FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1875.

Pacific Slopers.

Snow is two feet deep on the summit between Idaho City and Banner.

The French Company have now a tunnel 700 feet in Gold Hill, Boise Basin.

J. H. T. Green, one of the pioneers of Boise City, formerly treasurer of Ada county, died Nov. 11th, aged 66 years.

Doc. Noble, one of the pioneer and richest miners of Boise Basin, lately paid $4,500 for the half interest in the mining claim at Hogen, which belonged to the estate of the late E. D. Holbrook, delegate to Congress from Idaho.

The prospects in the way of placer, hill and quartz mining, in Northern Idaho, next year, are reported to be very high and cheering.

The storm on the 16th did considerable damage at Seattle. The new warehouse recently erected by Mr. Yester is blown down.

Business is reported lively at Junction and the town is still improving.

Mr. Collard of the Dayton warehouse, shipped 8,700 sacks of wheat in one day last week.

McMinnville will have a necktie sociable on the 26th for the benefit of the firemen of that place.

Master Johnny Reed, of Winchester bay, caught six sea-gulls in one day by an ingenious way he has of trapping them.

A Yamhill farmer raised $250 worth of watermelons on one-quarter of an acre the past season besides what he and his neighbors ate and the boys stole, and there are 500 melons yet in the patch.

Notice is given to Patrons of Husbandry that there will be a supper given by the members of Eugene Grange at Killingworth's Hall at 4 o'clock p. m. on the 25th inst., it being the second anniversary of the organization.

The Lafayette Courier is informed that some of the warehouses along the river have a large amount of sacked wheat stored in them and that the roofs are in a bad condition.

W. M. Rice, of Oakland, has invented a new way of preserving meats without brine. It will keep in any climate and much better than the former mode.

Citizens of Hubbard Station are canvassing some of the advantages of their location, and find it quite feasible to construct a mill-race from Pudding river, and thus bring the water six miles and connect with a creek near the station producing cheap water-power for mills and machinery needed to develop a large and prosperous town.

The Victoria Colonist says there are 14 inches of snow in the Lake district. Last week the glass at Victoria fell to 28.45, the lowest known since Vancouver Island was settled by the whites.

The Saturday's mail from Portland laid in this office until Tuesday morning. The government should pay the contractors a few more thousand to have them taken regularly.

There is "some fun" and not a little eccentricity in the following from the Paxton, Ill., Ginet, a new (and probably irregular) "monthly":

Salutatory.—Owing to the fact that Christopher Columbus discovered America, and to the additional fact that it has rained every day that it has not snowed for the past 13 months, and consequently there is not much "bloom upon the rye" to speak of, and the corn is not waving, "Annie dear," we have decided to issue monthly, a paper for the benefit of this corn-stricken community, so that the people who have found by bitter experience that farming is an honest way to get a hard living, can store their minds with useful and original mental knowledge, while awaiting their unfortunate condition.

While we do not intend to mar the columns of this beautiful magazine with uninviting advertisements as the other disreputable organs of this county are doing, still we shall be pleased to insert notices of marriages, plain, one dollar; with our blessing, seven dollars. We recommend the latter style to new beginners. It is worth it. Obituary notices of prominent parties thirty cents. We can select them, gratis, with pleasure. We shall not identify ourselves with any political party or organization, nor take any part whatever in the Monthly. We don't consider it healthy.

A great number of comical stories are being told just now about the vagaries of a very eccentric, very wealthy, and, if report be true, a very handsome young lady, residing in a rural district not far from London.

The London Globe asserts that a young lady in France has begun to keep ants for the purpose of selling ants' eggs to the breeders of pheasants—creatures which are said to frantically go for that delicacy.

Married women gain much by sojourning alone. For instance, when she travels accompanied by her husband she is obliged to wait on herself; whereas, if she is alone, she cannot be shown too much attention or too many courtesies.

Ex-Commissioner Douglass' accounts as Commissioner of Internal Revenue for five years were adjusted a day or two ago, and found to exactly balance, not being even one cent in error either way.

The Buffalo Express says: "If all the gold in the world were welded into one solid cubic block, one side of the cube would measure only twenty-three feet. It isn't much of a lump, to be sure, but we should like to play with it a day or two."

A Lady called upon a milliner, the other day, to get the character of her servant. The respectable appearance of the latter was beyond questioning.

A satirical voter has sent to a Minnesota editor a cabbage which, he says, "represents the Democratic Liberal anti-Monopoly party" in Minnesota.

The Salem Mercury has this neat bit of a good thing: "There is a certain class of men who are continually running up to us and saying: 'Why don't you give us a flag?'"

A Boy with a good strong rake in his right hand, and a slice of bread and molasses in his left, is invaluable in cleaning up the garden.

A COOL BANK ROBBERY.—The particulars of the recent bold bank robbery in Huntington, W. Va., show an extraordinary amount of coolness on the part of the robbers.

That was a vain sort of murderer, after all, who asked when about to be hung, or seeing only a dozen persons present: "Are these all that's allowed to see me?"

NOT BULL RUSSEL.—The Leeds Mercury, Oct. 18th, says: It is now no longer any secret that Mr. Leonard Courtenay, and not Dr. Russel, will act as special correspondent of the Times during the Prince of Wales journey through India.
