come out.

Albany Lodge I.O.O.F. is rapidly increasing in membership.

Mrs. J. M. McConnell died on Tuesday morning, after a brief illness.

Mr. John Ganter has returned from his visit to the Sound, apparently benefited by the jaunt.

W. H. Dodd's auction sale last Saturday was largely attended, and goods sold very low.

Jewelry, fine clothing, beautiful dress goods, toys, and a multitude of other good things, for sale at S. E. Young's.

The Sociable at the Opera House this evening will be largely attended, we hope. Everybody should go, as the object is a worthy one.

Mr. R. Custer has purchased the trucks, etc., of Mr. Perry Splinks, and will hereafter attend to the demands of our citizens in the hauling line.

Japanese craps, for full mourning, can be obtained at P. C. Harper & Co's, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mr. Rehwald has moved into the new store on the corner, erected by Messrs. Settlemier & Barnes, and now has one of the most elegant boot and shoe stores anywhere.

Mr. Dunbar, Worthy Chief of the G. L. of I. O. G. T. of Oregon, was in the city on Tuesday, on his way home from a tour in the southern part of the State.

At the raffle at Tweedale's, for an elegant China set and an elegant parlor lamp, Mr. Arnell won the china, and Mr. Van Vector the lamp. The highest number, 41, took the first, and the lowest, 20, the last.

Quite a number of our subscribers, who live beyond the limits of Linn county, and who are in arrears for the REGISTER, will receive no more papers from this office until they pay up. Biz is biz.

The receipts at the entertainment given at the College on Friday night last, were kindly donated to the Ladies' Benevolent Society. The ladies wish us to return their kindest thanks to the "Young America" society for the handsome donation.

To Mr. J. W. Probst this office makes its bow for a box of fine flavored, large sized apples. Such acts of appreciation and generosity are gratefully remembered by the printers.

They have a genius at Halsey—a little lady, scarcely in her teens, that sketches almost equal to the old masters, although she has never had a moment's teaching or training. She should be given a chance.

Holiday presents, in the shape of elegantly bound books, beautiful "picture books" for the little ones, writing desks, fancy work-boxes, and many other beautiful things, at Mr. Fosbury's.

The Ohio is owned by Messrs. L. B. Seeley, S. H. Brown and Capt. Scott. She is 140 feet long and 22 feet wide. With 175 tons of freight on board she draws thirty-five inches; empty, she draws but eight inches.

Rev. Thos. Condon preached a very interesting discourse at the Congregational Church last Sunday morning. At the same place in the evening, the Sunday School gave a delightful concert. A large audience was in attendance on both occasions.

Don't forget the Sociable and Fair at the Opera House this evening, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to alleviating want and distress wherever found—we say don't forget it, but get on your best "bib and tucker," and swing onto your "sweetness," and waltz in. "Oh, there'll be lots of fun, boys."

The steamer Ohio now makes regular trips between this city and Portland, leaving here Mondays and Thursdays. Capt. U. B. Scott is in command, and that affable gentleman, Z. J. Hatch, Purser. It's a bully boat and a bully crew.

This is the latest and most horrible production of the Bourbonnites: "If ever I marry a wife, I'll marry a landlorn's daughter; And then I can sit at the bar, And drink old Bourbon and water."
 Presents intended for the brilliant editor of this hilarious sheet, should be sent to this office, (postage paid), before noon to-day, as after that hour he refrains from labor, and this "office" will be "closed for repairs." If Providence so wills it, he proposes to devote an hour or two to the investigation of the economy of Turkey, and "accompanying documents." He intends to solve this Turkey problem at one sitting if he has to knock the stuffing out of it.
