FIRE AT TANGENT .--- We have received the following additional particulars of the fire at Tangent from James Elkins, Esq., O. & C. R. R. agent at that place : On the night of the 1st inst. David Spangler's blacksmithshop, containing two sets of tools, and his accounts amounting to over $600, were entirely destroyed by fire. The fire was discovered about one o'clock, but too late to save anything. By the most extraordinary efforts put forth by citizens, the wagon shop near by was saved, although one side and the roof were partially burned. The community are making some effort to raise
